MEETINGS WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

President Horwell, of council, issued a call this afternoon to the members of that body requesting them to be present at a special meeting to be held this evening for the purpose of taking action on the gas problem. The Citizens' Gas association was also invited to attend. The sale of the $92,925 worth of bonds will be considered at the meeting.

It is now apparent that the gas corporation does not propose to grant the citizens the courtesy of a hearing in regard to its unjust demands for an increase in the gas rates, and it is likely some other action will be taken by the citizens' committee. Auditor Davidson addressed a carefully prepared letter to the company last Tuesday, and to the present has received no reply. The communication requested a conference with the officials loking to a modification of the demands, but it is thought the representatives of the corporation propose to ignore the consumers and their wishes.

When the council and citizens' committee met at the city hall last Monday, it was thought the objections to the increase might be wiped out through a conference with the company's officers, and with this object in view the auditor was goven the instructions to communicate with them. Prompt action will now be necessary in order to accomplish anything before the end of the month. The gas company has sent out its statements for the August supply, and in every case the charge is fixed at the increased rate. Indignation is expressed upon every hand, and the citizens who have been presented with bills are up in arms at what they term the high handed system of robbery perpetrated by the gas corporation.

Since the citizens' representatives have been ignored it is probable some other plan of action will be adopted to prevent the company from accomplishing its purpose. The constitutionality of the council's ordinance will be tested at once, and the best legal talent obtainable has advised that all bills, if paid at all, be paid under protest pending an opinion from the court.

Members of the committee are not discouraged at the outlook and are more determined than ever to bring the company to time. As matters now stand, the men interested assert it is simply a question of whether the gas corporation is bigger than the city of East Liverpool, the trades council and several thousand citizens. They propose to find a solution for the question if it is possible to do so.

A FINE OF $50 WAS IMPOSED

Upon Barthel For Renting a Room For Immoral Purposes.

WARFARE TO BE KEPT UP

That Mayor Weaver is determined to abolish disorderly houses of the city was evidenced yesterday afternoon, when he imposed a fine of $50 and costs on Henry Barthel, a Second street saloonist, who pleaded guilty to renting room for immoral purposes. The fine was the stiffest handed down by a mayor in years, and Mayor Weaver thinks it is the only plan by which his avowed determination can be carried out.

It was in a room belonging to Barthel & Grueber that a young man and woman were caught by Chief Wyman and Officer McDermott on Thursday afternoon. The mayor knew he had a well defined case against Barthel and was prepared for action. Barthel, accompanied by an attorney, appeared at the chief executive's office with the intention of putting up a fight on the ground that the rooms are rented to lodgers, the same as in hotels. The mayor told the defendant's attorney that he would carry the case up to a higher court where the minimum fine is $100 if he so desired, but the attorney concluded to enter a plea of guilty.

Louis Grueber, a partner of Barthel, will be arrested either this evening or Monday on a charge of assault preferred against him by Mrs. Clementina Heins, who alleges that Grueber struck her when she saw him allowing a couple to go into the rooms.

So enraged is Grueber over the action of Mrs. Heines that he went to a local justice yesterday afternoon and had a writ of forcible detention issued and the paper was served on Mrs. Heins last evening. Being unaccustomed to law, Mrs. Heins was very much frightened when the constable appeared with the paper and after he left she went immediately to the mayor's office where she asked for advice. She was told that she could not be removed until her month was up and she intends to stay that long. While there she will keep a strict lookout for any unlawful acts and will report them in detail.

TOO MUCH WIND FOR YACHT RACE

SHAMROCK AND RELIANCE DID NOT RUN TODAY.

The Sea Was Altogether too Uneasy to Make the Sport Practicable.

Sandy Hook, August 29.—(Special.)—Owing to the high wind and heavy seas the third of the series of international yacht races has been postponed. This announcement was made just before the hour for the yachts to start, when it was apparent that the frail boats would experience great danger in trying to weather the rough sea.

There was a fierce gale from the southeast yesterday and the sea rolled so heavily that neither boat left its moorings. The wind changed to the northwest, making a very nasty sea, and it was decided by the committee to call the race off if the wind reached a speed of 20 knots an hour. The gale this morning was even more severe than yesterday and was also from the northwest.

While Sir Thomas Lipton has evidently given up all hope of winning the cup he was in a happier frame of mind today. The statement that this will be his last try is not believed among yachtsmen.

Probate Matters.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Henry Weible has been appointed guardian of Harry, Charles and William Schiffbauer, minor sons of the late Harvey Schiffbauer, of Liverpool township. Bond, $1,600.

Pearl A. Martin has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Milton A. Martin, of Liverpool township. Bond, $2,000. There will be no appraisement, there being no personal property.

Lisbon Grocers' Picnic.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—The Lisbon grocers' picnic at Avon park, between Niles and Youngstown, yesterday, was a successful affair and there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of the day. Many of the excursionists went on to Youngstown, where Barnum & Bailey's show exhibited yesterday.

Goes to an Illinois Church.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Rev. William G. Martin, pastor of the U. P. church at Grove City, Pa., for eight years, is visiting his brother, Judge J. A. Martin, in Lisbon. He is on his way to Aledo, Mercer county, Ill., having accepted a call to the pastorate there.

FREIGHT WRECK BLOCKED TRACK AT WATERFORD

New Waterford, August 29.—(Special)—A lucky freight wreck occurred just around the bend east of this village Thursday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. A truck on a car of a west bound freight broke, throwing off two cars. The train broke at that point and the remainder was pulled up to the station before the engineer realized the facts. The north track for nearly an eighth of a mile was badly wrecked, as a result of the broken down car being dragged over the track. It took two wrecking crews and about 50 section men until 3 o'clock Friday morning to put the road in a passable condition. One track was cleared in about three hours.

The train wah following No. 31, and No. 6 had just passed the unfortunate freight when the accident occurred. No one was hurt and no one to blame for the accident. It was a pure and simple accident.

BOARD OF SERVICE HEARD COMPLAINTS

WAS MUCH DISCUSSION

There was very little doing at the meeting of the board of public service last evening, Mr. Smith being away from the city. It was expected that definite action would be taken on the instruction of council that the board demand of Hanager Healy that he extend the Northside line, but the question was deferred, the board being of the opinion that it should be guided by the city solicitor in any action.

The board was also instructed by council to attend to the people on Pleasant street, who have been complaining for weeks about the condition of their sidewalks and other pavements. It was decided to grant the wish of the people at the earliest possible moment. Residents of Bradshaw avenue are complaining also about their sidewalks. They say that they have been washed away by the recent rains and want the board to supply them with saggers or other material just as good for a walk.

The pay roll of the board of service official department was introduced and of course was passed without hesitation. Those to receive money through it are the city engineer, water works superintendent, street commissioner, clerk of the board and members of the street commission.

A number of complaints were received and ordered filed from people who object to the sewers in certain parts of the city. There was nothing done to bring about the repairs very soon, but they will be looked after in due time.

Considerable discussion ensued when Henry Prangley, of Avondale street, announced that he would like to have the beautiful tree standing in front of his home cut down. While the members talked of the act tears were quite visible and they unanimously decided to let the old land mark stand.

CALEB POWERS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Kentucky's Ex-Secretary of State Condemned to Die As An Assassin.

Georgetown, Ky., August 29.—(Special)—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers was found guilty this morning, and was sentenced to be hanged.

Two Drunks Taken In.

Jack McLaughlin and an unknown Italian were arrested this afternoon on Second street by Officer McDermott. Both men were beastly drunk and gave the officer considerable trouble before they were landed in the city jail. McLaughlin commenced to rant and tear around in the cell and it was feared that he would hurt himself. He was completely crazed.

Receiving the sad intelligence yesterday afternoon that his father in England is very sick and not expected to live, Joe Davis, employed at the K., T. & K. pottery, left the city last evening for New York, where he will sail at the first opportunity.

FATHER'S SEARCH FOR HIS DAUGHTER

Thomas McLaughlin Had Pittsburg Police Looking for Miss Anna.

SHE HAD NOT LEFT TOWN

Determined to thwart every conceivable plan attempted by her parents to prevent it, Miss Anna, the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin, very highly respected residents of Thompson Hill, means at all hazards to wed "Cap" Pusey, son of Mrs. Nellie Pusey, Fourth street, also a well and favorably known resident. To bring about the marriage the young couple have resorted to many plans and it is feared the mother of the girl will suffer nervous prostration. She as well as Mr. McLaughlin are almost distracted.

The disappearance of Miss McLaughlin from her home on last Thursday afternoon brought the story. When she failed to return home Thursday evening for supper her parents became somewhat alarmed and when she did not put in an appearance at bed time they were greatly agitated. No search was made for her during the evening, that is, to any great extent, but when her absence was continued until yesterday morning the parents of the girl searched every portion of the city in which they thought she might be. No trace of her could be found.

A short time before supper last evening word reached the ears of Mr. McLaughlin that his daughter had left the city on the 4 o'clock train for Pittsburg and that she had been seen bidding her lover goodbye. Being informed that young Pusey did not accompany her, Mr. McLaughlin thought to intercept him by going to Pittsburg and locating his daughter. He went on the next train and upon his arrival went to central station with his story. Two detectives were assigned to aid him and they thought they traced her to Rochester, thence to Pittsburg. The distracted father asked the chief at Pittsburg to telephone to this city and find whether or not Pusey left the city last night. Chief Wyman then made a search and not only learned that Pusey was still in the city, but that the girl was also and that she had never been away.

After learning the whereabouts of Miss McLaughlin, Chief Wyman decided to return her to her home. He found her at the home of a prominent family on Second street, where she was on both Thursday and Friday nights. She did not protest against being taken, and her mother was overjoyed. While en route to her home the girl told Chief Wyman that she would marry Pusey and that she would do so this afternoon.

Mr. McLaughlin will return on the 4 o'clock train this afternoon from Pittsburg.

The Youngstown & Southern Pushing On Into Columbiana County.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A large force of men and mule teams with grading outfits passed through Columbiana on their way to a point north of that village to commence grading. Similar work is now in progress between North Lima and Columbiana, three or four miles north of the latter village, indicating that 12 or 13 miles of the route have been graded.

In grading for its new four-track system on the Ft. Wayne railroad the Pennsylvania company will in a few days commence work on a heavy cut at Columbiana and a corresponding fill will come at a point where the Youngstown & Southern is to pass under the steam railroad. It is reported that the officials of the companies are arranging to cooperate in effecting a saving of expenses in digging and filling at that point.

Bill of Exceptions Filed.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A bill of exceptions was filed in court here this afternoon in the case of Jerry Creedon et al versus May McKay et al, of East Liverpool, in which the alleged will of Mary Creedon, deceased, was set aside by a jury some time ago.

MORE THAN A HUNDRED DEFECTS IN SIDEWALK

Already Discovered By Investigators, And Returns Are Not All In.

City Engineer Kelly and Street Commissioner Dickey reported to the board of public service last evening that they are working as fast as possible in the inspection of the sidewalks of the city. It will be remembered that they were ordered a short time ago to make a thorough examination, the intention of the board being to have every walk in the city repaired, and the ordinance being that every property holder having a sidewalk needing repair must be notified by writing, the examination was ordered.

The sidewalks of more than 100 people have already been found imperfect, covering a distance of 4,500 feet. The cost of repairing them will aggregate $4,000. President Taylor ordered the two officials to continue their work and make a complete report at an early meeting.

GASTON'S OFFER MAY BE ACCEPTED

ALL ANXIOUS FOR A SAEL

The finance committee of council is certainly embarrassed in its attempt to dispose of the $92,925 worth of bonds, issued some time ago. Communication is being solicited by the members of the committee with the bond buyers, but it seems that there are none anxious for the big purchase. As a result the committee is in desperate straits.

An offer was received last evening from Attorney Gaston, of Cleveland, which seems rather low, but the councilmen are in such a condition that they confidently believe the offer must be accepted. The proposition of Mr. Gaston is that he will provide a buyer at par if council will give him $175 for his portion of the work. In consideration of the fact that council cannot even get any bidders the councilmen feel that they will make money by disposing of them according to Gaston's proposition.

As stated previously in the News Review every day the bonds are held the city has piling up against it interest amounting to $6.35 per day, and council is now making a strenuous effort to cut that off. Firmly believing that they could get several hundred dollars premium for the bonds, the members turned down the bid of Hayes & Son, who offered them $10 premium. They now feel that they made a grievous error and would like to make amends, but are in a position where they cannot. One member of the body is yet of the opinion that some plan can be worked whereby a reasonable price could be received, but he, like all the rest, seems to realize that at the rate of $6 per day it will not take long to eat up anything that could be obtained as a premium for the bonds.

At the special meeting of council tonight the offer of Attorney Gaston will be fully considered and will likely be accepted.

Iowa Magistrate Finds Boyhood Sweetheart And Will Wed Her.

Columbus, August 29.—(Special.)—More than 50 years ago Albert W. Livingstone and Sarah S. Leake were sweethearts in Columbus. They they drifted apart and for half a century saw nothing of each other. Now they are married.

Albert W. Livingstone, 79 years of age, yesterday secured a license to wed Sarah S. Leake, 73 years of age. The prospective bridegroom hails from Stewart, Ia., where he is justice of the peace.

Fifty years ago the couple were sweethearts in this city. Some misunderstanding led to a lovers' quarrel and they drifted apart. Both married and in time were freed again by the death of their life partners. A few months ago Livingstone came to this city on a visit, saw Mrs. Leake and the love affair of their youth was renewed with the result that last evening the aged couple were wedded.

PREPARATION FOR OPENING THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

Republican Executive Committee Will Meet Next Wednesday to Decide Date and Place.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 29.—A call has been issued for meetings of the Republican state executive and state central committees in this city next Wednesday morning at 10:30 to fix the time and place for the campaign opening and also to nominate a candidate for the short term for member of the state board of public works to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board. The Democratic convention failed to nominate a candidate for this office. Several cities are applicants for the opening—Canton, Marion, the home of Hon. Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, and Warren. Harding is working to secure the opening for his home city. He is a good stump speaker and will do much work in the campaign.

The Republicans believe it will only be a question of the size of the plurality this fall and various estimates are being made as to the proportions it will reach. The most conservative think the Republicans will win by something between 75,000 and 100,000 plurality, and others predict it will be beyond the latter figuré. The ticket named by the Democracy suits the Republicans admirably. So heterogenous is its personnel and so far away is the platform on which the ticket stands from what has been the accepted tenets of the followers of Jefferson and Jackson since the party's inception that it is to be expected that many of the old time members of the party will refuse to sanction either at the polls this fall.

Republicans look for a big disaffection in the ranks of the Democracy. It is a case of too much Johnson, and loyal sound money Democrats will be chary about subscribing to the isms and fads of the Cleveland manipulator. General Dick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, says that, in view of the work of the Democratic convention, there is really no need of the Republicans having any campaign at all, but that as a matter of form, as it were, one will be gone through.

Governor Nash again gives expression to his belief that the code provides a good form of government and says that councils are to blame for the increases in the expenses of cities under it. "I cannot say I think that the board system is not all right, for I am of the opinion that it is," said he. "I believe from what I have heard throughout the state, that the new code is a good thing in all particulars. I was always against the one-man power, for it

TRIED TO KILL CHIEF OF POLICE

LEN EELLS WOUNDED WELLSVILLE'S POLICE HEAD.

Chief of Police John Houser, of Wellsville, had a narrow escape from death last evening. Len Eells, a well-known character, tried to kill him, and succeeded in giving him an ugly wound in the arm.

Eells had been arrested for drunkenness; along with Joseph McKee. Officer Morrissey accompanied the chief. The prisoners were quietly walking along the street when Eells jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at the chief. The bullet, one of heavy calibre, passed through the chief's right arm and was lost. For a second the officer was staggered, but he is a plucky fellow and hastily drawing his revolver sent shot after shot in the direction of the fleeing Eells, who had disappeared in the tall weeds at the roadside. Officer Morrissey did likewise, informing McKee he would kill him if he moved. McKee did not move, and the officers made a hurried search for Eells, but he was gone, probably to the woods. The chief was found to be painfully, but not seriously wounded.

No word has yet been received of Eells. A party of men went out from this city last evening in search of him They went as far as Lisbon, but found no trace of him. Sheriff Leonard has been out since 8 o'clock last evening in search of him, but he has likewise been unsuccessful in locating the scoundrel. It is thought here that he has not reached Pennsylvania and that he will not be caught for two or three days at the least.

Chief Houser passed a very restless night, his wound causing him intense pain. The wound has been dressed two or three times by the attending physician, Dr. B. R. Parke. He states that the wound will heal in a short time and is anticipating no bad results.

Leonard Eells has a reputation at Lisbon as a bad character. He has been in the workhouse a number of times for abusing his wife, but the most serious trouble he ever figured in prior to last night was when he wounded an antagonist with a hatchet two years ago. He was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but was let off with a light sentence when he consented to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

RIVER CAME UP WITH A RUSH

COAL FLEETS ON THE MOVE

As a result of the recent heavy rains the Ohio river has reached a stage of 13 feet at this point and navigation by both packet and tow boats has been resumed. The rise was one of the most rapid in many months, averaging yesterday eight inches an hour. While it was unexpected until yesterday morning, the rivermen were not caught unawares and all day yesterday the coal companies had men at work in the pools around Pittsburg preparing for the start of the coal fleet to the south.

All the packets are coming out, but it will be several days before the schedule can be regularly filled on the upper rivers. Captain Gus Martindill, of the local wharfboat, had not received word from the packets at a late hour this afternoon. It is possible that the Ben Hur may reach here tomorrow.

The Pittsburg coal fleet commenced to pass this city at noon, the Volunteer leading, followed closely by the Sam Brown. The boat owners and number of pieces in the tows are:

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, Boaz, James Moren, Iron Age, Sam Clark and Coal City, 22 barges each; Sam Brown, Tom Rees, Ed Roberts, Joe Walton, Ironsides, Cruiser, Enterprise, John Moren, Fallie, Dave Wood and J. C. Risher, 17 barges each. C. Jutte Coal company will send out two tows with the steamers Crescent and G. W. Thomas, the tows being made up according to the height of the water. The Budd Coal company will send out seven boats and five barges with the Frank Gilmore, and the W. F. Flint will take out a tow belonging to the Flint and Clyde Coal companies.

The Mariner, Jim Wood and Tom Dodsworth are hurrying in and may be able to get away with tows. All the steamers which have been tied up along the banks have had crews sent to them, and they will hurry in, bringing many empties, which are much needed at the mines.

Twins Were Born—Twin babies, a boy and a girl, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cline, of Oak street. The little girl lived but a few hours.

To bring about the marriage the young couple have resorted to many plans and it is feared the mother of the girl will suffer nervous prostration. She as well as Mr. McLaughlin are almost distracted.

The disappearance of Miss McLaughlin from her home on last Thursday afternoon brought the story. When she failed to return home Thursday evening for supper her parents became somewhat alarmed and when she did not put in an appearance at bed time they were greatly agitated. No search was made for her during the evening, that is, to any great extent, but when her absence was continued until yesterday morning the parents of the girl searched every portion of the city in which they thought she might be. No trace of her could be found.

A short time before supper last evening word reached the ears of Mr. McLaughlin that his daughter had left the city on the 4 o'clock train for Pittsburg and that she had been seen bidding her lover goodbye. Being informed that young Pusey did not accompany her, Mr. McLaughlin thought to intercept him by going to Pittsburg and locating his daughter. He went on the next train and upon his arrival went to central station with his story. Two detectives were assigned to aid him and they thought they traced her to Rochester, thence to Pittsburg. The distracted father asked the chief at Pittsburg to telephone to this city and find whether or not Pusey left the city last night. Chief Wyman then made a search and not only learned that Pusey was still in the city, but that the girl was also and that she had never been away.

After learning the whereabouts of Miss McLaughlin, Chief Wyman decided to return her to her home. He found her at the home of a prominent family on Second street, where she was on both Thursday and Friday nights. She did not protest against being taken, and her mother was overjoyed. While en route to her home the girl told Chief Wyman that she would marry Pusey and that she would do so this afternoon.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A large force of men and mule teams with grading outfits passed through Columbiana on their way to a point north of that village to commence grading. Similar work is now in progress between North Lima and Columbiana, three or four miles north of the latter village, indicating that 12 or 13 miles of the route have been graded.

In grading for its new four-track system on the Ft. Wayne railroad the Pennsylvania company will in a few days commence work on a heavy cut at Columbiana and a corresponding fill will come at a point where the Youngstown & Southern is to pass under the steam railroad. It is reported that the officials of the companies are arranging to cooperate in effecting a saving of expenses in digging and filling at that point.

Bill of Exceptions Filed.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A bill of exceptions was filed in court here this afternoon in the case of Jerry Creedon et al versus May McKay et al, of East Liverpool, in which the alleged will of Mary Creedon, deceased, was set aside by a jury some time ago.

MORE THAN A HUNDRED DEFECTS IN SIDEWALK

Already Discovered By Investigators, And Returns Are Not All In.

City Engineer Kelly and Street Commissioner Dickey reported to the board of public service last evening that they are working as fast as possible in the inspection of the sidewalks of the city. It will be remembered that they were ordered a short time ago to make a thorough examination, the intention of the board being to have every walk in the city repaired, and the ordinance being that every property holder having a sidewalk needing repair must be notified by writing, the examination was ordered.

The sidewalks of more than 100 people have already been found imperfect, covering a distance of 4,500 feet. The cost of repairing them will aggregate $4,000. President Taylor ordered the two officials to continue their work and make a complete report at an early meeting.

ALL ANXIOUS FOR A SAEL

The finance committee of council is certainly embarrassed in its attempt to dispose of the $92,925 worth of bonds, issued some time ago. Communication is being solicited by the members of the committee with the bond buyers, but it seems that there are none anxious for the big purchase. As a result the committee is in desperate straits.

An offer was received last evening from Attorney Gaston, of Cleveland, waich seems rather low, but the councilmen are in such a condition that they confidently believe the offer must be accepted. Tne proposition of Mr Gaston is that he will provide a buyer at par if council will give him $175 for his portion of the work. In consideration of the fact that council cannot even get any bidders the councilmen feel that they will make money by disposing of them according to Gaston's proposition.

As stated previously in the News Review every day the bonds are held the city has piling up against it interest amounting to $6.35 per day, and council is now making a strenuous effort to cut that off. Firmly believing that they could get several hundred dollars premium for the bonds, the members turned down the bid of Hayes & Son, who offered them $10 premium. They now feel that they made a grievous error and would like to make amends, but are in a position where they cannot. One member of the body is yet of the opinion that some plan can be worked whereby a reasonable price could be received, but he, like all the rest, seems to realize that at the rate of $6 per day it will not take long to eat up anything that could be obtained as a premium for the bonds.

At the special meeting of council tonight the offer of Attorney Gaston will be fully considered and will likely be accepted.

Iowa Magistrate Finds Boyhood Sweetheart And Will Wed Her.

Columbus, August 29.—(Special.)—More than 50 years ago Albert W. Livingstone and Sarah S. Leake were sweethearts in Columbus. They they drifted apart and for half a century saw nothing of each other. Now they are married.

Albert W. Livingstone, 79 years of age, yesterday secured a license to wed Sarah S. Leake, 73 years of age. The prospective bridegroom hails from Stewart, Ia., where he is justice of the peace.

Fifty years ago the couple were sweethearts in this city. Some misunderstanding led to a lovers' quarrel and they drifted apart. Both married and in time were freed again by the death of their life partners. A few months ago Livingstone came to this city on a visit, saw Mrs. Leake and the love affair of their youth was renewed with the result that last evening the aged couple were wedded.

PREPARATION FOR OPENING THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

Republican Executive Committee Will Meet Next Wednesday to Decide Date and Place.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 29.—A call has been issued for meetings of the Republican state executive and state central committees in this city next Wednesday morning at 10:30 to fix the time and place for the campaign opening and also to nominate a candidate for the short term for member of the state board of public works to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board. The Democratic convention failed to nominate a candidate for this office. Several cities are applicants for the opening—Canton, Marion, the home of Hon. Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, and Warren. Harding is working to secure the opening for his home city. He is a good stump speaker and will do much work in the campaign.

The Republicans believe it will only be a question of the size of the plurality this fall and various estimates are being made as to the proportions it will reach. The most conservative think the Republicans will win by something between 75,000 and 100,000 plurality, and others predict it will be beyond the latter figure. The ticket named by the Democracy suits the Republicans admirably. So heterogenous is its personnel and so far away is the platform on which the ticket stands from what has been the accepted tenets of the followers of Jefferson and Jackson since the party's inception that it is to be expected that many of the old time members of the party will refuse to sanction either at the polls this fall.

Republicans look for a big disaffection in the ranks of the Democracy. It is a case of too much Johnson, and loyal sound money Democrats will be chary about subscribing to the isms and fads of the Cleveland manipulator. General Dick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, says that, in view of the work of the Democratic convention, there is really no need of the Republicans having any campaign at all, but that as a matter of form, as it were, one will be gone through.

Governor Nash again gives expression to his belief that the code provides a good form of government and says that councils are to blame for the increases in the expenses of cities under it. "I cannot say I think that the board system is not all right, for I am of the opinion that it is," said he. "I believe from what I have heard throughout the state, that the new code is a good thing in all particulars. I was always against the one-man power, for it

LEN EELLS WOUNDED WELLSVILLE'S POLICE HEAD.

Chief of Police John Houser, of Wellsville, had a narrow escape from death last evening. Len Eells, a well-known character, tried to kill him, and succeeded in giving him an ugly wound in the arm.

Eells had been arrested for drunkenness; along with Joseph McKee. Officer Morrissey accompanied the chief. The prisoners were quietly walking along the street when Eells jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at the chief. The bullet, one of heavy calibre, passed through the chief's right arm and was lost. For a second the officer was staggered, but he is a plucky fellow and hastily drawing his revolver sent shot after shot in the direction of the fleeing Eells, who had disappeared in the tall weeds at the roadside. Officer Morrissey did likewise, informing McKee he would kill him if he moved. McKee did not move, and the officers made a hurried search for Eells, but he was gone, probably to the woods. The chief was found to be painfully, but not seriously wounded.

No word has yet been received of Eells. A party of men went out from this city last evening in search of him They went as far as Lisbon, but found no trace of him. Sheriff Leonard has been out since 8 o'clock last evening in search of him, but he has likewise been unsuccessful in locating the scoundrel. It is thought here that he has not reached Pennsylvania and that he will not be caught for two or three days at the least.

Chief Houser passed a very restless night, his wound causing him intense pain. The wound has been dressed two or three times by the attending physician, Dr. B. R. Parke. He states that the wound will heal in a short time and is anticipating no bad results.

Leonard Eells has a reputation at Lisbon as a bad character. He has been in the workhouse a number of times for abusing his wife, but the most serious trouble he ever figured in prior to last night was when he wounded an antagonist with a hatchet two years ago. He was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but was let off with a light sentence when he consented to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

RIVER CAME UP WITH A RUSH

COAL FLEETS ON THE MOVE

As a result of the recent heavy rains the Ohio river has reached a stage of 13 feet at this point and navigation by both packet and tow boats has been resumed. The rise was one of the most rapid in many months, averaging yesterday eight inches an hour. While it was unexpected until yesterday morning, the rivermen were not caught unawares and all day yesterday the coal companies had men at work in the pools around Pittsburg preparing for the start of the coal fleet to the south.

All the packets are coming out, but it will be several days before the schedule can be regularly filled on the upper rivers. Captain Gus Martindill, of the local wharfboat, had not received word from the packets at a late hour this afternoon. It is possible that the Ben Hur may reach here tomorrow.

The Pittsburg coal fleet commenced to pass this city at noon, the Volunteer leading, followed closely by the Sam Brown. The boat owners and number of pieces in the tows are:

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, Boaz, James Moren, Iron Age, Sam Clark and Coal City, 22 barges each; Sam Brown, Tom Rees, Ed Roberts, Joe Walton, Ironsides, Cruiser, Enterprise, John Moren, Fallie, Dave Wood and J. C. Risher, 17 barges each. C. Jutte Coal company will send out two tows with the steamers Crescent and G. W. Thomas, the tows being made up according to the height of the water. The Budd Coal company will send out seven boats and five barges with the Frank Gilmore, and the W. F. Flint will take out a tow belonging to the Flint and Clyde Coal companies.

The Mariner, Jim Wood and Tom Dodsworth are hurrying in and may be able to get away with tows. All the steamers which have been tied up along the banks have had crews sent to them, and they will hurry in, bringing many empties, which are much needed at the mines.

Twins Were Born—Twin babies, a boy and a girl, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cline, of Oak street. The little girl lived but a few hours.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON POTTERY NEWS.

Trenton, N. J., August 29.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding that the sanitary manufacturers and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters have completed their conferences there still remains much to be done. At the conference a uniform price list was adopted for packers and saggermakers. Vice President Hutchins and John A. Campbell, general manager of the Trenton Potteries company, and who was the chairman of the manufacturers' committee, are at present at work compiling the list. Each will submit his version of the prices introduced in the new list and a conference of these two gentlemen will be held within the next two weeks in order to compare their work. The new conditions which were adopted at the conference will become operative in every sanitary pottery in the United States the second week in September.

Vice President Hutchins, speaking in reference to the conference, said: "The conclusions reached at the conference have a vital interest to the sanitary trade and they have been unanimously approved by the manufacturers. We have secured a uniform price list for packers and saggermakers; a basis for kiln work and a set of rules governing the employment of apprentice kilnmen, similar to those contained in the uniform price list of the general ware trade."

Since the conference the potters have devoted their attention to politics, which seems to be the all-absorbing topic. The clay workers are figuring prominently in the contests on both sides, and it is likely that the crockery trade will be well represented among the men who go to make up the municipal government.

John Brian, one of the owners of the Elite pottery and former manager of the Keystone pottery, is seeking a renomination for common council from the Eighth ward on the Republican ticket. Mr. Brian will have for his running mate Lewis Ellis, the candidate for freeholder, who is also a clay worker. John O. Gratton is another representative of the pottery industry who is trying for councilmanic honors on the Republican ticket. Louis J Deihl, the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Seventh ward, is one of the proprietors of the Elite pottery. Patrick Collins, a kilnman at the Anchor pottery, is the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Eighth ward. Thomas Colclough, who is after a renomination on the Republican side for assembly, is a sanitary presser and is employed at Thomas Maddock & Sons.

THE BUFFALO PLANT.

Buffalo, August 29.—The Buffalo Pottery company, owned and operated by the Larkins soap people, will commence operating its new plant here October 1. The plant is acknowledged to be the finest in the east and in it such ware as can be used as premiums by the Larkins soap people will be manufactured. The equipment is not excelled in the United States. One item worthy of not is that every department requiring power will be operated by electricity.

The sagger makers and clay makers started to work on the 20th of this month and all will be in readiness to start in full on the date mentioned above. The four bisque kilns have been finished but the glost kilns are not quite ready for use.

The kiln sheds are said to be the most convenient in the country and as this opinion has been expressed by a practical potter, it can be taken as true. The warehouse and decorating department occupy a three-story brick structure and are most conveniently arranged, so that the ware can be transported from one department to another with very little labor. The clay department occupies a two-story building and is equipped with the latest patterns of jiggers. The mould makers, who have been at work for several months, have on hand a large number of the moulds for the different shapes and are ready for the start.

From what can be gathered at this point a line of general ware will be made and what is not used as premiums by the soap people will be offered to the general trade.

The capacity of the new plant is nine kilns, five glost and four bisque and several hundred men will be employed.

THE WEATHER.

TANKARD ON EXHIBITION.

The fine tankard jug, from the K., T. & K. pottery, which is to be presented on Labor Day to President Roosevelt by the local branch of the National Letter Carriers' association, has been on exhibition for the past few days in a show window of Pattison's jewelry store, in the Diamond, where it has been admired by many hundreds of people. That the tankard is one of the finest pieces of art work turned out in the city is admitted by all who have seen it and those interested in the reputation of East Liverpool as a producer of fine ware need have no fear that the tankard will arouse anything but enthusiasm among those who are not acquainted with the potting industry of this city. A better selection could not have been made to call the attention of the president to the fact that East Liverpool is not only the producer of large quantities of ware, but ware of the first quality.

W. M. Carey, who has been selected as a delegate to the convention of the National Association, will take the tankard with him today, when he leaves for Syracuse, N. Y., the convention city. The gift will not be presented, however, until the parade on Labor Day.

MINERVA NOTES.

Dan Robison, of Wellsville, was visiting friends in town Wednesday.

The household effects of Charles McKinnon arrived last week and Mrs. McKinnon and son, Christian, remained with her parents until the first of this week.

George Hand, of East Liverpool, has accepted a position as sagger maker.

J. R. Scott has accepted a position in Carrollton as finisher.

DUFFY WILL SPEAK.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has accepted the invitation of the Trades and Labor Assembly of Barberton, to deliver the principal address at the Labor day celebration to be held in that city. This is an honor worthily bestowed and is appreciated by President Duffy and the unionists of this city. From all indications the celebration will be the largest in the history of Barberton, which will be attended by many from surrounding towns.

POTTERY NOTES.

Alex Needham and John Smith, employed recently at Lisbon, have returned to this city and are working at Thompson's.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Send for pamphlet. WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON POTTERY NEWS.

Trenton, N. J., August 29.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding that the sanitary manufacturers and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters have completed their conferences there still remains much to be done. At the conference a uniform price list was adopted for packers and saggermakers. Vice President Hutchins and John A. Campbell, general manager of the Trenton Potteries company, and who was the chairman of the manufacturers' committee, are at present at work compiling the list. Each will submit his version of the prices introduced in the new list and a conference of these two gentlemen will be held within the next two weeks in order to compare their work. The new conditions which were adopted at the conference will become operative in every sanitary pottery in the United States the second week in September.

Vice President Hutchins, speaking in reference to the conference, said: "The conclusions reached at the conference have a vital interest to the sanitary trade and they have been unanimously approved by the manufacturers. We have secured a uniform price list for packers and saggermakers; a basis for kiln work and a set of rules governing the employment of apprentice kilnmen, similar to those contained in the uniform price list of the general ware trade."

Since the conference the potters have devoted their attention to politics, which seems to be the all-absorbing topic. The clay workers are figuring prominently in the contests on both sides, and it is likely that the crockery trade will be well represented among the men who go to make up the municipal government.

John Brian, one of the owners of the Elite pottery and former manager of the Keystone pottery, is seeking a renomination for common council from the Eighth ward on the Republican ticket. Mr. Brian will have for his running mate Lewis Ellis, the candidate for freeholder, who is also a clay worker. John O. Gratton is another representative of the pottery industry who is trying for councilmanic honors on the Republican ticket. Louis J Deihl, the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Seventh ward, is one of the proprietors of the Elite pottery. Patrick Collins, a kilnman at the Anchor pottery, is the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Eighth ward. Thomas Colclough, who is after a renomination on the Republican side for assembly, is a sanitary presser and is employed at Thomas Maddock & Sons.

THE BUFFALO PLANT.

Buffalo, August 29.—The Buffalo Pottery company, owned and operated by the Larkins soap people, will commence operating its new plant here October 1. The plant is acknowledged to be the finest in the east and in it such ware as can be used as premiums by the Larkins soap people will be manufactured. The equipment is not excelled in the United States. One item worthy of not is that every department requiring power will be operated by electricity.

The sagger makers and clay makers started to work on the 20th of this month and all will be in readiness to start in full on the date mentioned above. The four bisque kilns have been finished but the glost kilns are not quite ready for use.

The kiln sheds are said to be the most convenient in the country and as this opinion has been expressed by a practical potter, it can be taken as true. The warehouse and decorating department occupy a three-story brick structure and are most conveniently arranged, so that the ware can be transported from one department to another with very little labor. The clay department occupies a two-story building and is equipped with the latest patterns of jiggers. The mould makers, who have been at work for several months, have on hand a large number of the moulds for the different shapes and are ready for the start.

From what can be gathered at this point a line of general ware will be made and what is not used as premiums by the soap people will be offered to the general trade.

The capacity of the new plant is nine kilns, five glost and four bisque and several hundred men will be employed.

THE WEATHER.

The fine tankard jug, from the K., T. & K. pottery, which is to be presented on Labor Day to President Roosevelt by the local branch of the National Letter Carriers' association, has been on exhibition for the past few days in a show window of Pattison's jewelry store, in the Diamond, where it has been admired by many hundreds of people. That the tankard is one of the finest pieces of art work turned out in the city is admitted by all who have seen it and those interested in the reputation of East Liverpool as a producer of fine ware need have no fear that the tankard will arouse anything but enthusiasm among those who are not acquainted with the potting industry of this city. A better selection could not have been made to call the attention of the president to the fact that East Liverpool is not only the producer of large quantities of ware, but ware of the first quality.

W. M. Carey, who has been selected as a delegate to the convention of the National Association, will take the tankard with him today, when he leaves for Syracuse, N. Y., the convention city. The gift will not be presented, however, until the parade on Labor Day.

MINERVA NOTES.

The household effects of Charles McKinnon arrived last week and Mrs. McKinnon and son, Christian, remained with her parents until the first of this week.

J. R. Scott has accepted a position in Carrollton as finisher.

DUFFY WILL SPEAK.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has accepted the invitation of the Trades and Labor Assembly of Barberton, to deliver the principal address at the Labor day celebration to be held in that city. This is an honor worthily bestowed and is appreciated by President Duffy and the unionists of this city. From all indications the celebration will be the largest in the history of Barberton, which will be attended by many from surrounding towns.

POTTERY NOTES.

Alex Needham and John Smith, employed recently at Lisbon, have returned to this city and are working at Thompson's.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Ziele, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. ROCK RUN COMPANY DRILLING AT MOSCOW

Owing to a mishap the well of the Rock Run Oil & Gas company, an East End corporation, now being drilled on the company's property in the Moscow field, will not be in at the time expected. The hole has been sunk to a depth of about 800 feet, and it was expected to reach the pay sand Monday, but the drillers lost their tools in the hole and have been working to recover them.

The company has excellent prospects to strike a paying well, as the field has turned out some good producers. The stockholders are hoping the bad luck that attended their initial effort in the Knoxville field will not be repeated. It will be remembered that their well there proved to be a duster, although in the midst of good producers.

The stockholders decided at that time to abandon the Knoxville field and develop the Moscow property. This determination was not made public and this is the first announcement that the new well is being drilled.

BRIDGE BADLY DAMACED IN YESTERDAY'S STORM

Many people have visited the Virginia avenue bridge over Lake Run which was so badly damaged as the result of the terrific rain yesterday afternoon. This stream at this point proved too narrow to carry the volume of water and the water spread over quite a large area. The bridge, which is built diagonally arcoss the street, is almost entirely ruined its entire length and the foundations and approaches were undermined until they caved in. Private property abutting on the street near the bridge was damaged to some extent.

The rain also wrought considerable damage along the track of the East Liverpool railway. Several fills will be necessary between Thompson's pottery and Mulberry street. At the end of the line a small section of the track was washed out. The county road near the state line is reported to be in an impassable condition, owing to the great amount of earth that was washed down upon it.

Col. Dixon Rode the Goat.

Buckeye Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held an interesting meeting last night, at which the goat was brought out for the initiation of Col. Sam Dixon into the mysteries of the order. The animal, realizing that it had a distinguished subject with which to deal, performed to the entire satisfaction of all present. Several applications for membership were favorably received.

Lecture Announced.

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. Dr. J. S. Secrest, of Bridgeport, will lecture at the Erie street M. E. church on next Tuesday evening. Dr. Secrest is district president of the Epworth League, an able scholar and an eloquent talker. Announcement of his topic will be made later.

A Barrel of Fine Apples.

J. L. Fulton received a barrel of fine apples yesterday from the farm of his father, D. S. Fulton, of Washington county. He has been handing a few of them out to his friends, who pronounce them the finest of the season. The apples are of two varieties, Summer Pippins and Maiden Blush.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

County Clerk James Hanley was an East End visitor this morning.

Dr. M. W. Taylor went to Darlington this afternoon to remain over Sunday with his parents.

C. J. Mensch, of Allegheny, who has been visiting W. C. Supplee and family, returned to his home yesterday.

J. F. Smith, the barber, leaves tomorrow for Cambridge Springs, where he will spend a few days for the benefit of his health.

Joseph Shambo, of McDonald, who has been the guest of H. L. Bradmon, of Mulberry street, returned ho his home this morning.

Thomas Wellman, a member of the Ormes brothers' band, who made the trip to Salem yesterday, reports a fine time in spite of the heavy rain.

Dr. Hendershot and his brother, Tom Hendershot, came in late last night from a squirrel hunt out in the woods around Sprucevale. It rained so hard during the day that they could not have seen a squirrel had there been any around.

Amos Jones, the man who had his leg broken about three months ago while at work on the railroad grade up Beaver creek, is just getting able to use his injured limb. He was a visitor to the East End this morning, from his home near Smith's Ferry, for the first time since the accident.

Heavy

Dull Feeling After Dinner.

Tortures of Death From Headache.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills Relieve and Cure.

"Nearly every day I suffered from severe attacks of headache. They usually began with a heavy, dull feeling soon after dinner. During these spells my head felt as though there was a tight bandage around it, my temples throbbed, I became sick at my stomach, and suffered almost the tortures of death. For two years past I have been taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and have found sure and immediate relief always. By taking one in time the headache is preventedevery time."—MRS. M. E. NOBLE, Garfield, Wash.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are all right. I can recommend them very highly to anyone who needs a remedy for headache, neuralgia, or pain of any kind. My health is not very good, and I am subject to frequent attacks of severe headache, but since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I do not suffer from them as I used to. They never fail to give relief in a few minutes, and if taken promptly upon the approach of a headache will prevent an attack from coming on."—MRS. WM. PEDRICK, Gloversville, N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Pain Pills grow in favor with me every day; for, whereas, I used to have sick headache once a week, sure, can say that I do not have it any more at all. I never had anything cure me of sick headache before."—CLAUDE TUCKER, Wallace, N. Y.

THE WILDS OF STARK

Opossums Found Wandering About Near the Canton Post-Office.

Canton, August 29.—John Eckert, of the Hirscheimer store, and Edward Morrow, of Court and Seventh streets, encountered an opossum on the street near the postoffice, while going to their homes. While the two were walking along together one of them thought he noticed a strange-looking cat, but when it came closer Eckert discovered that it was an opossum and gave it a kick. After Eckert kicked it he was greatly surprised to see three opossums instead of one.

The one he had kicked acted as if dead. It proved to be a mother opossum, which was carrying two of her offspring. The little ones, about the size of a large rat, were thrown upon the old one, and she soon took them and started to run. She was given another kick and landed in the cellar window of the postoffice in Eighth street. The opossums were removed and given to a colored man who works nearby.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

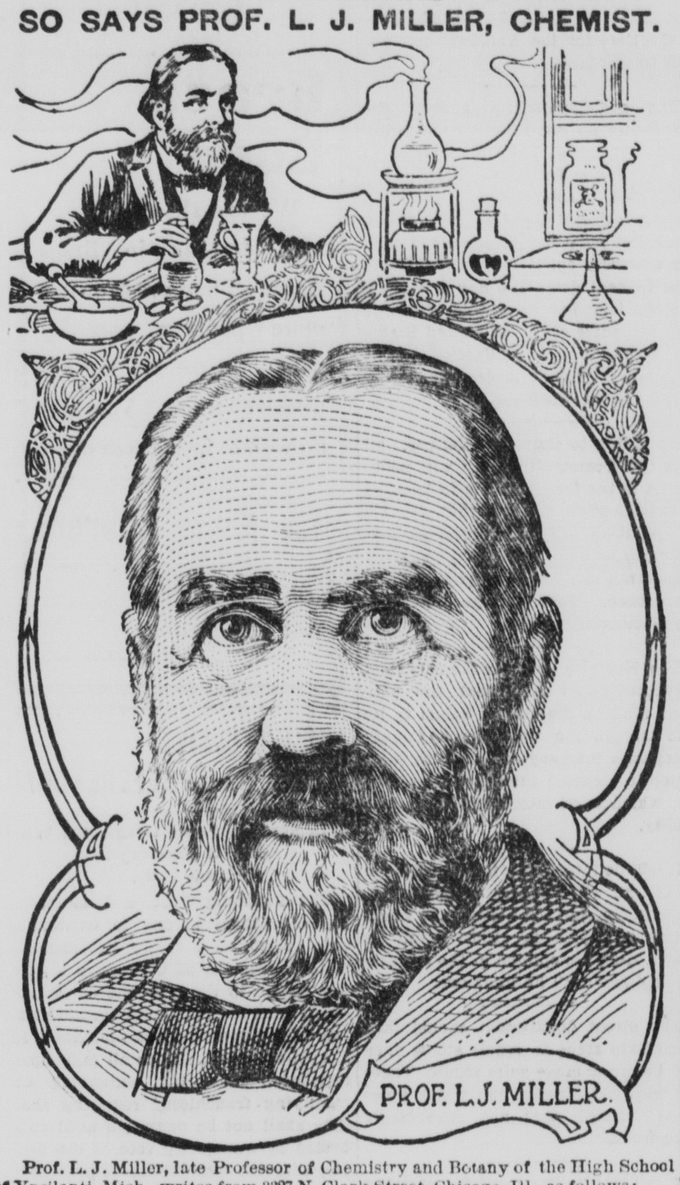
SO SAYS PROF. L. J. MILLER, CHEMIST.



Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes from 3327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents.

"I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health.

"I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."—PROF. L. J. MILLER.

"Builds up the System."

Joseph Ridgeway.

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes:

"I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to."

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna.

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

EAST END

ROCK RUN COMPANY DRILLING AT MOSCOW

Owing to a mishap the well of the Rock Run Oil & Gas company, an East End corporation, now being drilled on the company's property in the Moscow field, will not be in at the time expected. The hole has been sunk to a depth of about 800 feet, and it was expected to reach the pay sand Monday, but the drillers lost their tools in the hole and have been working to recover them.

The company has excellent prospects to strike a paying well, as the field has turned out some good producers. The stockholders are hoping the bad luck that attended their initial effort in the Knoxville field will not be repeated. It will be remembered that their well there proved to be a duster, although in the midst of good producers.

The stockholders decided at that time to abandon the Knoxville field and develop the Moscow property. This determination was not made public and this is the first announcement that the new well is being drilled.

BRIDGE BADLY DAMACED IN YESTERDAY'S STORM

Many people have visited the Virginia avenue bridge over Lake Run which was so badly damaged as the result of the terrific rain yesterday afternoon. This stream at this point proved too narrow to carry the volume of water and the water spread over quite a large area. The bridge, which is built diagonally arcoss the street, is almost entirely ruined its entire length and the foundations and approaches were undermined until they caved in. Private property abutting on the street near the bridge was damaged to some extent.

The rain also wrought considerable damage along the track of the East Liverpool railway. Several fills will be necessary between Thompson's pottery and Mulberry street. At the end of the line a small section of the track was washed out. The county road near the state line is reported to be in an impassable condition, owing to the great amount of earth that was washed down upon it.

Col. Dixon Rode the Goat.

Buckeye Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held an interesting meeting last night, at which the goat was brought out for the initiation of Col. Sam Dixon into the mysteries of the order. The animal, realizing that it had a distinguished subject with which to deal, performed to the entire satisfaction of all present. Several applications for membership were favorably received.

Lecture Announced.

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. Dr. J. S. Secrest, of Bridgeport, will lecture at the Erie street M. E. church on next Tuesday evening. Dr. Secrest is district president of the Epworth League, an able scholar and an eloquent talker. Announcement of his topic will be made later.

A Barrel of Fine Apples.

J. L. Fulton received a barrel of fine apples yesterday from the farm of his father, D. S. Fulton, of Washington county. He has been handing a few of them out to his friends, who pronounce them the finest of the season. The apples are of two varieties, Summer Pippins and Maiden Blush.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Blanche Morris, of Pennsylvania avenue, East End, entertained her friends at a theatre party last evening at Rock Springs park. After the performance the party went to the dining hall, where a dainty lunch was served.

Mrs. Byers Improving.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

County Clerk James Hanley was an East End visitor this morning.

Dr. M. W. Taylor went to Darlington this afternoon to remain over Sunday with his parents.

C. J. Mensch, of Allegheny, who has been visiting W. C. Supplee and family, returned to his home yesterday.

J. F. Smith, the barber, leaves tomorrow for Cambridge Springs, where he will spend a few days for the benefit of his health.

Thomas Wellman, a member of the Ormes brothers' band, who made the trip to Salem yesterday, reports a fine time in spite of the heavy rain.

Dr. Hendershot and his brother, Tom Hendershot, came in late last night from a squirrel hunt out in the woods around Sprucevale. It rained so hard during the day that they could not have seen a squirrel had there been any around.

Amos Jones, the man who had his leg broken about three months ago while at work on the railroad grade up Beaver creek, is just getting able to use his injured limb. He was a visitor to the East End this morning, from his home near Smith's Ferry, for the first time since the accident.

Heavy

Dull Feeling After Dinner.

Tortures of Death From Headache.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills Relieve and Cure.

"Nearly every day I suffered from severe attacks of headache. They usually began with a heavy, dull feeling soon after dinner. During these spells my head felt as though there was a tight bandage around it, my temples throbbed, I became sick at my stomach, and suffered almost the tortures of death. For two years past I have been taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and have found sure and immediate relief always. By taking one in time the headache is preventedevery time."—MRS. M. E. NOBLE, Garfield, Wash.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are all right. I can recommend them very highly to anyone who needs a remedy for headache, neuralgia, or pain of any kind. My health is not very good, and I am subject to frequent attacks of severe headache, but since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I do not suffer from them as I used to. They never fail to give relief in a few minutes, and if taken promptly upon the approach of a headache will prevent an attack from coming on."—MRS. WM. PEDRICK, Gloversville, N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Pain Pills grow in favor with me every day; for, whereas, I used to have sick headache once a week, sure, can say that I do not have it any more at all. I never had anything cure me of sick headache before."—CLAUDE TUCKER, Wallace, N. Y.

THE WILDS OF STARK

Canton, August 29.—John Eckert, of the Hirscheimer store, and Edward Morrow, of Court and Seventh streets, encountered an opossum on the street near the postoffice, while going to their homes. While the two were walking along together one of them thought he noticed a strange-looking cat, but when it came closer Eckert discovered that it was an opossum and gave it a kick. After Eckert kicked it he was greatly surprised to see three opossums instead of one.

The one he had kicked acted as if dead. It proved to be a mother opossum, which was carrying two of her offspring. The little ones, about the size of a large rat, were thrown upon the old one, and she soon took them and started to run. She was given another kick and landed in the cellar window of the postoffice in Eighth street. The opossums were removed and given to a colored man who works nearby.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

New Kind of Life Insurance.

For twenty five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. This remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. The news that Vice Consul Magelssen was not slain or even injured, though shot at by a would-be assassin, will be hailed with joy in this country. But it will cause no one to take back any harsh words he may have uttered about the sultan or the Turkish government in general. Neither will the sailing orders to American warships be withdrawn. An American squadron can do no harm in Turkish waters and may be sadly needed there. The fact that there are Turkish subjects who would be glad to murder an American representative shows the temper of the people and augurs ill for the safety of Americans and American interests during the present troubles. Admiral Cotton and some of his fleet will be suffered to proceed to the Orient and watch proceedings there.

Gas bills, with 25 per cent added, look rather inconsequential in a not month like August. Consumers should pause and think what the bills will look like in December and January and move and act accordingly. The raise in gas rates is declared illegal by excellent legal authority. This being the case East Liverpool citizens need to arouse themselves and prepare to hit the octopus squarely between the eyes. Patient toleration of a public outrage is not to be thought of. Now is the time for the Anti-Grab association to get busy.

The anti-imperialists among the Democrats do not like the appointment of General Luke E. Wright to succeed Judge Taft as the head of the Philippine commission. General Wright is and always has been a Democrat, but he never sympathized with the cowardly spirit that urges Uncle Sam to haul down the flag and abandon the islands. He is one of those who recognize that the United States has a duty and an obligation to the Filipinos, and that it can not be ignored without dishonor.

According to Corporal Tanner, all that the Democratic party will nominate a ticket for in 1904 is to keep up its organization. It looks that way. No Democrat of any sense believes that his party will win next year, but many Democrats look for their party to win some time. Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast.

The News Review was the only East Liverpool paper to present the petitions filed by the city of Salem in its suit against the Columbiana County Telephone company and the only local paper to mention this important matter, which is of interest to the whole county.

It will be interesting to know if John H. Clarke will publicly apologize to Ohio Democrats for bolting the nomination of Bryan in 1896. Bryan is withholding his opinion of the senatorial aspirant until he finds out.

The street department should take immediate steps to repair storm damage before damage suits result. There are unpaved streets in which holes were washed that are exceedingly dangerous.

A millionaire Democrat for governor and a corporation lawyer for United States senator. Platform, Down with the plutocrats! No wonder the whole country is laughing at the Ohio Democracy.

Wall street speculation seems to be recognized as just a side issue, an incidental eddy in the majestic current of business in the United States.

It is said that Tom Johnson's policy is to rule or ruin. Looks as if he were in a fair way to do both to the Democratic party in Ohio.

Sir Thomas Lipton reluctantly admits that the Americans have the best boat. And he might add with truth, the best men to run it.

THE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

A Democratic Paper Doubts the Wisdom of Saddling It Upon Ohio.

The Pittsburg Post, a Democratic paper, if there is one in existence, says editorially: "The Democratic state convention of Ohio gave a certain assent to the principle of the initiative and referendum in certain matters of legislation and law-making. It is applied specifically to all municipal legislation 'renewing, extending or modifying franchises,' requiring that they shall not be operative until confirmed by a majority vote of the people, with the 'prohibition of perpetual franchises altogether.' We believe these two declarations, and especially the latter, meet with the general approval of thoughtful citizens. But the Ohio convention went further, and pledged itself to the 'general principle of the initiative and referendum in all other matters of legislation.' This is an experiment of very doubtful merit. In fact, we doubt if it would be generally applied even if incorporated in our system of government. We have an illustration of this in Oregon, which has adopted the referendum in its entirety.

"In some other states it has been applied in modified form, but in Oregon the whole doctrine has been accepted by constitutional amendment. By this amendment, recently adopted, new legislation does not become operative until ninety days have elapsed after its approval by the governor. These ninety days give the objectors to certain legislation their opportunity. During that time 5 per cent of the voters by signing a petition can compel the submission of any act to which they object to the people voting at a special election, and only when indorsed by a majority of them does it go into effect.

"The Oregon legislature this year passed the usual number of laws, subject to the usual possibility of being submitted to the arbitrament of the ballot, but thus far, though some acts have awakened hostility, the necessary 5 per cent of the voters have not petitioned for a reference. Some of the labor unions tried to get a vote on the question of making an appropriation of $500,000 to the Lewis & Clark Exposition company, but only 3,900 signatures could be obtained for the petition for a reference, which is 400 less than the required 5 per cent of the voters.

"This shows the practicability of making the referendum of little effect in defeating laws passed by the legislature, although the principle may hold good. The provisions are rare, it is manifest, when it will be a curb on unpopular and indefensible legislation. The guards and restrictions on law-making by constitutional provisions are so effective and sweeping that the referendum would not be likely to be called into use, as it has been refused in Oregon. Another strong objection is that its adoption would abridge the responsibility of legislators, and impair the efficiency and independence of representatives of the people. It is a sentimental notion that will be of little practical value."

THE REALLY HUMOROUS FEATURE OF IT ALL

The really humorous feature of Mr. Johnson's convention Wednesday was the indorsement of John H. Clarke for the United States senate. Mr. Huntington's plea for Lentz and a united Democracy was funny, and so was the nomination of Mr. Monnett. But Mr. Clarke's indorsement far surpasses both.

In 1896 Mr. Clarke was the busiest gold Democrat in Ohio. He presided over the convention of anti-Bryan Democrats in this city, and his speech on that occasion, a sounding plea for honest money and a bitter arraignment of Bryan and Bryanism, attracted favorable comment throughout the country. He gloried in the fact that he bolted the Bryan ticket.

The statement of Johnson that Clarke was converted to the free silver theory in 1900 is simply fake, says the Ohio State Journal. Clarke did vote for Bryan three years ago, but he made it plain that he did it solely on the expansion issue and under strong protest.

Clarke for many years has been one of the leading corporation attorneys of Ohio. On all questions involving the interests of the people or the corporations, he has sided with the latter. In the Columbus auditorium a year ago he declared that Mayor Johnson, who occupied the platform with him, had spoken falsely and like a demagogue when he alleged that a certain railroad company represented by Clarke did not pay its share of taxes.

Such is the man whom Bryan's personal representative in Ohio has crammed down the throat of a free silver convention. It looks as if Johnson, foreseeing the outcome of this campaign, were paying Clark back for what Clarke said about him last year.

Whatever Johnson's motives were, it may be set down as certain that he and Clarke will not discuss railroad taxation, "the paramount issue," from the same stump this fall. Or if they do they will answer each other.

THE REALLY HUMOROUS FEATURE OF IT ALL

The really humorous feature of Mr. Johnson's convention Wednesday was the indorsement of John H. Clarke for the United States senate. Mr. Huntington's plea for Lentz and a united Democracy was funny, and so was the nomination of Mr. Monnett. But Mr. Clarke's indorsement far surpasses both.

In 1896 Mr. Clarke was the busiest gold Democrat in Ohio. He presided over the convention of anti-Bryan Democrats in this city, and his speech on that occasion, a sounding plea for honest money and a bitter arraignment of Bryan and Bryanism, attracted favorable comment throughout the country. He gloried in the fact that he bolted the Bryan ticket.

The statement of Johnson that Clarke was converted to the free silver theory in 1900 is simply fake, says the Ohio State Journal. Clarke did vote for Bryan three years ago, but he made it plain that he did it solely on the expansion issue and under strong protest.

Clarke for many years has been one of the leading corporation attorneys of Ohio. On all questions involving the interests of the people or the corporations, he has sided with the latter. In the Columbus auditorium a year ago he declared that Mayor Johnson, who occupied the platform with him, had spoken falsely and like a demagogue when he alleged that a certain railroad company represented by Clarke did not pay its share of taxes.

Such is the man whom Bryan's personal representative in Ohio has crammed down the throat of a free silver convention. It looks as if Johnson, foreseeing the outcome of this campaign, were paying Clark back for what Clarke said about him last year.

Whatever Johnson's motives were, it may be set down as certain that he and Clarke will not discuss railroad taxation, "the paramount issue," from the same stump this fall. Or if they do they will answer each other.

SERVICE BOARD HAD BUSY SESSION

LEGALITY OF FRESHWATER'S BID MUCH DISCUSSED.

All Bids Were Finally Rejected and New Ones Will Be Advertised For.

An adjourned meeting of the board of public service was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the board on Main street. The meeting was held especially for the purpose of opening bids on the new tool house which is to be located in the West End. No bids were received, however, and nothing could be done in this matter. It seems that all carpenter contractors are too busy at the present time to bid on such a small contract at a price anywhere near reasonable, and the tool house matter will have to be readvertised at a more dull season of the year when more carpenter contractors are able to take up the matter.

Other unfinished business of the meeting last Tuesday morning was taken up. The matter of letting the contract for the construction of a new sewer was taken up. It was found that it would require $2,375 to have this work done, and as there is only $2,000 in that fund, the contract could not be let, as the statute states very plainly that the money must be in the treasury before the contract can be let.

A lengthy communication was read to the board by the clerk, from City Solicitor Charles Boyd. The communication was sent upon the request of the board at its last meeting for a legal opinion of the legality of Contractor Freshwater's bid on the paving of Lisbon road. The contractor had claimed that the board and the city engineer in particular had treated him unfairly in the matter of plans and specifications for bidding. The communication stated that all contractors should be treated fairly. It also criticized the form of all proposals on paving bids and stated that there was room for improvement.

Attorney W. F. Lones, who was present, representing Contractor Freshwater in the matter of the two bids on the paving of Liscbon road and Steubenville street, stated to the board in behalf of Mr. Freshwater that when they bid on the Lisbon road paving their intentions were that the amount $1.32 for the paving complete include the broken stone edger which is rated at 14 cents per cubic foot in a separate item in the bid. Mr. Lones further stated that the bid of A. B. Clark, who had bid to do the work at $1.30 complete, on the same contract, was not legal as the items of labor and material had not been properly separated in that bid.

Mr. Clark, who was present when Mr. Lones made this statement, stated to the board that when he put in his bid, it was with all intentions of fairness. He said: "If you include the broken stone edges in Mr. Freshwater's bid of $1.32, then you must also include the sewer pipe in the same amount."

W. C. Stewart, the president of the board, said that in his opinion all of the bids on this contract ought to be rejected and new bids advertised for. Mr. Bowers, another member of the board, sided with Mr. Stewart in the matter. They both laid the blame for the trouble to City Engineer Leith, who failed to file the plans for this contract at the board of service office. Mr. Lones at this point suggested that Mr. Freshwater be allowed to change his bid by erasing the item of 14 cents for the edger, but this was not allowed, as the board held that if one contractor was given this privilege they all ought to be given the same right. The matter was finally decided by a motion by Herbert that all bids on the Lisbon road paving be rejected and the certified checks of $500 each be returned to the contractors. The motion was seconded by Bowers and passed.

The board wrangled for some time over the letting of the contract for the paving of Steubenville street. The same difficulty existed in the bids on this contract and President Stewart made a motion to reject these bids and readvertise, but for some unknown reason he could not get a second to the motion and the matter was allowed to hang fire.

Mr. Bowers moved that the clerk of the board be instructed to readvertise for bids on the Lisbon road improvement, for a period of two weeks. Herbert seconded this motion, but when put to a vote, President Stewart voted nay and afterwards explained that there had been nothing included in the motion to compel the city engineer to file the plans for this contract at the office of the board. The motion held good, however. A few other matters were disposed of after which the board adjourned.

In Running Order Again.

Supt. Ewing, of the Wellsville water works, has reported the arrival of the new piston rod from the Worthington company, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The new rod was placed in position this morning at the pumping station and the old broken rod was taken out. The plant has now been placed in first-class running order again, and there is a plentiful supply of water.

MANY COMPLAINTS

From Property Owners in Regard to the Condition of Wellsville Sewers.

During the course of the meeting of the board of public service yesterday a number of complaints were received from different parts of the city regarding the poor condition of certain sewers where the storm water of the heavy storm yesterday was doing damage to personal property.

A taxpayer owning property on Steubenville street stated that the cellar in his house had become flooded and that the same conditions existed at the houses of many of his neighbors, all on account of the lack of a good sewer. The Bunting run sewer was the main cause of the damage. Nothing could be done to relieve the situation by the board. No one could be employed to attend to the matter, as the road fund of the city is already overdrawn.

Complaints were also received from residents at the intersection of Main and Ninth streets, where the storm sewer was overtaxed during the storm and the cellars and first floors of two houses were flooded. No action was taken by the board on any of these complaints.

NEW WAY TO TREAT HAY FEVER

It is claimed for this remedy that it stops the spasmodic paroxysms of sneezing, the smarting and running of the eyes and nose, and other acute symptoms of this disease.

Many persons have been cured of hay fever by Hyomei and its inventors profess to be able to prevent both the occurrnce of the annual attacks and to arrest the progress of the disease when in the most chronic form.

Among those who have been cured by Hyomei are J. F. Forbes, chief dispatcher B. & M. R. R., McCook, Neb., who writes: "I have never had relief from any remedy for hay fever even temporarily, until I used Hyomei, but will always recommend it whenever occasion offers."

A. Hamlin, westford, Mass., writes, "Hyomei cured me of hay fever in one week's time. I consider it a duty to tell others who suffer from this disease."

These endorsements are samples of hundreds that have been received by the manufacturers of Hyomei, but Will Reed's offer to refund the money if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it, is the strongest proof that can be offered as to the reliance they place upon Hyomei to cure hay fever.

HORSE AND CROCKERY WENT OVER THE BANK

A one-horse wagon heavily laden with crockery ware tumbled over a steep embankment in Jethro yesterday afternoon, dragging the horse and driver with it. The driver escaped injury, but the animal may die from the effects of the hurts received in the fall.

Benjamin Sanford is a crockery dealer in a small way and yesterday had prepared his wagon for a trip to the country. The owner resides below the bridge in Jetnro and on account of the steep hill there it is a difficult task to haul even an empty wagon to the top of the bank.

Sanford's horse is aged and not over strong, and when the outfit was near the home of Joe Bratt he stalled. The load was so heavy that it was impossible for the horse to hold it and the whole outfit backed over the bank. Sanford jumped to avoid being crushed and the horse, becoming entangled in the harness, was caught in the fall and held a prisoner for some time.

It was found impossible to get the horse back onto the road, and when he was released from the harness, the owner, with the assistance of several others, rolled him over a high stone wall. The fall nearly killed the aged animal, but he was finally dragged to his feet and taken to the barn nearly dead.

The crockery ware was a total wreck and the wagon was badly demolished. The loss to Sanford will be considerable.

WOMAN ATTACKED BY AN ANGRY COW

But For Timely Assistance Mrs. Homer McLane Might Have Been Killed.

Mrs. Homer McLane was attacked by a cow on Carolina avenue yesterday afternoon and had it not been for the prompt action of Watchman George Prosser, of the tin mill, she might have been killed.

Mrs. McLane had left her home in the mill addition to do some shopping on Carolina avenue, and while returning to her home was met on the street by a cow belonging to Samuel Martin. The animal was half starved, and had been roaming about the town all day. Mrs. McLane noticed that the cow was acting strangely, but paid little attention to it until she was convinced that she was being pursued. The animal ran Mrs. McLane up the street to the intersection of Sixth street, where she was about to climb over a fence to escape, when George Prosser, watchman at the mill, appeared on the scene and succeeded in subduing the infuriated beast. Mrs. McLane was taken to her home in a state of nervous collapse, and is very ill today. The residents of the vicinity say the cow is a dangerous animal and steps will be taken to either keep her up or put her out of the way.

MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT

Contractor Freshwater's Force Now Busy on the Carolina Avenue Work.

Contractor Freshwater and his force commenced work this morning on the improvement of Carolina avenue, and the abutting stone ordered by the city is now being placed in position.

The piece of work was an unusual one, having been ordered long ago. John Shrader bought the property on which his home now stands from the Gardners, and the former owners had dedicated a portion of the tract for street purposes. After Shrader got possession of the property he forbade the city to improve the street. The records were examined and after it had been made clear the city was entitled to the right of way, Contractor Freshwater was authorized to go ahead with the work.

First street has been completed, and no move has yet been made by Shrader to prevent the improvement by paving. The authorities are now convinced that Mr. Shrader was endeavoring to make a bluff. It is the opinion of the Chester councilmen that Mr. Shrader did not have the authority he claimed to possess in the beginning, and for that reason has given up the fight.

CHESTER NOTES.

J. W. Johnston, a former merchant of Chester, was visiting old acquaintances here today.

J. F. Height will leave early in the week for Hodesha, Kas., where he will remain for some time.

Superintendent James M. Miller, of the Chester schools, has announced that the fall term will be opened on September 18. The decision was reached last night.

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT DEVELOPING COAL LANDS

A Project That Involves the Opening of Mines and Building of Railroads.

Wheeling, August 29.—The News has information to the effect that a coal and railroad project of enormous proportions is on foot, which will result in the opening up of numerous coal mines in Ohio county and through Washington county, Pa., and the building of a railroad through the two counties that will connect up a tract of 30,000 acres of coal with the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Wabash railroads as well as the Ohio river. The project involves the expenditures of several million dollars. For several years W. H. H. Bulger has been taking up coal lands in the interior of Ohio and Washington counties, aggregating all told something like 30,000 acres. Later the coal was turned over to the Pittsburg Seam Coal company, a Pittsburg corporation. Now, it is alleged, the Pittsburg Seam Coal company has passed into the control of another and larger Pittsburg coal company, known as the railroad coal combine of Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg company, it is said, has decided to enter soon upon the development of its large holdings in Ohio and Washington counties, and has recently placed an engineer in the field in the person of Fred Ferrett, late in the employ of the United States government. It is said the company will build a railroad through Ohio and Washington counties, starting from the Ohio river in the vicinity of Short Creek, just at the northwestern border of Short Creek, and thence running through its coal holdings in Richland, Triadelphia and Liberty districts, into Washington county to a point on the Baltimore & Ohio. The advantage of a line like this is that it would give the coal company connection at Short Creek with the Pennsylvania lines and with the river for barge shipments, and at Vienna for rail shipments on the Baltimore & Ohio system. A small branch line would give connection with the new Wabash at Cross Creek in Brooke county.

gives too much influence to individuals. The only thing that I think can be said against the board plan is that it costs too much. Who is to blame? It is not the law, but the councils. In many instances councils fixed the salaries too high. Clerks who got $150 were advanced to $1,500. This was all wrong, and of course the code was made to bear the blame. As soon as salaries are placed upon a fair basis the board system of the code will be found to be all right."

The meeting was held especially for the purpose of opening bids on the new tool house which is to be located in the West End. No bids were received, however, and nothing could be done in this matter. It seems that all carpenter contractors are too busy at the present time to bid on such a small contract at a price anywhere near reasonable, and the tool house matter will have to be readvertised at a more dull season of the year when more carpenter contractors are able to take up the matter.

Other unfinished business of the meeting last Tuesday morning was taken up. The matter of letting the contract for the construction of a new sewer was taken up. It was found that it would require $2,375 to have this work done, and as there is only $2,000 in that fund, the contract could not be let, as the statute states very plainly that the money must be in the treasury before the contract can be let.

A lengthy communication was read to the board by the clerk, from City Solicitor Charles Boyd. The communication was sent upon the request of the board at its last meeting for a legal opinion of the legality of Contractor Freshwater's bid on the paving of Lisbon road. The contractor had claimed that the board and the city engineer in particular had treated him unfairly in the matter of plans and specifications for bidding. The communication stated that all contractors should be treated fairly. It also criticized the form of all proposals on paving bids and stated that there was room for improvement.

Attorney W. F. Lones, who was present, representing Contractor Freshwater in the matter of the two bids on the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street, stated to the board in behalf of Mr. Freshwater that when they bid on the Lisbon road paving their intentions were that the amount $1.32 for the paving complete include the broken stone edger which is rated at 14 cents per cubic foot in a separate item in the bid. Mr. Lones further stated that the bid of A. B. Clark, who had bid to do the work at $1.30 complete, on the same contract, was not legal as the items of labor and material had not been properly separated in that bid.

Mr. Clark, who was present when Mr. Lones made this statement, stated to the board that when he put in his bid, it was with all intentions of fairness. He said: "If you include the broken stone edges in Mr. Freshwater's bid of $1.32, then you must also include the sewer pipe in the same amount."

W. C. Stewart, the president of the board, said that in his opinion all of the bids on this contract ought to be rejected and new bids advertised for. Mr. Bowers, another member of the board, sided with Mr. Stewart in the matter. They both laid the blame for the trouble to City Engineer Leith, who failed to file the plans for this contract at the board of service office. Mr. Lones at this point suggested that Mr. Freshwater be allowed to change his bid by erasing the item of 14 cents for the edger, but this was not allowed, as the board held that if one contractor was given this privilege they all ought to be given the same right. The matter was finally decided by a motion by Herbert that all bids on the Lisbon road paving be rejected and the certified checks of $500 each be returned to the contractors. The motion was seconded by Bowers and passed.

The board wrangled for some time over the letting of the contract for the paving of Steubenville street. The same difficulty existed in the bids on this contract and President Stewart made a motion to reject these bids and readvertise, but for some unknown reason he could not get a second to the motion and the matter was allowed to hang fire.

Mr. Bowers moved that the clerk of the board be instructed to readvertise for bids on the Lisbon road improvement, for a period of two weeks. Herbert seconded this motion, but when put to a vote, President Stewart voted nay and afterwards explained that there had been nothing included in the motion to compel the city engineer to file the plans for this contract at the office of the board. The motion held good, however. A few other matters were disposed of after which the board adjourned.

In Running Order Again.

Supt. Ewing, of the Wellsville water works, has reported the arrival of the new piston rod from the Worthington company, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The new rod was placed in position this morning at the pumping station and the old broken rod was taken out. The plant has now been placed in first-class running order again, and there is a plentiful supply of water.

MANY COMPLAINTS

During the course of the meeting of the board of public service yesterday a number of complaints were received from different parts of the city regarding the poor condition of certain sewers where the storm water of the heavy storm yesterday was doing damage to personal property.

A taxpayer owning property on Steubenville street stated that the cellar in his house had become flooded and that the same conditions existed at the houses of many of his neighbors, all on account of the lack of a good sewer. The Bunting run sewer was the main cause of the damage. Nothing could be done to relieve the situation by the board. No one could be employed to attend to the matter, as the road fund of the city is already overdrawn.

Complaints were also received from residents at the intersection of Main and Ninth streets, where the storm sewer was overtaxed during the storm and the cellars and first floors of two houses were flooded. No action was taken by the board on any of these complaints.

NEW WAY TO TREAT HAY FEVER

It is claimed for this remedy that it stops the spasmodic paroxysms of sneezing, the smarting and running of the eyes and nose, and other acute symptoms of this disease.

Many persons have been cured of hay fever by Hyomei and its inventors profess to be able to prevent both the occurrnce of the annual attacks and to arrest the progress of the disease when in the most chronic form.

Among those who have been cured by Hyomei are J. F. Forbes, chief dispatcher B. & M. R. R., McCook, Neb., who writes: "I have never had relief from any remedy for hay fever even temporarily, until I used Hyomei, but will always recommend it whenever occasion offers."

A. Hamlin, westford, Mass., writes, "Hyomei cured me of hay fever in one week's time. I consider it a duty to tell others who suffer from this disease."

These endorsements are samples of hundreds that have been received by the manufacturers of Hyomei, but Will Reed's offer to refund the money if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it, is the strongest proof that can be offered as to the reliance they place upon Hyomei to cure hay fever.

HORSE AND CROCKERY WENT OVER THE BANK

A one-horse wagon heavily laden with crockery ware tumbled over a steep embankment in Jethro yesterday afternoon, dragging the horse and driver with it. The driver escaped injury, but the animal may die from the effects of the hurts received in the fall.

Benjamin Sanford is a crockery dealer in a small way and yesterday had prepared his wagon for a trip to the country. The owner resides below the bridge in Jethro and on account of the steep hill there it is a difficult task to haul even an empty wagon to the top of the bank.

Sanford's horse is aged and not over strong, and when the outfit was near the home of Joe Bratt he stalled. The load was so heavy that it was impossible for the horse to hold it and the whole outfit backed over the bank. Sanford jumped to avoid being crushed and the horse, becoming entangled in the harness, was caught in the fall and held a prisoner for some time.

It was found impossible to get the horse back onto the road, and when he was released from the harness, the owner, with the assistance of several others, rolled him over a high stone wall. The fall nearly killed the aged animal, but he was finally dragged to his feet and taken to the barn nearly dead.

The crockery ware was a total wreck and the wagon was badly demolished. The loss to Sanford will be considerable.

WOMAN ATTACKED BY AN ANGRY COW

But For Timely Assistance Mrs. Homer McLane Might Have Been Killed.

Mrs. Homer McLane was attacked by a cow on Carolina avenue yesterday afternoon and had it not been for the prompt action of Watchman George Prosser, of the tin mill, she might have been killed.

Mrs. McLane had left her home in the mill addition to do some shopping on Carolina avenue, and while returning to her home was met on the street by a cow belonging to Samuel Martin. The animal was half starved, and had been roaming about the town all day. Mrs. McLane noticed that the cow was acting strangely, but paid little attention to it until she was convinced that she was being pursued. The animal ran Mrs. McLane up the street to the intersection of Sixth street, where she was about to climb over a fence to escape, when George Prosser, watchman at the mill, appeared on the scene and succeeded in subduing the infuriated beast. Mrs. McLane was taken to her home in a state of nervous collapse, and is very ill today. The residents of the vicinity say the cow is a dangerous animal and steps will be taken to either keep her up or put her out of the way.

MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT

Contractor Freshwater and his force commenced work this morning on the improvement of Carolina avenue, and the abutting stone ordered by the city is now being placed in position.

The piece of work was an unusual one, having been ordered long ago. John Shrader bought the property on which his home now stands from the Gardners, and the former owners had dedicated a portion of the tract for street purposes. After Shrader got possession of the property he forbade the city to improve the street. The records were examined and after it had been made clear the city was entitled to the right of way, Contractor Freshwater was authorized to go ahead with the work.

First street has been completed, and no move has yet been made by Shrader to prevent the improvement by paving. The authorities are now convinced that Mr. Shrader was endeavoring to make a bluff. It is the opinion of the Chester councilmen that Mr. Shrader did not have the authority he claimed to possess in the beginning, and for that reason has given up the fight.

CHESTER NOTES.

J. W. Johnston, a former merchant of Chester, was visiting old acquaintances here today.

J. F. Height will leave early in the week for Hodesha, Kas., where he will remain for some time.

Superintendent James M. Miller, of the Chester schools, has announced that the fall term will be opened on September 18. The decision was reached last night.

A Project That Involves the Opening of Mines and Building of Railroads.

Wheeling, August 29.—The News has information to the effect that a coal and railroad project of enormous proportions is on foot, which will result in the opening up of numerous coal mines in Ohio county and through Washington county, Pa., and the building of a railroad through the two counties that will connect up a tract of 30,000 acres of coal with the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Wabash railroads as well as the Ohio river. The project involves the expenditures of several million dollars. For several years W. H. H. Balger has been taking up coal lands in the interior of Ohio and Washington counties, aggregating all told something like 30,000 acres. Later the coal was turned over to the Pittsburg Seam Coal company, a Pittsburg corporation. Now, it is alleged, the Pittsburg Seam Coal company has passed into the control of another and larger Pittsburg coal company, known as the railroad coal combine of Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg company, it is said, has decided to enter soon upon the development of its large holdings in Ohio and Washington counties, and has recently placed an engineer in the field in the person of Fred Ferrett, late in the employ of the United States government. It is said the company will build a railroad through Ohio and Washington counties, starting from the Ohio river in the vicinity of Short Creek, just at the northwestern border of Short Creek, and thence running through its coal holdings in Richland, Triadelphia and Liberty districts, into Washington county to a point on the Baltimore & Ohio. The advantage of a line like this is that it would give the coal company connection at Short Creek with the Pennsylvania lines and with the river for barge shipments, and at Vienna for rail shipments on the Baltimore & Ohio system. A small branch line would give connection with the new Wabash at Cross Creek in Brooke county.

gives too much influence to individuals. The only thing that I think can be said against the board plan is that it costs too much. Who is to blame? It is not the law, but the councils. In many instances councils fixed the salaries too high. Clerks who got $150 were advanced to $1,500. This was all wrong, and of course the code was made to bear the blame. As soon as salaries are placed upon a fair basis the board system of the code will be found to be all right."

DEATH DUST IS DEATH TO Ants

The ant is a clean insect, so far as habits of living are concerned. Their supreme annoyance is their vast number and vexations persistence. They appear suddenly, increase enormously in number, and locate to stay. REALM OF SPORTS

WAYNESBURG TEAM SORELY DISSAPPOINTED

All Games Called Off Owing to Muddy Condition of the Grounds.

Even before the rain of yesterday afternoon Manager Reark found it necessary to cancel the series of games with the Waynesburg team, owing to the muddy condition of the West End park. The Waynesburg players arrived in the city in time for the game scheduled for Thursday and have been quartered at the Lakel. They have been playing a fast article of ball and fans were sorely disappointed when it became apparent that old Jupiter Pluvius had got in his deadly work and prevented the contest.

Only an ordinary amount of rain is necessary to ood the field at the West End park, and the continuous performance in the wet goods line during the past few days has placed the diamond in a horrible condition. Considerable work will be necessary to counteract the work of the rain so that the opening games of next week will find the field in good condition.

As has been previously announced, the strong Niles team will be the attraction the first three days of next week. There have been but few changes in the lineup and the team is as strong as it was earlier in the season. Kommer, the twirler, who aroused the ire of the fans when Niles was here before, has been pitching good ball. He showed in the game here that he is a rank quitter when under the fire of the rooters, and it is needless to state that they will go after him in great shape when he essays to pitch. Glassburner, who played in left garden while the team was here, has also been doing consistent slab work. All the locals ask is another crack at the veteran Charley Crowe and they promise to pound out another victory. He was pie for "Big Heck," who had five safeties out of the six times he faced him.

Manager Reark has been looking up available talent to strengthen the locals, and asked the Vasbinders, who have been with the strong Salineville team, to come over and help him out. Jim Vasbinder, who played middle field for the coal diggers in that heart-stirring Saturday afternoon matinee at the West End park, is head and shoulders above most amateur players in this section. Until a dispute arose between him and the manager he was a member of the Minneapolis team of the American association and was making good. He is a good hitter, a star pitcher and can be counted on to help out with tne stick. Al Vasbinder is also a fine player, and either one of these boys would strengthen the locals.

It is likely that the old reliable Morg Winters will be called upon to face the Niles bunch in the opener. Morg pitched the only winner the locals have been able to land from Niles this season and will come pretty near turning the trick again. Lawrence will follow him to the slab in the second game, and if he pitches in anything like the form he showed against the Herron Hill bunch the locals will win in a walk.

HE IS MAKING GOOD

The management of the Wheeling Baseball club is looking ahead to the season of 1904, says the Wheling News. Young players of promise are being given a show on the tail-end of the present season, and when they demonstrate their ability, are being signed up so they can be reserved for the season of 1904. Miller and McNicol, both pitchers, have made good already and are assured of berths on next year's team. Last evening Pitcher Sweeney, of the Sistersvilles, came to town, and is being given a try-out in the morning practice of the Stogies today.

Wheeling followers of the game who saw Sweeney perform recently against the U. C. T. team believe he can go the Central League pace and then some. Another pitcher expected to report soon is J. C. Tannehill, who has been employed in a Steubenville factory for some time, and who writes Treasurer Irwin that he will be on hand. Tannehil is touted as a great pitcher, and Wheeling may have a great find in the cousin of the famous New York twirler.

BENEFIT GAME FOR CHARLES COLLEGE

Scheduled For This Afternoon at Wellsville, the Marines Being the Drawing Card.

A benefit game is to be played in Wellsville this afternoon by the Marines, of this city, and the first team of Wellsville. The receipts will go to Charles College, who was injured recently. Following is the lineup of the Marines: Cartwright, c; Shingler, p; Rowe, s; Chadwick, 1b; McNicol, 2b; Brown, 3b; McBane, lf; Mays, m; Wheeler, rf; McGee and Miller, subs.

Carroll Club vs. East End Grays.

The East End Grays and the Carroll club, playing a series of games for a prize of $50, will come together this afternoon for the second time at Columbian park. The lineups will be as follows: Carroll Club—O'Hanlon, c; Bailey, s; Callahan, p; McKeever, 1b; Hobbs, 2b; Godwin, 3b; Dougherty, lf; Gilgallon, m; Nagle, rf. East End Grays—T. Warm Game Promised.

A pretty game of ball will be played at Empire this afternoon. The second Y. M. C. A. team of this city will be up against the crack Empire bunch. The lineup of the local team will be as follows: Rigby, lf; Mumford, c; W. Powell, 1b; O. Powell, s; Carey, 2b; Pope, 3b; E. Powell, m; Bridge, rf; Welsh, p.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is now almost certain that Pittsburg and Boston will land the pennants in their respective leagues.

It is estimated that the New York Giants will play to more people this season than any team in the history of the game.

Frank B. Greer, of Boston, the national amateur championship rower, will meet C. S. Titus over the Killvon-Kull course at Staten island.

The Pittsburg horseman, Dave G. McDonald, has purchased the trotter Almerion 2:18¼ for $4,000. He is one of the best half-mile track trotters in Pennsylvania.

It is claimed that the talent has lost $15,000,000 at the Saratoga race meeting, the largest sum ever won by the bookies at any American race meet. John A. Drake has lost thousands.

MONEY AWAITS ECCENTRIC MAN

Salem, August 29.—Supt. M. M. Southworth, of the Fairmount Children's home, is at present engaged in making an ardent search for the person of one George W. Eulitt, who will be remembered by residents of Salem as an eccentric character about town, porter for the Broadway hotel and drummer for the once famous "Terrace Inn."

Eulitt is well known here and at Damascus and Alliance, where he had frequently worked. He was raised at Damascus, and spent the greater part of his youth in this vicinity. Just at present he is a much sought individual, and should he be located will probably find himself in comfortable circumstances for life, provided he is ready to accept the conditions and terms of the will of Ridgeway Carr, which has recently come to light, which names himself and his young son, Wallace Eulitt, now an inmate of the Fairmount Children's home, as beneficiaries. This explains the efforts of Supt. Southworth in locating Eulitt. The property, valued at about $3,000, was to go to the Eulitts, but was sold in settling up the estate.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

There are five smallpox patients in the Bellaire pest house.

A new rural route, starting from Hammondsville, is soon to be established.

The Wheeling Traction company expects to start work on its St. Clairsville extension this fall or early in the spring.

Mrs. Sarah M. Peppel, widow of Jacob Peppel, died at Leetonia at the age of 93 years. She was one of the eldest persons in Salem township.

The Wheeling Baseball association has been sued for $10,000 damages by Robert Crisswell, who was badly injured by falling from a scaffold at the grand stand, where he was working as a carpenter.

The grading for the roadbed of the Stark Electric Railroad company's line between Garfield and Beloit is being pushed rapidly by W. J. McGinty, who has the contract for the grading of the entire section between Sebring and Salem.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, adds her testimony to the hundreds of thousands on Mrs. Pinkham's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

STATE FAIR RACES

The average reader takes announcements of shows and fairs with the proverbial "grain of salt." Aside from the fact that the West Virginia State Fair, now in its twenty-third year, has been personally visited by nearly every adult in this community, all of whom can attest the truthfulness of representations by the management, the purses and prizes which are hung up indicate that the fair which opens at Wheeling on September 7 and continues all week is to be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

One department will serve to illustrate the point. Last year when it was announced that $5,950 would be given in purses for the races, there were those who predicted the bankruptcy of the association. It was found, however, that liberality brings fast steppers, and fast steppers bring the crowds, and that therefore the big purses paid. There was one race for a $1,000 purse. This year there are two $1,000 purses, and the aggregate money for the speed contests will be $6,850. The same liberal spirit will govern the expenditures in other departments.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1903, to amend section 16, of article II, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 16. Every bill shall be fully and distinctly read three different days, unless in case of urgency three-fourths of the house in which it shall be pending, shall dispense with the rule. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no law shall be revived, or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Every bill passed by both houses of the general assembly shall, before said bill can become law, be presented to the governor. If he approves he shall sign said bill and thereupon said bill shall be law. If he object he shall not sign and shall return said bill, together with his objections thereto in writing, to the house wherein said bill originated, which house shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members elect of that house vote to repass said bill it shall be sent, together with said objection, to the other house, which shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members-elect of that house vote to pass said bill it shall be law, otherwise it shall not be law. The votes for the repassage of said bill shall in each house respectively be no less than those given on the original passage. If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor is not signed and is not returned to the house wherein it originated and within ten days after being so presented, exclusive of Sunday and the day said bill was presented, said bill shall be law as in like manner as if signed, unless final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return, in which case shall be law, unless objected to by the governor and filed, together with his objection thereto in writing, by him in the office of the secretary of state within the prescribed ten days; and the secretary of state shall at once make public said fact and shall return said bill, together with said objection, upon the opening of the next following session of the general assembly, to the house wherein said bill originated, where it shall be treated in like manner as if returned within the prescribed ten days.

If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor contains two or more sections, or two or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of said sections or to one or more of said items of appropriation of money, and approve the other portion of said bill, in which case said approved portion may be signed and then shall be law; and such section or sections item or items of appropriation of money objected to shall be returned within the time and in the manner prescribed for, and shall be separately reconsidered as in the case of a whole bill; but if final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return the governor shall file said section or sections, item or items of appropriation of money, together with his objection thereto in writing, with the secretary of state as in the case of a whole bill, and the secretary of state shall then make public said fact, but shall not further act as in the case of a whole bill."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—yes;" and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—no."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

MUNICIPAL CLASSIFICATION.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the voters of the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend article 13, section 6, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

"Article 13, Section 6. The general assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of cities, incorporated villages and hamlets and restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent the abuse of such power; provided, that the general assembly may divide cities into not more nor less than three classes, and if such division is made the classification shall be as follows and not otherwise. All cities having a population of more than one hundred thousand shall be cities of the first class; all cities having a population of not more than one hundred thousand nor less than twenty-five thousand shall be cities of the second class; all others shall be cities of the third class."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, yes"; and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, no."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

TAXATION.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend section 2 of article XII, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 2. The general assembly shall provide for the raising of revenue for all state and local purposes in such manner as it shall deem proper. The subjects of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class, and shall be just to the subject taxed. Only burying grounds, public schoolhouses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property to an amount not exceeding in value two hundred dollars for each individual, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation; and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published, as may be directed by law.

At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment," "Yes;" and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment" "No."

REALM OF SPORTS

WAYNESBURG TEAM SORELY DISSAPPOINTED

Even before the rain of yesterday afternoon Manager Reark found it necessary to cancel the series of games with the Waynesburg team, owing to the muddy condition of the West End park. The Waynesburg players arrived in the city in time for the game scheduled for Thursday and have been quartered at the Lakel. They have been playing a fast article of ball and fans were sorely disappointed when it became apparent that old Jupiter Pluvius had got in his deadly work and prevented the contest.

Only an ordinary amount of rain is necessary to ood the field at the West End park, and the continuous performance in the wet goods line during the past few days has placed the diamond in a horrible condition. Considerable work will be necessary to counteract the work of the rain so that the opening games of next week will find the field in good condition.

As has been previously announced, the strong Niles team will be the attraction the first three days of next week. There have been but few changes in the lineup and the team is as strong as it was earlier in the season. Kommer, the twirler, who aroused the ire of the fans when Niles was here before, has been pitching good ball. He showed in the game here that he is a rank quitter when under the fire of the rooters, and it is needless to state that they will go after him in great shape when he essays to pitch. Glassburner, who played in left garden while the team was here, has also been doing consistent slab work. All the locals ask is another crack at the veteran Charley Crowe and they promise to pound out another victory. He was pie for "Big Heck," who had five safeties out of the six times he faced him.

Manager Reark has been looking up available talent to strengthen the locals, and asked the Vasbinders, who have been with the strong Salineville team, to come over and help him out. Jim Vasbinder, who played middle field for the coal diggers in that heart-stirring Saturday afternoon matinee at the West End park, is head and shoulders above most amateur players in this section. Until a dispute arose between him and the manager he was a member of the Minneapolis team of the American association and was making good. He is a good hitter, a star pitcher and can be counted on to help out with the stick. Al Vasbinder is also a fine player, and either one of these boys would strengthen the locals.

It is likely that the old reliable Morg Winters will be called upon to face the Niles bunch in the opener. Morg pitched the only winner the locals have been able to land from Niles this season and will come pretty near turning the trick again. Lawrence will follow him to the slab in the second game, and if he pitches in anything like the form he showed against the Herron Hill bunch the locals will win in a walk.

HANDLERS DEFEATED THE JIGGERMEN

Two Teams of Cartwright's Pottery Played a Great Game Yesterday.

The handlers and jiggermen at Cartwright's played a fast and very interesting game yesterday, the score being 8 to 7 in favor of the handlers. Both teams hit remarkably well and the errors were scarce. The score:

The management of the Wheeling Baseball club is looking ahead to the season of 1904, says the Wheling News. Young players of promise are being given a show on the tail-end of the present season, and when they demonstrate their ability, are being signed up so they can be reserved for the season of 1904. Miller and McNicol, both pitchers, have made good already and are assured of berths on next year's team. Last evening Pitcher Sweeney, of the Sistersvilles, came to town, and is being given a try-out in the morning practice of the Stogies today.

Wheeling followers of the game who saw Sweeney perform recently against the U. C. T. team believe he can go the Central League pace and then some. Another pitcher expected to report soon is J. C. Tannehill, who has been employed in a Steubenville factory for some time, and who writes Treasurer Irwin that he will be on hand. Tannehil is touted as a great pitcher, and Wheeling may have a great find in the cousin of the famous New York twirler.

BENEFIT GAME FOR CHARLES CULLEGE

A benefit game is to be played in Wellsville this afternoon by the Marines, of this city, and the first team of Wellsville. The receipts will go to Charles College, who was injured recently. Following is the lineup of the Marines: Cartwright, c; Shingler, p; Rowe, s; Chadwick, 1b; McNicol, 2b; Brown, 3b; McBane, lf; Mays, m; Wheeler, rf; McGee and Miller, subs.

Carroll Club vs. East End Grays.

The East End Grays and the Carroll club, playing a series of games for a prize of $50, will come together this afternoon for the second time at Columbian park. The lineups will be as follows: Carroll Club—O'Hanlon, c; Bailey, s; Callahan, p; McKeever, 1b; Hobbs, 2b; Godwin, 3b; Dougherty, lf; Gilgallon, m; Nagle, rf. East End Grays—T. Herbert, c; Meeks, s; Chambers, p; Walker, 1b; Owens, 2b; Allison, 3b; Denning-Phillips, lf; H. Herbert, m; Bolton, rf.

Warm Game Promised.

A pretty game of ball will be played at Empire this afternoon. The second Y. M. C. A. team of this city will be up against the crack Empire bunch. The lineup of the local team will be as follows: Rigby, lf; Mumford, c; W. Powell, 1b; O. Powell, s; Carey, 2b; Pope, 3b; E. Powell, m; Bridge, rf; Welsh, p.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is now almost certain that Pittsburg and Boston will land the pennants in their respective leagues.

It is estimated that the New York Giants will play to more people this season than any team in the history of the game.

The Pittsburg horseman, Dave G. McDonald, has purchased the trotter Almerion 2:18¼ for $4,000. He is one of the best half-mile track trotters in Pennsylvania.

It is claimed that the talent has lost $15,000,000 at the Saratoga race meeting, the largest sum ever won by the bookies at any American race meet. John A. Drake has lost thousands.

MONEY AWAITS ECCENTRIC MAN

Salem, August 29.—Supt. M. M. Southworth, of the Fairmount Children's home, is at present engaged in making an ardent search for the person of one George W. Eulitt, who will be remembered by residents of Salem as an eccentric character about town, porter for the Broadway hotel and drummer for the once famous "Terrace Inn."

Eulitt is well known here and at Damascus and Alliance, where he had frequently worked. He was raised at Damascus, and spent the greater part of his youth in this vicinity. Just at present he is a much sought individual, and should he be located will probably find himself in comfortable circumstances for life, provided he is ready to accept the conditions and terms of the will of Ridgeway Carr, which has recently come to light, which names himself and his young son, Wallace Eulitt, now an inmate of the Fairmount Children's home, as beneficiaries. This explains the efforts of Supt. Southworth in locating Eulitt. The property, valued at about $3,000, was to go to the Eulitts, but was sold in settling up the estate.

THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

A new rural route, starting from Hammondsville, is soon to be established.

The Wheeling Traction company expects to start work on its St. Clairsville extension this fall or early in the spring.

Mrs. Sarah M. Peppel, widow of Jacob Peppel, died at Leetonia at the age of 93 years. She was one of the eldest persons in Salem township.

The Wheeling Baseball association has been sued for $10,000 damages by Robert Crisswell, who was badly injured by falling from a scaffold at the grand stand, where he was working as a carpenter.

The grading for the roadbed of the Stark Electric Railroad company's line between Garfield and Beloit is being pushed rapidly by W. J. McGinty, who has the contract for the grading of the entire section between Sebring and Salem.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

STATE FAIR RACES

The average reader takes announcements of shows and fairs with the proverbial "grain of salt." Aside from the fact that the West Virginia State Fair, now in its twenty-third year, has been personally visited by nearly every adult in this community, all of whom can attest the truthfulness of representations by the management, the purses and prizes which are hung up indicate that the fair which opens at Wheeling on September 7 and continues all week is to be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

One department will serve to illustrate the point. Last year when it was announced that $5,950 would be given in purses for the races, there were those who predicted the bankruptcy of the association. It was found, however, that liberality brings fast steppers, and fast steppers bring the crowds, and that therefore the big purses paid. There was one race for a $1,000 purse. This year there are two $1,000 purses, and the aggregate money for the speed contests will be $6,850. The same liberal spirit will govern the expenditures in other departments.

Oil Gushers in Alaska.

Alliance, August 29.—(Special)—Word has been received in this city by those interested in the Alaska oil fields of the rich find of oil in an experimental well just put down within three miles of the territory in which Alliance parties are interested. A gusher was struck at the usual depth and three distinct oil pools were struck in three different strata of rock. Each pool gave promise of an enormous gush of oil.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1903, to amend section 16, of article II, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 16. Every bill shall be fully and distinctly read three different days, unless in case of urgency three-fourths of the house in which it shall be pending, shall dispense with the rule. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no law shall be revived, or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Every bill passed by both houses of the general assembly shall, before said bill can become law, be presented to the governor. If he approves he shall sign said bill and thereupon said bill shall be law. If he object he shall not sign and shall return said bill, together with his objections thereto in writing, to the house wherein said bill originated, which house shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members elect of that house vote to repass said bill it shall be sent, together with said objections, to the other house, which shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members-elect of that house vote to pass said bill it shall be law, otherwise it shall not be law. The votes for the repassage of said bill shall in each house respectively be no less than those given on the original passage. If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor is not signed and is not returned to the house wherein it originated and within ten days after being so presented, exclusive of Sunday and the day said bill was presented, said bill shall be law as in like manner as if signed, unless final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return, in which case shall be law, unless objected to by the governor and filed, together with his objection thereto in writing, by him in the office of the secretary of state within the prescribed ten days; and the secretary of state shall at once make public said fact and shall return said bill, together with said objection, upon the opening of the next following session of the general assembly, to the house wherein said bill originated, where it shall be treated in like manner as if returned within the prescribed ten days.

If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor contains two or more sections, or two or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of said sections or to one or more of said items of appropriation of money, and approve the other portion of said bill, in which case said approved portion may be signed and then shall be law; and such section or sections item or items of appropriation of money objected to shall be returned within the time and in the manner prescribed for, and shall be separately reconsidered as in the case of, a whole bill; but if final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return the governor shall file said section or sections, item or items of appropriation of money, together with his objection thereto in writing, with the secretary of state as in the case of a whole bill, and the secretary of state shall then make public said fact, but shall not further act as in the case of a whole bill."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—yes;" and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—no."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

MUNICIPAL CLASSIFICATION.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the voters of the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend article 13, section 6, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

"Article 13, Section 6. The general assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of cities, incorporated villages and hamlets and restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent the abuse of such power; provided, that the general assembly may divide cities into not more nor less than three classes, and if such division is made the classification shall be as follows and not otherwise. All cities having a population of more than one hundred thousand shall be cities of the first class; all cities having a population of not more than one hundred thousand nor less than twenty-five thousand shall be cities of the second class; all others shall be cities of the third class."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, yes"; and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, no."

SECTION 3. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1904.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

TAXATION.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend section 2 of article XII, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 2. The general assembly shall provide for the raising of revenue for all state and local purposes in such manner as it shall deem proper. The subjects of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class, and shall be just to the subject taxed. Only burying grounds, public schoolhouses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property to an amount not exceeding in value two hundred dollars for each individual, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation; and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published, as may be directed by law.

At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment," "Yes;" and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment" "No."

COUNTY LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: (Three-fifths of all the members elected to each house concurring therein), That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Ohio, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1903 to amend section 2, article 11, of the constitution of the state, so that it shall read as follows:

Section 2, Article 11.—Every county having a population equal to one-half of said ratio, shall be entitled to one representative; every county, containing said ratio, and three-fourths over, shall be entitled to two representatives; every county containing three times said ratio, shall be entitled to three representatives; and so on, requiring after the first two, an entire ratio for each additional representative. Provided, however, that each county shall have one representative.

Section 2. At said election the voters in favor of the adoption of the amendment to section 2, article 11, shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—Yes," and those who do not favor the adoption of said amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—No."

Secretary of State.

WHY SUFFER WITH CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE,

Dyspepsia, or Catarrh of Stomach. Severe and long standing cases absolutely cured by the new and successful treatment,

NAU'S DYSPEPSIA CURE.

"Have suffered for 12 years; tried 10 doctors and all kind of Medicines,—Nau's Dyspepsia Cure entirely cured me. I vomited my food, could not eat, had waterbrash, heartburn; catarrh of stomach; was disgusted with life and disappointed with the many cures, but, thanks to this great remedy which cures the cause, I am again well. GRAUSTARK

...By...

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do qualntance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the car stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

"You are mad, sir, to talk like this," protested the other despairingly. "Edelweiss swarms with Axphain soldiers; our own men are on the alert to win the great reward. You cannot go to the city. When a safe time comes, you will be taken from this place, into the mountains instead of through the city, and given escort to Dassas, 100 miles east. That step will not be taken until the way is perfectly clear. I tell you, sir, you cannot hope to escape if you leave the monastery now. The mountains are full of soldiers every night."

"I didn't say anything about an escape, did I? On the contrary, I want to give myself up to her. Then she can have Gabriel thrown over the castle wall and say to Bolaroz: 'Here is your man. I've gained the ten years of grace.' That's the point, Quinnox. Can't you see it? And I want to say to you now I'm going whether you consent or refuse. I'd just as soon be in jail down there as up here anyhow. The only favor I have to ask of you is that you do the best you can to get me safely to her. I must talk with her before I go back to the tower."

"God help me, sir, I cannot take you to her!" groaned Quinnox, trying to control his nervous apprehension. "I have sworn to her that I will keep you from all harm, and it would be to break faith with her if I led you into that mob down there."

"I respect your oath, my friend, but I am going, just the same. I'll see her, too, if I have to shoot every man who attempts to prevent me. I'm desperate, man, desperate! She's everything in the world to me, and I'll die before I'll see her suffer."

"Her suffering now is as nothing compared to what it will be if you go back to the tower. You forget how much pain she is enduring to avoid that very suffering. If you care for my mistress, sir, add no weight to the burden she already carries. Remain here, as she desires. You can be of no service down there. I implore you to be considerate."

It was an eloquent appeal, and it struck home. Lorry wavered, but his resolution would not weaken. He argued first with Quinnox, then with himself, finally returning to the reckless determination to brave all and save her from herself. The soldier begged him to listen to reason, implored him to reconsider, at last turning in anger upon the stubborn American with a torrent of maledictions. Lorry heard him through and quietly, unswervingly, announced that he was ready to leave the monastery at any time his guide cared to depart. Quinnox gave up in despair at this, gazing hopelessly at the man he had sworn to protect, who insisted on placing his head in the lion's jaw. He sat down at the window and murmured dejectedly:

"What will she say to me—what will she say to me?"

"I shall exonerate you, captain. She can have no fault to find with your action after I have told her how loyal you are and how—how—well, how unreasonable I am," said Lorry kindly.

"You may never live to tell her this, sir. Then what is to become of me? I could not look her in the face again. I could only die!"

"Don't be so faint hearted, Quinnox!" cried Lorry, stimulated by the desire to be with her, recognizing no obstacle that might thwart him in the effort. "We'll get through safe and sound, and we'll untangle a few complications before we reach the end of the book. Brace up, for heaven's sake, for mine, for hers, for your own. I must get to her before everything is lost. The fear that she may marry Gabriel will drive me mad if I am left here another night. Come! Let us prepare to start. We must notify the abbot that I am to go. I can be ready in five minutes. Ye gods, think of what she may be sacrificing for me!"

Lorry soon was attired in the guard's uniform he had worn from the tower a month before. His pistol was in his pocket, and the bunch of violets she had sent to him that very night was pinned defiantly above his heart. Quinnox smiled when he observed this bit of sentiment, and grimly informed him that he was committing an act prohibited in Dangloss' disciplinary rules. Officers on duty were not to wear nosegays.

"Dangloss will not see my violets. By the way, the moon shines brightly, doesn't it?"

"It is almost as light as day. Our trip is made extremely hazardous for that reason. I am sorely afraid, rash sir, that we cannot reach the castle unseen."

"We must go about it boldly; that's all."

"Has it occurred to you, sir, that you are placing me in a terrible position? What excuse can I have, a captain of the guard, for slinking about at night with a man whom I am supposed to be tracking to earth? Discovery will brand me as a traitor. I cannot deny the charge without exposing her royal highness."

Lorry turned cold. He had not thought of this alarming possibility. But his ready wit came again to his relief, and with bright, confident eyes he swept away the obstacle.

"If discovered, you are at once to proclaim me a prisoner, take the credit for having caught me and claim the reward."

"In that case you will not go to the castle, but to the tower."

"Not if you obey orders. The offer of reward says that I must be delivered to the undersigned. You will take me to her and not to the tower."

Quinnox smiled and threw up his hands as if unable to combat the quick logic of his companion. Together they made their way to the prior's cell, afterward to the abbot's apartment. It was barely 11 o'clock, and he had not retired. He questioned Quinnox closely, bade Lorry farewell and blessed him, sent his benediction to the princess and ordered them conducted to the gates.

Ten minutes later they stood outside the wall, the great gates having been closed sharply behind them. Above them hung the silvery moon, full and bright, throwing its refulgent splendor over the mountain top with all the brilliancy of day. Never before had Lorry seen the moon so accursedly bright.

"'Gad, it is like day," he exclaimed.

"As I told you, sir," agreed the other, reproof in his voice.

"We must wait until the moon goes down. It won't do to risk it now. Can we not go somewhere to keep warm for an hour or so?"

"There is a cave farther down the mountain. Shall we take the chance of reaching it?"

"By all means. I can't endure the cold after being cooped up for so long."

They followed the winding road for some distance down the mountain, coming at last to a point where a small path branched off. It was the path leading down the side of the steep overlooking the city, and upon that side no wagon road could be built. Seven thousand feet below stretched the sleeping, moonlit city. Standing out on the brow of the mountain, they seemed to be the only living objects in the world. There was no sign of life above, below or beside them.

"How long should we be in making the descent?" asked Lorry, a sort of terror possessing him as he looked from the dizzy height into the ghostlike dimness below.

"And how are we to get into the castle? I hadn't thought of that."

"There is a secret entrance," said Quinnox, maliciously enjoying the insistent one's acknowledgment of weakness. "If we reach it safely, I can take you under ground to the old dungeons beneath the castle. It may be some time before you can enter the halls above, for the secret passage is guarded jealously. There are but five people who know of its existence."

"Great confidence is placed in you, I see, and worthily, I am sure. How is it that you are trusted so implicitly?"

"I inherit the confidence. The captain of the guard is born to his position. My ancestors held the place before me, and not one betrayed the trust. The firstborn in the last ten generations has been the captain of the guard in the royal palace, possessing all its secrets. I shall be the first to betray the trust, and for a man who is nothing to me."

"I suppose you consider me selfish and vile for placing you in this position," said Lorry, somewhat contritely.

"No. I have begun the task, and I will complete it, come what may," answered the captain firmly. "You are the only being in the world for whom I would sacrifice my honor voluntarily save one."

"I have wondered why you were never tempted to turn traitor to the princess and claim the fortune that is represented in the reward."

"Not for 5,000,000 gavvos, sir!"

"By George, you are a faithful lot—Dangloss, Allode and Ogbot and yourself, four honest men to whom she trusts her life, her honor! You belong to a rare species, and I am proud to know you."

The stealthy couple found the cave and spent an hour or more within its walls, sallying forth after the tardy darkness had crept down over the mountain and into the peaceful valley. Then began the tortuous descent. Quinnox in the lead, they walked, crawled and ran down the narrow path, bruised, scratched and aching by the time they reached the topmost of the summer houses along the face of the mountain. After this walking was easier, but stealthiness made their progress slow. Frequently as they neared the base they were obliged to dodge behind houses or to drop into the ditches by the roadside in order to avoid patrolling police guards or Axphain sleuthhounds.

At last, stiff and sore, they stole into the narrow streets of Edelweiss. Lorry glanced back and shivered, although the air was warm and balmy. He had truly been out of the world. Not until this instant did he fully appreciate the dread that possesses a man who is being hunted down by tireless foes. Never did man's heart go out in gratitude and trustfulness as did his toward the strong defender whose sinewy arm he clasped as if in terror.

"You understand what this means to me," said Quinnox gravely as they paused to rest. "She will call me your murderer and curse me for my miserable treason. I am the first to dishonor the name of Quinnox."

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physicial cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

This is East Liverpool Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other state in the union to prove it. It's not a long story published in East Liverpool newspapers about a resident in Kalamazoo, Mich., or Temple, Fla. It's about a resident of East Liverpool and given in East Liverpool's own words. No stronger proof can be had.

Mr. Robert M. Newell, carpenter, of West Fifth street, says: "If everyone receives the same results as I from the course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills my advice is, go to Larkins' drug store, procure about a box, take them according to directions and the results will inevitably follow. One box effected a cure in my case, the particulars of which I will only be too pleased to give to anyone personally calling upon me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—The bodies of the three young women who were drowned in Girty's run have been recovered. The accident was a most pathetic one. The girls were returning from a party in the country and were in a buggy. The road skirting the run had been undermined by the stream and it gave way. Four girls were in the buggy, but one of them was rescued by two young men who accompanied the girls. The dead are Myrtle and Nannie Scott, aged 20 and 18 years, of Evergreen, and Annie Cloffart, aged about 20, of Oak station.

No Trouble With Indians.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 29.—Major Scott, acting Indian agent, who reached Walker, wires that there has been no trouble with the Indians and that none is expected. Two or three vagabond Indians, one of whom was thrown into jail for selling liquor, have been trying to make trouble, but the remainder are attending to their pursuits as usual. The story of a prospective uprising is laid to the complaints made by a few and to the activity of an imaginative correspondent.

Found Dying from Bullet Wound.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 29.—John Kostich, whose parents, said to be of noble blood, were murdered recently in Austria, was found near Centerville almost dead from a bullet in the breast. The police are undecided as to whether Kostich attempted to commit suicide or was shot by others.

WHISKEY AND BEER HABIT

PERMANENTLY CURED BY "ORRINE"

Physicians and scientists throughout the world have long since pronounced drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Systems vary as to the kind of drink that will satisfy this craving—some want whiskey, others beer, wine, kimmel, etc., the use of which will eventually result in ruining the health and bringing on disease, in many cases ending in death.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor, restores the organs of the stomach to their natural condition and improves the appetite and digestion. It contains no injurious drugs of any description. "ORRINE" can be given without the patient's knowledge, if desired, in tea, coffee, water or milk. It requires no office or sanitarium treatment, but can be taken at home. We will refund the money if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by 4 boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."

The price of "ORRINE" is $1 per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper, by ORRINE Co., 817 14th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (sealed) free on request. Sold and recommended by

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the flier stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

"You are mad, sir, to talk like this," protested the other despairingly. "Edelweiss swarms with Axphain soldiers; our own men are on the alert to win the great reward. You cannot go to the city. When a safe time comes, you will be taken from this place, into the mountains instead of through the city, and given escort to Dassas, 100 miles east. That step will not be taken until the way is perfectly clear. I tell you, sir, you cannot hope to escape if you leave the monastery now. The mountains are full of soldiers every night."

"I didn't say anything about an escape, did I? On the contrary, I want to give myself up to her. Then she can have Gabriel thrown over the castle wall and say to Bolaroz: 'Here is your man. I've gained the ten years of grace.' That's the point, Quinnox. Can't you see it? And I want to say to you now I'm going whether you consent or refuse. I'd just as soon be in jail down there as up here anyhow. The only favor I have to ask of you is that you do the best you can to get me safely to her. I must talk with her before I go back to the tower."

"God help me, sir, I cannot take you to her!" groaned Quinnox, trying to control his nervous apprehension. "I have sworn to her that I will keep you from all harm, and it would be to break faith with her if I led you into that mob down there."

"I respect your oath, my friend, but I am going, just the same. I'll see her, too, if I have to shoot every man who attempts to prevent me. I'm desperate, man, desperate! She's everything in the world to me, and I'll die before I'll see her suffer."

"Her suffering now is as nothing compared to what it will be if you go back to the tower. You forget how much pain she is enduring to avoid that very suffering. If you care for my mistress, sir, add no weight to the burden she already carries. Remain here, as she desires. You can be of no service down there. I implore you to be considerate."

It was an eloquent appeal, and it struck home. Lorry wavered, but his resolution would not weaken. He argued first with Quinnox, then with himself, finally returning to the reckless determination to brave all and save her from herself. The soldier begged him to listen to reason, implored him to reconsider, at last turning in anger upon the stubborn American with a torrent of maledictions. Lorry heard him through and quietly, unswervingly, announced that he was ready to leave the monastery at any time his guide cared to depart. Quinnox gave up in despair at this gazing hopelessly at the man he had sworn to protect, who insisted on placing his head in the lion's jaw. He sat down at the window and murmured dejectedly:

"What will she say to me—what will she say to me?"

"I shall exonerate you, captain. She can have no fault to find with your action after I have told her how loyal you are and how—how—well, how unreasonable I am," said Lorry kindly.

"You may never live to tell her this, sir. Then what is to become of me? I could not look her in the face again. I could only die!"

"Don't be so faint hearted, Quinnox!" cried Lorry, stimulated by the desire to be with her, recognizing no obstacle that might thwart him in the effort. "We'll get through safe and sound, and we'll untangle a few complications before we reach the end of the book. Brace up, for heaven's sake, for mine, for hers, for your own. I must get to her before everything is lost. The fear that she may marry Gabriel will drive me mad if I am left here another night. Come! Let us prepare to start. We must notify the abbot that I am to go. I can be ready in five minutes. Ye gods, think of what she may be sacrificing for me!"

Lorry soon was attired in the guard's uniform he had worn from the tower a month before. His pistol was in his pocket, and the bunch of violets she had sent to him that very night was pinned defiantly above his heart. Quinnox smiled when he observed this bit of sentiment, and grimly informed him that he was committing an act prohibited in Dangloss' disciplinary rules. Officers on duty were not to wear nosegays.

"Dangloss will not see my violets. By the way, the moon shines brightly, doesn't it?"

"It is almost as light as day. Our trip is made extremely hazardous for that reason. I am sorely afraid, rash sir, that we cannot reach the castle unseen."

"We must go about it boldly; that's all."

"Has it occurred to you, sir, that you are placing me in a terrible position? What excuse can I have, a captain of the guard, for slinking about at night with a man whom I am supposed to be tracking to earth? Discovery will brand me as a traitor. I cannot deny the charge without exposing her royal highness."

Lorry turned cold. He had not thought of this alarming possibility. But his ready wit came again to his relief, and with bright, confident eyes he swept away the obstacle.

"If discovered, you are at once to proclaim me a prisoner, take the credit for having caught me and claim the reward."

"In that case you will not go to the castle, but to the tower."

"Not if you obey orders. The offer of reward says that I must be delivered to the undersigned. You will take me to her and not to the tower."

Quinnox smiled and threw up his hands as if unable to combat the quick logic of his companion. Together they made their way to the prior's cell, afterward to the abbot's apartment. It was barely 11 o'clock, and he had not retired. He questioned Quinnox closely, bade Lorry farewell and blessed him, sent his benediction to the princess and ordered them conducted to the gates.

Ten minutes later they stood outside the wall, the great gates having been closed sharply behind them. Above them hung the silvery moon, full and bright, throwing its refulgent splendor over the mountain top with all the brilliancy of day. Never before had Lorry seen the moon so accursedly bright.

"'Gad, it is like day," he exclaimed.

"As I told you, sir," agreed the other, reproof in his voice.

"We must wait until the moon goes down. It won't do to risk it now. Can we not go somewhere to keep warm for an hour or so?"

"There is a cave farther down the mountain. Shall we take the chance of reaching it?"

"By all means. I can't endure the cold after being cooped up for so long."

They followed the winding road for some distance down the mountain, coming at last to a point where a small path branched off. It was the path leading down the side of the steep overlooking the city, and upon that side no wagon road could be built. Seven thousand feet below stretched the sleeping, moonlit city. Standing out on the brow of the mountain, they seemed to be the only living objects in the world. There was no sign of life above, below or beside them.

"How long should we be in making the descent?" asked Lorry, a sort of terror possessing him as he looked from the dizzy height into the ghostlike dimness below.

"There is a secret entrance," said Quinnox, maliciously enjoying the insistent one's acknowledgment of weakness. "If we reach it safely, I can take you under ground to the old dungeons beneath the castle. It may be some time before you can enter the halls above, for the secret passage is guarded jealously. There are but five people who know of its existence."

"Great confidence is placed in you, I see, and worthily, I am sure. How is it that you are trusted so implicitly?"

"I inherit the confidence. The captain of the guard is born to his position. My ancestors held the place before me, and not one betrayed the trust. The firstborn in the last ten generations has been the captain of the guard in the royal palace, possessing all its secrets. I shall be the first to betray the trust, and for a man who is nothing to me."

"I suppose you consider me selfish and vile for placing you in this position," said Lorry, somewhat contritely.

"No. I have begun the task, and I will complete it, come what may," answered the captain firmly. "You are the only being in the world for whom I would sacrifice my honor voluntarily save one."

"I have wondered why you were never tempted to turn traitor to the princess and claim the fortune that is represented in the reward."

"Not for 5,000,000 gavvos, sir!"

"By George, you are a faithful lot—Dangloss, Allode and Ogbot and yourself, four honest men to whom she trusts her life, her honor! You belong to a rare species, and I am proud to know you."

The stealthy couple found the cave and spent an hour or more within its walls, sallying forth after the tardy darkness had crept down over the mountain and into the peaceful valley. Then began the tortuous descent. Quinnox in the lead, they walked, crawled and ran down the narrow path, bruised, scratched and aching by the time they reached the topmost of the summer houses along the face of the mountain. After this walking was easier, but stealthiness made their progress slow. Frequently as they neared the base they were obliged to dodge behind houses or to drop into the ditches by the roadside in order to avoid patrolling police guards or Axphain sleuthhounds.

At last, stiff and sore, they stole into the narrow streets of Edelweiss. Lorry glanced back and shivered, although the air was warm and balmy. He had truly been out of the world. Not until this instant did he fully appreciate the dread that possesses a man who is being hunted down by tireless foes. Never did man's heart go out in gratitude and trustfulness as did his toward the strong defender whose sinewy arm he clasped as if in terror.

"You understand what this means to me," said Quinnox gravely as they paused to rest. "She will call me your murderer and curse me for my miserable treason. I am the first to dishonor the name of Quinnox."

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physicial cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

This is East Liverpool Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other state in the union to prove it. It's not a long story published in East Liverpool newspapers about a resident in Kalamazoo, Mich., or Temple, Fla. It's about a resident of East Liverpool and given in East Liverpool's own words. No stronger proof can be had.

Mr. Robert M. Newell, carpenter, of West Fifth street, says: "If everyone receives the same results as I from the course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills my advice is, go to Larkins' drug store, procure about a box, take them according to directions and the results will inevitably follow. One box effected a cure in my case, the particulars of which I will only be too pleased to give to anyone personally calling upon me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—The bodies of the three young women who were drowned in Girty's run have been recovered. The accident was a most pathetic one. The girls were returning from a party in the country and were in a buggy. The road skirting the run had been undermined by the stream and it gave way. Four girls were in the buggy, but one of them was rescued by two young men who accompanied the girls. The dead are Myrtle and Nannie Scott, aged 20 and 18 years, of Evergreen, and Annie Cloffart, aged about 20, of Oak station.

No Trouble With Indians.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 29.—Major Scott, acting Indian agent, who reached Walker, wires that there has been no trouble with the Indians and that none is expected. Two or three vagabond Indians, one of whom was thrown into jail for selling liquor, have been trying to make trouble, but the remainder are attending to their pursuits as usual. The story of a prospective uprising is laid to the complaints made by a few and to the activity of an imaginative correspondent.

Found Dying from Bullet Wound.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 29.—John Kostich, whose parents, said to be of noble blood, were murdered recently in Austria, was found near Centerville almost dead from a bullet in the breast. The police are undecided as to whether Kostich attempted to commit suicide or was shot by others.

PERMANENTLY CURED BY

"ORRINE"

Physicians and scientists throughout the world have long since pronounced drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Systems vary as to the kind of drink that will satisfy this craving—some want whiskey, others beer, wine, kimmel, etc., the use of which will eventually result in ruining the health and bringing on disease, in many cases ending in death.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor, restores the organs of the stomach to their natural condition and improves the appetite and digestion. It contains no injurious drugs of any description. "ORRINE" can be given without the patient's knowledge, if desired, in tea, coffee, water or milk. It requires no office or sanitarium treatment, but can be taken at home. We will refund the money if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by 4 boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."

The price of "ORRINE" is $1 per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper, by ORRINE CO., 817 14th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (sealed) free on request. Sold and recommended by

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

No Action Taken—The Y. M. C. A. directors at a meeting last evening discussed the question of a new secretary and a new physical director, but no action was taken.

Horses at Auction—An auction sale of horses was held yesterday at the stable of John Rinehart. The horses were brought here by Walding Bros., of New York, and 26 were sold.

The Mayor Going Abroad—Mayor Weaver has announced his intention of taking a month's vacation, commencing September 29, on which date he will sail aboard the palatial steamer, Wilhelm der Grosse, for Leipsic. He will be accompanied by his accomplished daughter, Miss Goldie, who will remain in Leipsic for the winter, attending a musical conservatory. Miss Weaver is very talented in music and will be given an extensive course in school abroad.

Two Drunks Arrested—Two arrests were made by the police last night. Tim O'Donnell was found by Officer Woods on the green of Col. Hill. He was drunk and fast asleep. He acknowledged his guilt this morning and was fined $2 and costs. Having no money, he was allowed to leave for Beaver Falls, where he said he had work. W. N. Bell was arrested by Officers McDermott and Saulsberry for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined the customary amount.

NEW OFFICERS FOR THE INSTITUTE

Leetonia, August 29.—(Special.)—The Columbiana County Teachers' institute, which has been in session here since Monday, closed its sessions yesterday, and most of the visitors departed during the forenoon and immediately after dinner. The final session was not largely attended owing to the visitors leaving.

New officers were elected for the county yesterday as follows: Prof. W. L. McDonald, of Wellsville, president; Theodore Kellogg, of Salineville, vice president; Miss Elma Rauch, of Leetonia, secretary; member of the executive commitee for three years, Prof. Oliver, of the East Palestine schools.

It was decided to hold the next year's institute at Rogers, beginning September 23. The number of visitors to the institute registered here was 201.

No hill to climb. One half square east of Walnut street on Minerva. Terms—$500 down and balance $25 monthly.

Other properties we would note as follows as being on sale with us (particulars furnished upon inquiry). Ten room brick house, lot 33x133, Sixth street, $5,200; new ten room house, lot 40x100, Ogden street, $2,500; six room modern house, Spring street, $2,900; four rooms, water and gas, lot 30x100 Minerva street, $1,850; ten room modern double house near Second street, $3,000; four rooms, new, just completed, McKinnon addition, $1,200; three rooms and small lot, Cadmus street, $700; two rooms and large lot Gardendale, $400; four rooms, lot 30x100, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, $1,450; six rooms, new, Sheridan avenue, $2,750; five rooms, pantry, lot 30x100, Bradshaw avenue, $1,850; six rooms, furnace, gas, lot 30x100, Eighth street, $2,400; four rooms, just new, Oakland addition, $1,200; four rooms, new, Maple street, East End, $1,250; four rooms, Ohio avenue, East End, $1,750; seven rooms and five rooms on Third street, $5,500; seven rooms on Pine street, $2,500.

Restaurant and dwelling of 12 rooms furnished in part. Well suited and located for a boarding or mealing house. See us for terms and price.

We have 25 times as many more properties. Call and see us about any or all of them. We will sell on terms to suit your income. Why pay rent when you can own a home? Don't you know that by paying a dollar on each $100 you owe will wipe out the debt and interest in ten years? For instance, fifteen dollars paid monthly for ten years will pay off a $1,500 debt and interest. It's not how much money one spends but how one spends it that makes one's financial weal or woe.

SOCIAL EVENTS

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

Entertained And Heard an Interesting Report from Miss Alice B. Smith.

The missionary societies of the First and Second Presbyterian churches enjoyed a profitable and pleasureable meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. E. D. Moore on Pennsylvania avenue. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Alice B. Smith, who is a guest of Mrs. Moore and daughters. Miss Smith was formerly a resident of Lisbon and after graduating at the University of Wooster, became engaged in her chosen profession as a teacher and since then has been a member of the faculty of the normal and collegiate institute at Asheville. She has acquired a broad and thorough education and is a very interesting conversationalist.

The company last evening became deeply interested in the talk which Miss Smith gave on the missionary work which is being accomplished in the industrial schools of the southern mountain districts. It is probable that this meeting will aid largely in enlivening the missionary work, and also that the missionary societies of the Presbyterian churches will support Miss Smith in the work which she is admirably accomplishing.

The Moore residence was decorated in an appropriate manner with nasturtiums and Japanese lanterns. It was unanimously agreed that the evening spent was most enjoyable.

OLD FASHIONED PARTY

The old fashioned house party given by Miss Hattie McGlennon at her home in the old Kountz homestead, between this city and Wellsville last evening, was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

The spacious grounds and large old fashioned veranda were hung with Japanese lanterns and festoons of crepe, pink and green being the prevailing colors and the whole presenting a most enhancing effect. Old fashioned games were played, among them being a quadrille on the large veranda, the music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bane. Both vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Howard Osborn and Misses Marie Bills, Etta Hales, Bess Webber and Kate Stamm, making the evening one of rare enjoyment and ne'er to be forgotten. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the happy throng left on the last car, voting Miss McGlennon a most charming hostess.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE

Will Again Organize and Prepare for a Busy Season in Literary Circles.

The Chautauqua Circle of this city which last year closed after accomplishing much profitable literary work, will again organize probably the latter part of September or the first of October, the date being yet undecided. It is the purpose of the circle to meet every other Friday evening during the coming winter and study the different English and American authors.

The following literary books will be read by the society: "Literary Leaders of America"; "Provincial Types in American Fiction"; "Evolution of Industrial Society" and "Geographic Influences in American History." The following will be the authors studied during the coming months: October—Irving, Cooper and Poe; November—Hawthorne and Emerson; December—Bryant and Longfellow; January—Holmes and Whittier; February—Lowell and Whitman; March—Lanier and later writers.

New books will be taken up during the months of April, May and June.

In connection with these authors and their works the society will read "the Chautauquan," a magazine for supplementary reading. During the coming year the meetings will be held at the homes of the members. It is probable that a preliminary meeting may be called next week for the purpose of reorganizing.

Auxiliary Meeting.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet next Tuesday, for the first meeting of the new term. At the closing meeting of this organization it was decided to meet for the opening of a new year of work on the first Tuesday in September, and it is probable that further arrangements for "The Breach of Promise" play will be made at this meeting.

W. R. C. Meeting.

A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. will be held on next Friday afternoon. The regular business of the organization will receive attention.

SAMUEL YEAGER AGAIN PLACED BEHIND BARS

Samuel Yeager, the Irondale man lately charged with a revolting crime, is again in the Jefferson county jail, having been captured in Wellsville. Yeager was indicted with his son for a crime on his daughter and at the trial the son was acquitted. The trial of the old man did not take place and he was released on a bond of $100, signed by Harry O. Phillips. Wednesday Mr. Phillips wrote Prosecutor Alban the following: "Please have Samuel Yeager, who was indicted at the March term of court last, re-arrested, as I understand he is about to leave the state, and as I am security on his bond, I do not wish him to go out of either the county or state so that I may not be able to furnish him to you at the next term of court of common pleas of Jefferson county."

A warrant for the re-arrest of Yeager was given Sheriff Gilson and he traced Yeager to Wellsville, where he arrested him and took him to jail. Yeager, of course, denies that he was going to leave the state, and said he was only working at Wellsville. Yeager is the prisoner who spent hours every day praying and reading the bible. He professes to be a front row Christian as long as he is in jail. He has already started to pray for his release.

HOME AFFAIRS

No Action Taken—The Y. M. C. A. directors at a meeting last evening discussed the question of a new secretary and a new physical director, but no action was taken.

Horses at Auction—An auction sale of horses was held yesterday at the stable of John Rinehart. The horses were brought here by Walding Bros., of New York, and 26 were sold.

The Mayor Going Abroad—Mayor Weaver has announced his intention of taking a month's vacation, commencing September 29, on which date he will sail aboard the palatial steamer, Wilhelm der Grosse, for Leipsic. He will be accompanied by his accomplished daughter, Miss Goldie, who will remain in Leipsic for the winter, attending a musical conservatory. Miss Weaver is very talented in music and will be given an extensive course in school abroad.

Two Drunks Arrested—Two arrests were made by the police last night. Tim O'Donnell was found by Officer Woods on the green of Col. Hill. He was drunk and fast asleep. He acknowledged his guilt this morning and was fined $2 and costs. Having no money, he was allowed to leave for Beaver Falls, where he said he had work. W. N. Bell was arrested by Officers McDermott and Saulsberry for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined the customary amount.

NEW OFFICERS FOR THE INSTITUTE

Leetonia, August 29.—(Special.)—The Columbiana County Teachers' institute, which has been in session here since Monday, closed its sessions yesterday, and most of the visitors departed during the forenoon and immediately after dinner. The final session was not largely attended owing to the visitors leaving.

New officers were elected for the county yesterday as follows: Prof. W. L. McDonald, of Wellsville, president; Theodore Kellogg, of Salineville, vice president; Miss Elma Rauch, of Leetonia, secretary; member of the executive commitee for three years, Prof. Oliver, of the East Palestine schools.

It was decided to hold the next year's institute at Rogers, beginning September 23. The number of visitors to the institute registered here was 201.

Bright Spick Span New Dwellings.

$2500 Six rooms, slate roof, front and rear portico, cellar, gas, electric light wiring, sanitary plumbing, bath, hot and cold water, golden oak grain throughout, just finished and within five minutes walk of the Diamond, on Minerva street. No hill to climb. Terms—$500 down, balance $20 monthly.

Other properties we would note as follows as being on sale with us (particulars furnished upon inquiry). Ten room brick house, lot 33x133, Sixth street, $5,200; new ten room house, lot 40x100, Ogden street, $2,500; six room modern house, Spring street, $2,900; four rooms, water and gas, lot 30x100 Minerva street, $1,850; ten room modern double house near Second street, $3,000; four rooms, new, just completed, McKinnon addition, $1,200; three rooms and small lot, Cadmus street, $700; two rooms and large lot Gardendale, $400; four rooms, lot 30x100, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, $1,450; six rooms, new, Sheridan avenue, $2,750; five rooms, pantry, lot 30x100, Bradshaw avenue, $1,850; six rooms, furnace, gas, lot 30x100, Eighth street, $2,400; four rooms, just new, Oakland addition, $1,200; four rooms, new, Maple street, East End, $1,250; four rooms, Ohio avenue, East End, $1,750; seven rooms and five rooms on Third street, $5,500; seven rooms on Pine street, $2,500.

Restaurant and dwelling of 12 rooms furnished in part. Well suited and located for a boarding or mealing house. See us for terms and price.

We have 25 times as many more properties. Call and see us about any or all of them. We will sell on terms to suit your income. Why pay rent when you can own a home? Don't you know that by paying a dollar on each $100 you owe will wipe out the debt and interest in ten years? For instance, fifteen dollars paid monthly for ten years will pay off a $1,500 debt and interest. It's not how much money one spends but how one spends it that makes one's financial weal or woe.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

Entertained And Heard an Interesting Report from Miss Alice B. Smith.

The missionary societies of the First and Second Presbyterian churches enjoyed a profitable and pleasureable meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. E. D. Moore on Pennsylvania avenue. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Alice B. Smith, who is a guest of Mrs. Moore and daughters. Miss Smith was formerly a resident of Lisbon and after graduating at the University of Wooster, became engaged in her chosen profession as a teacher and since then has been a member of the faculty of the normal and collegiate institute at Asheville. She has acquired a broad and thorough education and is a very interesting conversationalist.

The company last evening became deeply interested in the talk which Miss Smith gave on the missionary work which is being accomplished in the industrial schools of the southern mountain districts. It is probable that this meeting will aid largely in enlivening the missionary work, and also that the missionary societies of the Presbyterian churches will support Miss Smith in the work which she is admirably accomplishing.

The Moore residence was decorated in an appropriate manner with nasturtiums and Japanese lanterns. It was unanimously agreed that the evening spent was most enjoyable.

OLD FASHIONED PARTY

The old fashioned house party given by Miss Hattie McGlennon at her home in the old Kountz homestead, between this city and Wellsville last evening, was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

The spacious grounds and large old fashioned veranda were hung with Japanese lanterns and festoons of crepe, pink and green being the prevailing colors and the whole presenting a most enhancing effect. Old fashioned games were played, among them being a quadrille on the large veranda, the music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bane. Both vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Howard Osborn and Misses Marie Bills, Etta Hales, Bess Webber and Kate Stamm, making the evening one of rare enjoyment and ne'er to be forgotten. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the happy throng left on the last car, voting Miss McGlennon a most charming hostess.

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

President Horwell, of council, issued a call this afternoon to the members of that body requesting them to be present at a special meeting to be held this evening for the purpose of taking action on the gas problem. The Citizens' Gas association was also invited to attend. The sale of the $92,925 worth of bonds will be considered at the meeting.

It is now apparent that the gas corporation does not propose to grant the citizens the courtesy of a hearing in regard to its unjust demands for an increase in the gas rates, and it is likely some other action will be taken by the citizens' committee. Auditor Davidson addressed a carefully prepared letter to the company last Tuesday, and to the present has received no reply. The communication requested a conference with the officials loking to a modification of the demands, but it is thought the representatives of the corporation propose to ignore the consumers and their wishes.

When the council and citizens' committee met at the city hall last Monday, it was thought the objections to the increase might be wiped out through a conference with the company's officers, and with this object in view the auditor was goven the instructions to communicate with them. Prompt action will now be necessary in order to accomplish anything before the end of the month. The gas company has sent out its statements for the August supply, and in every case the charge is fixed at the increased rate. Indignation is expressed upon every hand, and the citizens who have been presented with bills are up in arms at what they term the high handed system of robbery perpetrated by the gas corporation.

Since the citizens' representatives have been ignored it is probable some other plan of action will be adopted to prevent the company from accomplishing its purpose. The constitutionality of the council's ordinance will be tested at once, and the best legal talent obtainable has advised that all bills, if paid at all, be paid under protest pending an opinion from the court.

Members of the committee are not discouraged at the outlook and are more determined than ever to bring the company to time. As matters now stand, the men interested assert it is simply a question of whether the gas corporation is bigger than the city of East Liverpool, the trades council and several thousand citizens. They propose to find a solution for the question if it is possible to do so.

A FINE OF $50 WAS IMPOSED

WARFARE TO BE KEPT UP

That Mayor Weaver is determined to abolish disorderly houses of the city was evidenced yesterday afternoon, when he imposed a fine of $50 and costs on Henry Barthel, a Second street saloonist, who pleaded guilty to renting room for immoral purposes. The fine was the stiffest handed down by a mayor in years, and Mayor Weaver thinks it is the only plan by which his avowed determination can be carried out.

It was in a room belonging to Barthel & Grueber that a young man and woman were caught by Chief Wyman and Officer McDermott on Thursday afternoon. The mayor knew he had a well defined case against Barthel and was prepared for action. Barthel, accompanied by an attorney, appeared at the chief executive's office with the intention of putting up a fight on the ground that the rooms are rented to lodgers, the same as in hotels. The mayor told the defendant's attorney that he would carry the case up to a higher court where the minimum fine is $100 if he so desired, but the attorney concluded to enter a plea of guilty.

Louis Grueber, a partner of Barthel, will be arrested either this evening or Monday on a charge of assault preferred against him by Mrs. Clementina Heins, who alleges that Grueber struck her when she saw him allowing a couple to go into the rooms.

So enraged is Grueber over the action of Mrs. Heines that he went to a local justice yesterday afternoon and had a writ of forcible detention issued and the paper was served on Mrs. Heins last evening. Being unaccustomed to law, Mrs. Heins was very much frightened when the constable appeared with the paper and after he left she went immediately to the mayor's office where she asked for advice. She was told that she could not be removed until her month was up and she intends to stay that long. While there she will keep a strict lookout for any unlawful acts and will report them in detail.

The Sea Was Altogether too Uneasy to Make the Sport Practicable.

Sandy Hook, August 29.—(Special.)—Owing to the high wind and heavy seas the third of the series of international yacht races has been postponed. This announcement was made just before the hour for the yachts to start, when it was apparent that the frail boats would experience great danger in trying to weather the rough sea.

There was a fierce gale from the southeast yesterday and the sea rolled so heavily that neither boat left its moorings. The wind changed to the northwest, making a very nasty sea, and it was decided by the committee to call the race off if the wind reached a speed of 20 knots an hour. The gale this morning was even more severe than yesterday and was also from the northwest.

While Sir Thomas Lipton has evidently given up all hope of winning the cup he was in a happier frame of mind today. The statement that this will be his last try is not believed among yachtsmen.

Probate Matters.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Henry Weible has been appointed guardian of Harry, Charles and William Schiffbauer, minor sons of the late Harvey Schiffbauer, of Liverpool township. Bond, $1,600.

Pearl A. Martin has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Milton A. Martin, of Liverpool township. Bond, $2,000. There will be no appraisement, there being no personal property.

Lisbon Grocers' Picnic.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—The Lisbon grocers' picnic at Avon park, between Niles and Youngstown, yesterday, was a successful affair and there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of the day. Many of the excursionists went on to Youngstown, where Barnum & Bailey's show exhibited yesterday.

Goes to an Illinois Church.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Rev. William G. Martin, pastor of the U. P. church at Grove City, Pa., for eight years, is visiting his brother, Judge J. A. Martin, in Lisbon. He is on his way to Aledo, Mercer county, Ill., having accepted a call to the pastorate there.

FREIGHT WRECK BLOCKED TRACK AT WATERFORD

New Waterford, August 29.—(Special)—A lucky freight wreck occurred just around the bend east of this village Thursday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. A truck on a car of a west bound freight broke, throwing off two cars. The train broke at that point and the remainder was pulled up to the station before the engineer realized the facts. The north track for nearly an eighth of a mile was badly wrecked, as a result of the broken down car being dragged over the track. It took two wrecking crews and about 50 section men until 3 o'clock Friday morning to put the road in a passable condition. One track was cleared in about three hours.

The train wah following No. 31, and No. 6 had just passed the unfortunate freight when the accident occurred. No one was hurt and no one to blame for the accident. It was a pure and simple accident.

BOARD OF SERVICE HEARD COMPLAINTS

WAS MUCH DISCUSSION

There was very little doing at the meeting of the board of public service last evening, Mr. Smith being away from the city. It was expected that definite action would be taken on the instruction of council that the board demand of Hanager Healy that he extend the Northside line, but the question was deferred, the board being of the opinion that it should be guided by the city solicitor in any action.

The board was also instructed by council to attend to the people on Pleasant street, who have been complaining for weeks about the condition of their sidewalks and other pavements. It was decided to grant the wish of the people at the earliest possible moment. Residents of Bradshaw avenue are complaining also about their sidewalks. They say that they have been washed away by the recent rains and want the board to supply them with saggers or other material just as good for a walk.

The pay roll of the board of service official department was introduced and of course was passed without hesitation. Those to receive money through it are the city engineer, water works superintendent, street commissioner, clerk of the board and members of the street commission.

A number of complaints were received and ordered filed from people who object to the sewers in certain parts of the city. There was nothing done to bring about the repairs very soon, but they will be looked after in due time.

Considerable discussion ensued when Henry Prangley, of Avondale street, announced that he would like to have the beautiful tree standing in front of his home cut down. While the members talked of the act tears were quite visible and they unanimously decided to let the old land mark stand.

CALEB POWERS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Kentucky's Ex-Secretary of State Condemned to Die As An Assassin.

Georgetown, Ky., August 29.—(Special)—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers was found guilty this morning, and was sentenced to be hanged.

Two Drunks Taken In.

Jack McLaughlin and an unknown Italian were arrested this afternoon on Second street by Officer McDermott. Both men were beastly drunk and gave the officer considerable trouble before they were landed in the city jail. McLaughlin commenced to rant and tear around in the cell and it was feared that he would hurt himself. He was completely crazed.

Receiving the sad intelligence yesterday afternoon that his father in England is very sick and not expected to live, Joe Davis, employed at the K., T. & K. pottery, left the city last evening for New York, where he will sail at the first opportunity.

SHE HAD NOT LEFT TOWN

Determined to thwart every conceivable plan attempted by her parents to prevent it, Miss Anna, the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin, very highly respected residents of Thompson Hill, means at all hazards to wed "Cap" Pusey, son of Mrs. Nellie Pusey, Fourth street, also a well and favorably known resident. To bring about the marriage the young couple have resorted to many plans and it is feared the mother of the girl will suffer nervous prostration. She as well as Mr. McLaughlin are almost distracted.

The disappearance of Miss McLaughlin from her home on last Thursday afternoon brought the story. When she failed to return home Thursday evening for supper her parents became somewhat alarmed and when she did not put in an appearance at bed time they were greatly agitated. No search was made for her during the evening, that is, to any great extent, but when her absence was continued until yesterday morning the parents of the girl searched every portion of the city in which they thought she might be. No trace of her could be found.

A short time before supper last evening word reached the ears of Mr. McLaughlin that his daughter had left the city on the 4 o'clock train for Pittsburg and that she had been seen bidding her lover goodbye. Being informed that young Pusey did not accompany her, Mr. McLaughlin thought to intercept him by going to Pittsburg and locating his daughter. He went on the next train and upon his arrival went to central station with his story. Two detectives were assigned to aid him and they thought they traced her to Rochester, thence to Pittsburg. The distracted father asked the chief at Pittsburg to telephone to this city and find whether or not Pusey left the city last night. Chief Wyman then made a search and not only learned that Pusey was still in the city, but that the girl was also and that she had never been away.

After learning the whereabouts of Miss McLaughlin, Chief Wyman decided to return her to her home. He found her at the home of a prominent family on Second street, where she was on both Thursday and Friday nights. She did not protest against being taken, and her mother was overjoyed. While en route to her home the girl told Chief Wyman that she would marry Pusey and that she would do so this afternoon.

Mr. McLaughlin will return on the 4 o'clock train this afternoon from Pittsburg.

The Youngstown & Southern Pushing On Into Columbiana County.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A large force of men and mule teams with grading outfits passed through Columbiana on their way to a point north of that village to commence grading. Similar work is now in progress between North Lima and Columbiana, three or four miles north of the latter village, indicating that 12 or 13 miles of the route have been graded.

In grading for its new four-track system on the Ft. Wayne railroad the Pennsylvania company will in a few days commence work on a heavy cut at Columbiana and a corresponding fill will come at a point where the Youngstown & Southern is to pass under the steam railroad. It is reported that the officials of the companies are arranging to cooperate in effecting a saving of expenses in digging and filling at that point.

Bill of Exceptions Filed.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A bill of exceptions was filed in court here this afternoon in the case of Jerry Creedon et al versus May McKay et al, of East Liverpool, in which the alleged will of Mary Creedon, deceased, was set aside by a jury some time ago.

MORE THAN A HUNDRED DEFECTS IN SIDEWALK

Already Discovered By Investigators, And Returns Are Not All In.

City Engineer Kelly and Street Commissioner Dickey reported to the board of public service last evening that they are working as fast as possible in the inspection of the sidewalks of the city. It will be remembered that they were ordered a short time ago to make a thorough examination, the intention of the board being to have every walk in the city repaired, and the ordinance being that every property holder having a sidewalk needing repair must be notified by writing, the examination was ordered.

The sidewalks of more than 100 people have already been found imperfect, covering a distance of 4,500 feet. The cost of repairing them will aggregate $4,000. President Taylor ordered the two officials to continue their work and make a complete report at an early meeting.

ALL ANXIOUS FOR A SAEL

The finance committee of council is certainly embarrassed in its attempt to dispose of the $92,925 worth of bonds, issued some time ago. Communication is being solicited by the members of the committee with the bond buyers, but it seems that there are none anxious for the big purchase. As a result the committee is in desperate straits.

An offer was received last evening from Attorney Gaston, of Cleveland, which seems rather low, but the councilmen are in such a condition that they confidently believe the offer must be accepted. The proposition of Mr. Gaston is that he will provide a buyer at par if council will give him $175 for his portion of the work. In consideration of the fact that council cannot even get any bidders the councilmen feel that they will make money by disposing of them according to Gaston's proposition.

As stated previously in the News Review every day the bonds are held the city has piling up against it interest amounting to $6.35 per day, and council is now making a strenuous effort to cut that off. Firmly believing that they could get several hundred dollars premium for the bonds, the members turned down the bid of Hayes & Son, who offered them $10 premium. They now feel that they made a grievous error and would like to make amends, but are in a position where they cannot. One member of the body is yet of the opinion that some plan can be worked whereby a reasonable price could be received, but he, like all the rest, seems to realize that at the rate of $6 per day it will not take long fo eat up anything that could be obtained as a premium for the bonds.

At the special meeting of council tonight the offer of Attorney Gaston will be fully considered and will likely be accepted.

Iowa Magistrate Finds Boyhood Sweetheart And Will Wed Her.

Columbus, August 29.—(Special.)—More than 50 years ago Albert W. Livingstone and Sarah S. Leake were sweethearts in Columbus. They they drifted apart and for half a century saw nothing of each other. Now they are married.

Albert W. Livingstone, 79 years of age, yesterday secured a license to wed Sarah S. Leake, 73 years of age. The prospective bridegroom hails from Stewart, Ia., where he is justice of the peace.

Fifty years ago the couple were sweethearts in this city. Some misunderstanding led to a lovers' quarrel and they drifted apart. Both married and in time were freed again by the death of their life partners. A few months ago Livingstone came to this city on a visit, saw Mrs. Leake and the love affair of their youth was renewed with the result that last evening the aged couple were wedded.

PREPARATION FOR OPENING THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

Republican Executive Committee Will Meet Next Wednesday to Decide Date and Place.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 29.—A call has been issued for meetings of the Republican state executive and state central committees in this city next Wednesday morning at 10:30 to fix the time and place for the campaign opening and also to nominate a candidate for the short term for member of the state board of public works to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board. The Democratic convention failed to nominate a candidate for this office. Several cities are applicants for the opening—Canton, Marion, the home of Hon. Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, and Warren. Harding is working to secure the opening for his home city. He is a good stump speaker and will do much work in the campaign.

The Republicans believe it will only be a question of the size of the plurality this fall and various estimates are being made as to the proportions it will reach. The most conservative think the Republicans will win by something between 75,000 and 100,000 plurality, and others predict it will be beyond the latter figure. The ticket named by the Democracy suits the Republicans admirably. So heterogenous is its personnel and so far away is the platform on which the ticket stands from what has been the accepted tenets of the followers of Jefferson and Jackson since the party's inception that it is to be expected that many of the old time members of the party will refuse to sanction either at the polls this fall.

Republicans look for a big disaffection in the ranks of the Democracy. It is a case of too much Johnson, and loyal sound money Democrats will be chary about subscribing to the isms and fads of the Cleveland manipulator. General Dick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, says that, in view of the work of the Democratic convention, there is really no need of the Republicans having any campaign at all, but that as a matter of form, as it were, one will be gone through.

Governor Nash again gives expression to his belief that the code provides a good form of government and says that councils are to blame for the increases in the expenses of cities under it. "I cannot say I think that the board system is not all right, for I am of the opinion that it is," said he. "I believe from what I have heard throughout the state, that the new code is a good thing in all particulars. I was always against the one-man power, for it

LEN EELLS WOUNDED WELLSVILLE'S POLICE HEAD.

Chief of Police John Houser, of Wellsville, had a narrow escape from death last evening. Len Eells, a well-known character, tried to kill him, and succeeded in giving him an ugly wound in the arm.

Eells had been arrested for drunkenness; along with Joseph McKee. Officer Morrissey accompanied the chief. The prisoners were quietly walking along the street when Eells jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at the chief. The bullet, one of heavy calibre, passed through the chief's right arm and was lost. For a second the officer was staggered, but he is a plucky fellow and hastily drawing his revolver sent shot after shot in the direction of the fleeing Eells, who had disappeared in the tall weeds at the roadside. Officer Morrissey did likewise, informing McKee he would kill him if he moved. McKee did not move, and the officers made a hurried search for Eells, but he was gone, probably to the woods. The chief was found to be painfully, but not seriously wounded.

No word has yet been received of Eells. A party of men went out from this city last evening in search of him. They went as far as Lisbon, but found no trace of him. Sheriff Leonard has been out since 8 o'clock last evening in search of him, but he has likewise been unsuccessful in locating the scoundrel. It is thought here that he has not reached Pennsylvania and that he will not be caught for two or three days at the least.

Chief Houser passed a very restless night, his wound causing him intense pain. The wound has been dressed two or three times by the attending physician, Dr. B. R. Parke. He states that the wound will heal in a short time and is anticipating no bad results.

Leonard Eells has a reputation at Lisbon as a bad character. He has been in the workhouse a number of times for abusing his wife, but the most serious trouble he ever figured in prior to last night was when he wounded an antagonist with a hatchet two years ago. He was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but was let off with a light sentence when he consented to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

RIVER CAME UP WITH A RUSH

COAL FLEETS ON THE MOVE

As a result of the recent heavy rains the Ohio river has reached a stage of 13 feet at this point and navigation by both packet and tow boats has been resumed. The rise was one of the most rapid in many months, averaging yesterday eight inches an hour. While it was unexpected until yesterday morning, the rivermen were not caught unawares and all day yesterday the coal companies had men at work in the pools around Pittsburg preparing for the start of the coal fleet to the south.

All the packets are coming out, but it will be several days before the schedule can be regularly filled on the upper rivers. Captain Gus Martindill, of the local wharfboat, had not received word from the packets at a late hour this afternoon. It is possible that the Ben Hur may reach here tomorrow.

The Pittsburg coal fleet commenced to pass this city at noon, the Volunteer leading, followed closely by the Sam Brown. The boat owners and number of pieces in the tows are:

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, Boaz, James Moren, Iron Age, Sam Clark and Coal City, 22 barges each; Sam Brown, Tom Rees, Ed Roberts, Joe Walton, Ironsides, Cruiser, Enterprise, John Moren, Fallie, Dave Wood and J. C. Risher, 17 barges each. C. Jutte Coal company will send out two tows with the steamers Crescent and G. W. Thomas, the tows being made up according to the height of the water. The Budd Coal company will send out seven boats and five barges with the Frank Gilmore, and the W. F. Flint will take out a tow belonging to the Flint and Clyde Coal companies.

The Mariner, Jim Wood and Tom Dodsworth are hurrying in and may be able to get away with tows. All the steamers which have been tied up along the banks have had crews sent to them, and they will hurry in, bringing many empties, which are much needed at the mines.

Twins Were Born—Twin babies, a boy and a girl, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cline, of Oak street. The little girl lived but a few hours.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON POTTERY NEWS.

Trenton, N. J., August 29.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding that the sanitary manufacturers and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters have completed their conferences there still remains much to be done. At the conference a uniform price list was adopted for packers and saggermakers. Vice President Hutchins and John A. Campbell, general manager of the Trenton Potteries company, and who was the chairman of the manufacturers' committee, are at present at work compiling the list. Each will submit his version of the prices introduced in the new list and a conference of these two gentlemen will be held within the next two weeks in order to compare their work. The new conditions which were adopted at the conference will become operative in every sanitary pottery in the United States the second week in September.

Vice President Hutchins, speaking in reference to the conference, said: "The conclusions reached at the conference have a vital interest to the sanitary trade and they have been unanimously approved by the manufacturers. We have secured a uniform price list for packers and saggermakers; a basis for kiln work and a set of rules governing the employment of apprentice kilnmen, similar to those contained in the uniform price list of the general ware trade."

Since the conference the potters have devoted their attention to politics, which seems to be the all-absorbing topic. The clay workers are figuring prominently in the contests on both sides, and it is likely that the crockery trade will be well represented among the men who go to make up the municipal government.

John Brian, one of the owners of the Elite pottery and former manager of the Keystone pottery, is seeking a renomination for common council from the Eighth ward on the Republican ticket. Mr. Brian will have for his running mate Lewis Ellis, the candidate for freeholder, who is also a clay worker. John O. Gratton is another representative of the pottery industry who is trying for councilmanic honors on the Republican ticket. Louis J. Deihl, the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Seventh ward, is one of the proprietors of the Elite pottery. Patrick Collins, a kilnman at the Anchor pottery, is the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Eighth ward. Thomas Colclough, who is after a renomination on the Republican side for assembly, is a sanitary presser and is employed at Thomas Maddock & Sons.

THE BUFFALO PLANT.

Buffalo, August 29.—The Buffalo Pottery company, owned and operated by the Larkins soap people, will commence operating its new plant here October 1. The plant is acknowledged to be the finest in the east and in it such ware as can be used as premiums by the Larkins soap people will be manufactured. The equipment is not excelled in the United States. One item worthy of not is that every department requiring power will be operated by electricity.

The sagger makers and clay makers started to work on the 20th of this month and all will be in readiness to start in full on the date mentioned above. The four bisque kilns have been finished but the glost kilns are not quite ready for use.

The kiln sheds are said to be the most convenient in the country and as this opinion has been expressed by a practical potter, it can be taken as true. The warehouse and decorating department occupy a three-story brick structure and are most conveniently arranged, so that the ware can be transported from one department to another with very little labor. The clay department occupies a two-story building and is equipped with the latest patterns of jiggers. The mould makers, who have been at work for several months, have on hand a large number of the moulds for the different shapes and are ready for the start.

From what can be gathered at this point a line of general ware will be made and what is not used as premiums by the soap people will be offered to the general trade.

The capacity of the new plant is nine kilns, five glost and four bisque and several hundred men will be employed.

THE WEATHER.

The fine tankard jug, from the K., T. & K. pottery, which is to be presented on Labor Day to President Roosevelt by the local branch of the National Letter Carriers' association, has been on exhibition for the past few days in a show window of Pattison's jewelry store, in the Diamond, where it has been admired by many hundreds of people. That the tankard is one of the finest pieces of art work turned out in the city is admitted by all who have seen it and those interested in the reputation of East Liverpool as a producer of fine ware need have no fear that the tankard will arouse anything but enthusiasm among those who are not acquainted with the potting industry of this city. A better selection could not have been made to call the attention of the president to the fact that East Liverpool is not only the producer of large quantities of ware, but ware of the first quality.

W. M. Carey, who has been selected as a delegate to the convention of the National Association, will take the tankard with him today, when he leaves for Syracuse, N. Y., the convention city. The gift will not be presented, however, until the parade on Labor Day.

MINERVA NOTES.

George Hand, of East Liverpool, has accepted a position as sagger maker.

J. R. Scott has accepted a position in Carrollton as finisher.

DUFFY WILL SPEAK.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has accepted the invitation of the Trades and Labor Assembly of Barberton, to deliver the principal address at the Labor day celebration to be held in that city. This is an honor worthily bestowed and is appreciated by President Duffy and the unionists of this city. From all indications the celebration will be the largest in the history of Barberton, which will be attended by many from surrounding towns.

POTTERY NOTES.

Alex Needham and John Smith, employed recently at Lisbon, have returned to this city and are working at Thompson's.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Zicle, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Charles Engelke, editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

John A. Pheips of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, and two of his friends, etc. etc.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Send for pamphlet. ROCK RUN COMPANY DRILLING AT MOSCOW

Owing to a mishap the well of the Rock Run Oil & Gas company, an East End corporation, now being drilled on the company's property in the Moscow field, will not be in at the time expected. The hole has been sunk to a depth of about 800 feet, and it was expected to reach the pay sand Monday, but the drillers lost their tools in the hole and have been working to recover them.

The company has excellent prospects to strike a paying well, as the field has turned out some good producers. The stockholders are hoping the bad luck that attended their initial effort in the Knoxville field will not be repeated. It will be remembered that their well there proved to be a duster, although in the midst of good producers.

The stockholders decided at that time to abandon the Knoxville field and develop the Moscow property. This determination was not made public and this is the first announcement that the new well is being drilled.

BRIDGE BADLY DAMACED IN YESTERDAY'S STORM

Many people have visited the Virginia avenue bridge over Lake Run which was so badly damaged as the result of the terrific rain yesterday afternoon. This stream at this point proved too narrow to carry the volume of water and the water spread over quite a large area. The bridge, which is built diagonally arcoss the street, is almost entirely ruined its entire length and the foundations and approaches were undermined until they caved in. Private property abutting on the street near the bridge was damaged to some extent.

The rain also wrought considerable damage along the track of the East Liverpool railway. Several fills will be necessary between Thompson's pottery and Mulberry street. At the end of the line a small section of the track was washed out. The county road near the state line is reported to be in an impassable condition, owing to the great amount of earth that was washed down upon it.

Col. Dixon Rode the Goat.

Buckeye Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held an interesting meeting last night, at which the goat was brought out for the initiation of Col. Sam Dixon into the mysteries of the order. The animal, realizing that it had a distinguished subject with which to deal, performed to the entire satisfaction of all present. Several applications for membership were favorably received.

Lecture Announced.

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. Dr. J. S. Secrest, of Bridgeport, will lecture at the Erie street M. E. church on next Tuesday evening. Dr. Secrest is district president of the Epworth League, an able scholar and an eloquent talker. Announcement of his topic will be made later.

A Barrel of Fine Apples.

J. L. Fulton received a barrel of fine apples yesterday from the farm of his father, D. S. Fulton, of Washington county. He has been handing a few of them out to his friends, who pronounce them the finest of the season. The apples are of two varieties, Summer Pippins and Maiden Blush.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Blanche Morris, of Pennsylvania avenue, East End, entertained her friends at a theatre party last evening at Rock Springs park. After the performance the party went to the dining hall, where a dainty lunch was served.

Mrs. Byers Improving.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Dr. M. W. Taylor went to Darlington this afternoon to remain over Sunday with his parents.

C. J. Mensch, of Allegheny, who has been visiting W. C. Supplee and family, returned to his home yesterday.

J. F. Smith, the barber, leaves tomorrow for Cambridge Springs, where he will spend a few days for the benefit of his health.

Thomas Wellman, a member of the Ormes brothers' band, who made the trip to Salem yesterday, reports a fine time in spite of the heavy rain.

Dr. Hendershot and his brother, Tom Hendershot, came in late last night from a squirrel hunt out in the woods around Sprucevale. It rained so hard during the day that they could not have seen a squirrel had there been any around.

Amos Jones, the man who had his leg broken about three months ago while at work on the railroad grade up Beaver creek, is just getting able to use his injured limb. He was a visitor to the East End this morning, from his home near Smith's Ferry, for the first time since the accident.

Heavy

Dull Feeling After Dinner.

Tortures of Death From Headache.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills Relieve and Cure.

"Nearly every day I suffered from severe attacks of headache. They usually began with a heavy, dull feeling soon after dinner. During these spells my head felt as though there was a tight bandage around it, my temples throbbed, I became sick at my stomach, and suffered almost the tortures of death. For two years past I have been taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and have found sure and immediate relief always. By taking one in time the headache is preventedevery time." —MRS. M. E. NOBLE, Garfield, Wash.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are all right. I can recommend them very highly to anyone who needs a remedy for headache, neuralgia, or pain of any kind. My health is not very good, and I am subject to frequent attacks of severe headache, but since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I do not suffer from them as I used to. They never fail to give relief in a few minutes, and if taken promptly upon the approach of a headache will prevent an attack from coming on."—MRS. WM. PEDRICK, Gloversville, N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Pain Pills grow in favor with me every day; for, whereas, I used to have sick headache once a week, sure, can say that I do not have it any more at all. I never had anything cure me of sick headache before."—CLAUDE TUCKER, Wallace, N. Y.

THE WILDS OF STARK

Canton, August 29.—John Eckert, of the Hirscheimer store, and Edward Morrow, of Court and Seventh streets, encountered an opossum on the street near the postoffice, while going to their homes. While the two were walking along together one of them thought he noticed a strange-looking cat, but when it came closer Eckert discovered that it was an opossum and gave it a kick. After Eckert kicked it he was greatly surprised to see three opossums instead of one.

The one he had kicked acted as if dead. It proved to be a mother opossum, which was carrying two of her offspring. The little ones, about the size of a large rat, were thrown upon the old one, and she soon took them and started to run. She was given another kick and landed in the cellar window of the postoffice in Eighth street. The opossums were removed and given to a colored man who works nearby.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

"As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents.

"I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health.

"I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."---PROF. L. J. MILLER.

"Builds up the System."

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system.

Joseph Ridgeway.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes:

"I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to."

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna.

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

For twenty five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. This remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. The news that Vice Consul Magelssen was not slain or even injured, though shot at by a would-be assassin, will be hailed with joy in this country. But it will cause no one to take back any harsh words he may have uttered about the sultan or the Turkish government in general. Neither will the sailing orders to American warships be withdrawn. An American squadron can do no harm in Turkish waters and may be sadly needed there. The fact that there are Turkish subjects who would be glad to murder an American representative shows the temper of the people and augurs ill for the safety of Americans and American interests during the present troubles. Admiral Cotton and some of his fleet will be suffered to proceed to the Orient and watch proceedings there.

Gas bills, with 25 per cent added, look rather inconsequential in a not month like August. Consumers should pause and think what the bills will look like in December and January and move and act accordingly. The raise in gas rates is declared illegal by excellent legal authority. This being the case East Liverpool citizens need to arouse themselves and prepare to hit the octopus squarely between the eyes. Patient toleration of a public outrage is not to be thought of. Now is the time for the Anti-Grab association to get busy.

The anti-imperialists among the Democrats do not like the appointment of General Luke E. Wright to succeed Judge Taft as the head of the Philippine commission. General Wright is and always has been a Democrat, but he never sympathized with the cowardly spirit that urges Uncle Sam to haul down the flag and abandon the islands. He is one of those who recognize that the United States has a duty and an obligation to the Filipinos, and that it can not be ignored without dishonor.

According to Corporal Tanner, all that the Democratic party will nominate a ticket for in 1904 is to keep up its organization. It looks that way. No Democrat of any sense believes that his party will win next year, but many Democrats look for their party to win some time. Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast.

The News Review was the only East Liverpool paper to present the petitions filed by the city of Salem in its suit against the Columbiana County Telephone company and the only local paper to mention this important matter, which is of interest to the whole county.

It will be interesting to know if John H. Clarke will publicly apologize to Ohio Democrats for bolting the nomination of Bryan in 1896. Bryan is withholding his opinion of the senatorial aspirant until he finds out.

The street department should take immediate steps to repair storm damage before damage suits result. There are unpaved streets in which holes were washed that are exceedingly dangerous.

It is said that Tom Johnson's policy is to rule or ruin. Looks as if he were in a fair way to do both to the Democratic party in Ohio.

Sir Thomas Lipton reluctantly admits that the Americans have the best boat. And he might add with truth, the best men to run it.

OBITUARY

Mrs. G. W. Allison.

Mrs. G. W. Allison died at her home on Nottingham avenue at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an extended illness. The funeral services will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Allison was the wife of G. W. Allison, a well known grocer, and was one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the city. While her death was not unexpected, it came as a severe blow to the members of the family and a large circle of relatives and friends.

The Pittsburg Post, a Democratic paper, if there is one in existence, says editorially: "The Democratic state convention of Ohio gave a certain assent to the principle of the initiative and referendum in certain matters of legislation and law-making. It is applied specifically to all municipal legislation 'renewing, extending or modifying franchises,' requiring that they shall not be operative until confirmed by a majority vote of the people, with the 'prohibition of perpetual franchises altogether.' We believe these two declarations, and especially the latter, meet with the general approval of thoughtful citizens. But the Ohio convention went further, and pledged itself to the 'general principle of the initiative and referendum in all other matters of legislation.' This is an experiment of very doubtful merit. In fact, we doubt if it would be generally applied even if incorporated in our system of government. We have an illustration of this in Oregon, which has adopted the referendum in its entirety.

"In some other states it has been applied in modified form, but in Oregon the whole doctrine has been accepted by constitutional amendment. By this amendment, recently adopted, new legislation does not become operative until ninety days have elapsed after its approval by the governor. These ninety days give the objectors to certain legislation their opportunity. During that time 5 per cent of the voters by signing a petition can compel the submission of any act to which they object to the people voting at a special election, and only when indorsed by a majority of them does it go into effect.

"The Oregon legislature this year passed the usual number of laws, subject to the usual possibility of being submitted to the arbitrament of the ballot, but thus far, though some acts have awakened hostility, the necessary 5 per cent of the voters have not petitioned for a reference. Some of the labor unions tried to get a vote on the question of making an appropriation of $500,000 to the Lewis & Clark Exposition company, but only 3,900 signatures could be obtained for the petition for a reference, which is 400 less than the required 5 per cent of the voters.

"This shows the practicability of making the referendum of little effect in defeating laws passed by the legislature, although the principle may hold good. The provisions are rare, it is manifest, when it will be a curb on unpopular and indefensible legislation. The guards and restrictions on law-making by constitutional provisions are so effective and sweeping that the referendum would not be likely to be called into use, as it has been refused in Oregon. Another strong objection is that its adoption would abridge the responsibility of legislators, and impair the efficiency and independence of representatives of the people. It is a sentimental notion that will be of little practical value."

THE REALLY HUMOROUS FEATURE OF IT ALL

The really humorous feature of Mr. Johnson's convention Wednesday was the indorsement of John H. Clarke for the United States senate. Mr. Huntington's plea for Lentz and a united Democracy was funny, and so was the nomination of Mr. Monnett. But Mr. Clarke's indorsement far surpasses both.

In 1896 Mr. Clarke was the busiest gold Democrat in Ohio. He presided over the convention of anti-Bryan Democrats in this city, and his speech on that occasion, a sounding plea for honest money and a bitter arraignment of Bryan and Bryanism, attracted favorable comment throughout the country. He gloried in the fact that he bolted the Bryan ticket.

The statement of Johnson that Clarke was converted to the free silver theory in 1900 is simply fake, says the Ohio State Journal. Clarke did vote for Bryan three years ago, but he made it plain that he did it solely on the expansion issue and under strong protest.

Clarke for many years has been one of the leading corporation attorneys of Ohio. On all questions involving the interests of the people or the corporations, he has sided with the latter. In the Columbus auditorium a year ago he declared that Mayor Johnson, who occupied the platform with him, had spoken falsely and like a demagogue when he alleged that a certain railroad company represented by Clarke did not pay its share of taxes.

Such is the man whom Bryan's personal representative in Ohio has crammed down the throat of a free silver convention. It looks as if Johnson, foreseeing the outcome of this campaign, were paying Clark back for what Clarke said about him last year.

Whatever Johnson's motives were, it may be set down as certain that he and Clarke will not discuss railroad taxation, "the paramount issue," from the same stump this fall. Or if they do they will answer each other.

All Bids Were Finally Rejected and New Ones Will Be Advertised For.

An adjourned meeting of the board of public service was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the board on Main street. The meeting was held especially for the purpose of opening bids on the new tool house which is to be located in the West End. No bids were received, however, and nothing could be done in this matter. It seems that all carpenter contractors are too busy at the present time to bid on such a small contract at a price anywhere near reasonable, and the tool house matter will have to be readvertised at a more dull season of the year when more carpenter contractors are able to take up the matter.

Other unfinished business of the meeting last Tuesday morning was taken up. The matter of letting the contract for the construction of a new sewer was taken up. It was found that it would require $2,575 to have this work done, and as there is only $2,000 in that fund, the contract could not be let, as the statute states very plainly that the money must be in the treasury before the contract can be let.

A lengthy communication was read to the board by the clerk, from City Solicitor Charles Boyd. The communication was sent upon the request of the board at its last meeting for a legal opinion of the legality of Contractor Freshwater's bid on the paving of Lisbon road. The contractor had claimed that the board and the city engineer in particular had treated him unfairly in the matter of plans and specifications for bidding. The communication stated that all contractors should be treated fairly. It also criticized the form of all proposals on paving bids and stated that there was room for improvement.

Attorney W. F. Lones, who was present, representing Contractor Freshwater in the matter of the two bids on the paving of Lisebon road and Steubenville street, stated to the board in behalf of Mr. Freshwater that when they bid on the Lisbon road paving their intentions were that the amount $1.32 for the paving complete include the broken stone edger which is rated at 14 cents per cubic foot in a separate item in the bid. Mr. Lones further stated that the bid of A. B. Clark, who had bid to do the work at $1.30 complete, on the same contract, was not legal as the items of labor and material had not been properly separated in that bid.

Mr. Clark, who was present when Mr. Lones made this statement, stated to the board that when he put in his bid, it was with all intentions of fairness. He said: "If you include the broken stone edges in Mr. Freshwater's bid of $1.32, then you must also include the sewer pipe in the same amount."

W. C. Stewart, the president of the board, said that in his opinion all of the bids on this contract ought to be rejected and new bids advertised for. Mr. Bowers, another member of the board, sided with Mr. Stewart in the matter. They both laid the blame for the trouble to City Engineer Leith, who failed to file the plans for this contract at the board of service office. Mr. Lones at this point suggested that Mr. Freshwater be allowed to change his bid by erasing the item of 14 cents for the edger, but this was not allowed, as the board held that if one contractor was given this privilege they all ought to be given the same right. The matter was finally decided by a motion by Herbert that all bids on the Lisbon road paving be rejected and the certified checks of $500 each be returned to the contractors. The motion was seconded by Bowers and passed.

The board wrangled for some time over the letting of the contract for the paving of Steubenville street. The same difficulty existed in the bids on this contract and President Stewart made a motion to reject these bids and readvertise, but for some unknown reason he could not get a second to the motion and the matter was allowed to hang fire.

Mr. Bowers moved that the clerk of the board be instructed to readvertise for bids on the Lisbon road improvement, for a period of two weeks. Herbert seconded this motion, but when put to a vote, President Stewart voted nay and afterwards explained that there had been nothing included in the motion to compel the city engineer to file the plans for this contract at the office of the board. The motion held good, however. A few other matters were disposed of after which the board adjourned.

In Running Order Again.

Supt. Ewing, of the Wellsville water works, has reported the arrival of the new piston rod from the Worthington company, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The new rod was placed in position this morning at the pumping station and the old broken rod was taken out. The plant has now been placed in first-class running order again, and there is a plentiful supply of water.

MANY COMPLAINTS

During the course of the meeting of the board of public service yesterday a number of complaints were received from different parts of the city regarding the poor condition of certain sewers where the storm water of the heavy storm yesterday was doing damage to personal property.

A taxpayer owning property on Steubenville street stated that the cellar in his house had become flooded and that the same conditions existed at the houses of many of his neighbors, all on account of the lack of a good sewer. The Bunting run sewer was the main cause of the damage. Nothing could be done to relieve the situation by the board. No one could be employed to attend to the matter, as the road fund of the city is already overdrawn.

Complaints were also received from residents at the intersection of Main and Ninth streets, where the storm sewer was overtaxed during the storm and the cellars and first floors of two houses were flooded. No action was taken by the board on any of these complaints.

HORSE AND CROCKERY WENT OVER THE BANK

A one-horse wagon heavily laden with crockery ware tumbled over a steep embankment in Jethro yesterday afternoon, dragging the horse and driver with it. The driver escaped injury, but the animal may die from the effects of the hurts received in the fall.

Benjamin Sanford is a crockery dealer in a small way and yesterday had prepared his wagon for a trip to the country. The owner resides below the bridge in Jethro and on account of the steep hill there it is a difficult task to haul even an empty wagon to the top of the bank.

Sanford's horse is aged and not over strong, and when the outfit was near the home of Joe Bratt he stalled. The load was so heavy that it was impossible for the horse to hold it and the whole outfit backed over the bank. Sanford jumped to avoid being crushed and the horse, becoming entangled in the harness, was caught in the fall and held a prisoner for some time.

It was found impossible to get the horse back onto the road, and when he was released from the harness, the owner, with the assistance of several others, rolled him over a high stone wall. The fall nearly killed the aged animal, but he was finally dragged to his feet and taken to the barn nearly dead.

The crockery ware was a total wreck and the wagon was badly demolished. The loss to Sanford will be considerable.

But For Timely Assistance Mrs. Homer McLane Might Have Been Killed.

Mrs. Homer McLane was attacked by a cow on Carolina avenue yesterday afternoon and had it not been for the prompt action of Watchman George Prosser, of the tin mill, she might have been killed.

Mrs. McLane had left her home in the mill addition to do some shopping on Carolina avenue, and while returning to her home was met on the street by a cow belonging to Samuel Martin. The animal was half starved, and had been roaming about the town all day. Mrs. McLane noticed that the cow was acting strangely, but paid little attention to it until she was convinced that she was being pursued. The animal ran Mrs. McLane up the street to the intersection of Sixth street, where she was about to climb over a fence to escape, when George Prosser, watchman at the mill, appeared on the scene and succeeded in subduing the infuriated beast. Mrs. McLane was taken to her home in a state of nervous collapse, and is very ill today. The residents of the vicinity say the cow is a dangerous animal and steps will be taken to either keep her up or put her out of the way.

MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT

Contractor Freshwater and his force commenced work this morning on the improvement of Carolina avenue, and the abutting stone ordered by the city is now being placed in position.

The piece of work was an unusual one, having been ordered long ago. John Shrader bought the property on which his home now stands from the Gardners, and the former owners had dedicated a portion of the tract for street purposes. After Shrader got possession of the property he forbade the city to improve the street. The records were examined and after it had been made clear the city was entitled to the right of way, Contractor Freshwater was authorized to go ahead with the work.

First street has been completed, and no move has yet been made by Shrader to prevent the improvement by paving. The authorities are now convinced that Mr. Shrader was endeavoring to make a bluff. It is the opinion of the Chester councilmen that Mr. Shrader did not have the authority he claimed to possess in the beginning, and for that reason has given up the fight.

CHESTER NOTES.

A Project That Involves the Opening of Mines and Building of Railroads.

Wheeling, August 29.—The News has information to the effect that a coal and railroad project of enormous proportions is on foot, which will result in the opening up of numerous coal mines in Ohio county and through Washington county, Pa., and the building of a railroad through the two counties that will connect up a tract of 30,000 acres of coal with the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Wabash railroads as well as the Ohio river. The project involves the expenditures of several million dollars. For several years W. H. H. Bulger has been taking up coal lands in the interior of Ohio and Washington counties, aggregating all told something like 30,000 acres. Later the coal was turned over to the Pittsburg Seam Coal company, a Pittsburg corporation. Now, it is alleged, the Pittsburg Seam Coal company has passed into the control of another and larger Pittsburg coal company, known as the railroad coal combine of Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg company, it is said, has decided to enter soon upon the development of its large holdings in Ohio and Washington counties, and has recently placed an engineer in the field in the person of Fred Ferrett, late in the employ of the United States government. It is said the company will build a railroad through Ohio and Washington counties, starting from the Ohio river in the vicinity of Short Creek, just at the northwestern border of Short Creek, and thence running through its coal holdings in Richland, Triadelphia and Liberty districts, into Washington county to a point on the Baltimore & Ohio. The advantage of a line like this is that it would give the coal company connection at Short Creek with the Pennsylvania lines and with the river for barge shipments, and at Vienna for rail shipments on the Baltimore & Ohio system. A small branch line would give connection with the new Wabash at Cross Creek in Brooke county.

gives too much influence to individuals. The only thing that I think can be said against the board plan is that it costs too much. Who is to blame? It is not the law, but the councils. In many instances councils fixed the salaries too high. Clerks who got $150 were advanced to $1,500. This was all wrong, and of course the code was made to bear the blame. As soon as salaries are placed upon a fair basis the board system of the code will be found to be all right."

Attorney General Sheets' letter to delinquent Willis law concerns threatening prosecution if they did not comply with the law by a given time, has had the desired effect. Checks and reports have been coming in from these corporations and the returns show that many of the delinquents are bankrupt or inactive.

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, August 29.—Rev. G. W. Travis, a colored minister, pastor of the A. M. E. church of Cadiz, was accidentally killed by the discharge of his gun while out hunting. He was accompanied by two young man and was about ready to return home when in putting his gun on a log beside him it slipped off and was discharged in his temple. Death resulted in 15 minutes. The remains were taken to Danville, Va., for interment. He leaves a wife and babe.

The ball game between the Athletics, of East Liverpool, and the Salineville team on Thursday resulted in favor of Salineville, 5 to 2.

Owing to the downpour of rain last Thursday no delegation went from Salineville to the union picnic at Nelson's grove.

Mrs. George Helm and daughters arrived home Thursday after a short visit among friends.

A grand rally and picnic of the United Presbyterian Sunday schools of Scroggsfield, Mechanicstown, Glade Run, Yellow Creek, Bergholz, Grant's Hill, Carrollton and Salineville was held on Thursday at Nelson's grove, on the Mechanicstown and Salineville road, in Carroll county. Brief addresses were made by Rev. John Campbell, Hartstown, Pa.; Rev. W. J. Engle, of Scroggsfield, and Fred Wright, of Carrollton. The music was led by T. M. George, of Yellow Creek. The choirs of the different schools were present.

Ants

The ant is a clean insect, so far as habits of living are concerned. Their supreme annoyance is their vast number and vexations persistence. They appear suddenly, increase enormously in number, and locate to stay. Many of the means and articles used for ridding the premises of their troublesome presence are useless, because so dangerous that they cannot be employed freely. While harmless to people Death Dust is death to ants.

REALM OF SPORTS

Even before the rain of yesterday afternoon Manager Reark found it necessary to cancel the series of games with the Waynesburg team, owing to the muddy condition of the West End park. The Waynesburg players arrived in the city in time for the game scheduled for Thursday and have been quartered at the Lakel. They have been playing a fast article of ball and fans were sorely disappointed when it became apparent that old Jupiter Pluvius had got in his deadly work and prevented the contest.

Only an ordinary amount of rain is necessary to ood the field at the West End park, and the continuous performance in the wet goods line during the past few days has placed the diamond in a horrible condition. Considerable work will be necessary to counteract the work of the rain so that the opening games of next week will find the field in good condition.

As has been previously announced, the strong Niles team will be the attraction the first three days of next week. There have been but few changes in the lineup and the team is as strong as it was earlier in the season. Kommer, the twirler, who aroused the ire of the fans when Niles was here before, has been pitching good ball. He showed in the game here that he is a rank quitter when under the fire of the rooters, and it is needless to state that they will go after him in great shape when he essays to pitch. Glassburner, who played in left garden while the team was here, has also been doing consistent slab work. All the locals ask is another crack at the veteran Charley Crowe and they promise to pound out another victory. He was pie for "Big Heck," who had five safeties out of the six times he faced him.

Manager Reark has been looking up available talent to strengthen the locals, and asked the Vasbinders, who have been with the strong Salineville team, to come over and help him out. Jim Vasbinder, who played middle field for the coal diggers in that heart-stirring Saturday afternoon matinee at the West End park, is head and shoulders above most amateur players in this section. Until a dispute arose between him and the manager he was a member of the Minneapolis team of the American association and was making good. He is a good hitter, a star pitcher and can be counted on to help out with the stick. Al Vasbinder is also a fine player, and either one of these boys would strengthen the locals.

It is likely that the old reliable Morg Winters will be called upon to face the Niles bunch in the opener. Morg pitched the only winner the locals have been able to land from Niles this season and will come pretty near turning the trick again. Lawrence will follow him to the slab in the second game, and if he pitches in anything like the form he showed against the Herron Hill bunch the locals will win in a walk.

HANDLERS DEFEATED THE JIGGERMEN

Two Teams of Cartwright's Pottery Played a Great Game Yesterday.

The handlers and jiggermen at Cartwright's played a fast and very interesting game yesterday, the score being 8 to 7 in favor of the handlers. Both teams hit remarkably well and the errors were scarce. The score:

The management of the Wheeling Baseball club is looking ahead to the season of 1904, says the Wheling News. Young players of promise are being given a show on the tail-end of the present season, and when they demonstrate their ability, are being signed up so they can be reserved for the season of 1904. Miller and McNicol, both pitchers, have made good already and are assured of berths on next year's team. Last evening Pitcher Sweeney, of the Sistersvilles, came to town, and is being given a try-out in the morning practice of the Stogies today.

Wheeling followers of the game who saw Sweeney perform recently against the U. C. T. team believe he can go the Central League pace and then some. Another pitcher expected to report soon is J. C. Tannehill, who has been employed in a Steubenville factory for some time, and who writes Treasurer Irwin that he will be on hand. Tannehil is touted as a great pitcher, and Wheeling may have a great find in the cousin of the famous New York twirler.

BENEFIT GAME FOR CHARLES CULLEGE

A benefit game is to be played in Wellsville this afternoon by the Marines, of this city, and the first team of Wellsville. The receipts will go to Charles College, who was injured recently. Following is the lineup of the Marines: Cartwright, c; Shingler, p; Rowe, s; Chadwick, 1b; McNicol, 2b; Brown, 3b; McBane, lf; Mays, m; Wheeler, rf; McGee and Miller, subs.

Carroll Club vs. East End Grays.

The East End Grays and the Carroll club, playing a series of games for a prize of $50, will come together this afternoon for the second time at Columbian park. The lineups will be as follows: Carroll Club—O'Hanlon, c; Bailey, s; Callahan, p; McKeever, 1b; Hobbs, 2b; Godwin, 3b; Dougherty, lf; Gilgallon, m; Nagle, rf. East End Grays—T. Herbert, c; Meeks, s; Chambers, p; Walker, 1b; Owens, 2b; Allison, 3b; Denning-Phillips, lf; H. Herbert, m; Bolton, rf.

Warm Game Promised.

A pretty game of ball will be played at Empire this afternoon. The second Y. M. C. A. team of this city will be up against the crack Empire bunch. The lineup of the local team will be as follows: Rigby, lf; Mumford, c; W. Powell, 1b; O. Powell, s; Carey, 2b; Pope, 3b; E. Powell, m; Bridge, rf; Welsh, p.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is estimated that the New York Giants will play to more people this season than any team in the history of the game.

The Pittsburg horseman, Dave G. McDonald, has purchased the trotter Almerion 2:18¼ for $4,000. He is one of the best half-mile track trotters in Pennsylvania.

It is claimed that the talent has lost $15,000,000 at the Saratoga race meeting, the largest sum ever won by the bookies at any American race meet. John A. Drake has lost thousands.

MONEY AWAITS ECCENTRIC MAN

Salem, August 29.—Supt. M. M. Southworth, of the Fairmount Children's home, is at present engaged in making an ardent search for the person of one George W. Eulitt, who will be remembered by residents of Salem as an eccentric character about town, porter for the Broadway hotel and drummer for the once famous "Terrace Inn."

Eulitt is well known here and at Damascus and Alliance, where he had frequently worked. He was raised at Damascus, and spent the greater part of his youth in this vicinity. Just at present he is a much sought individual, and should he be located will probably find himself in comfortable circumstances for life, provided he is ready to accept the conditions and terms of the will of Ridgeway Carr, which has recently come to light, which names himself and his young son, Wallace Eulitt, now an inmate of the Fairmount Children's home, as beneficiaries. This explains the efforts of Supt. Southworth in locating Eulitt. The property, valued at about $3,000, was to go to the Eulitts, but was sold in settling up the estate.

THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

Mrs. Sarah M. Peppel, widow of Jacob Peppel, died at Leetonia at the age of 93 years. She was one of the eldest persons in Salem township.

The Wheeling Baseball association has been sued for $10,000 damages by Robert Crisswell, who was badly injured by falling from a scaffold at the grand stand, where he was working as a carpenter.

The grading for the roadbed of the Stark Electric Railroad company's line between Garfield and Beloit is being pushed rapidly by W. J. McGinty, who has the contract for the grading of the entire section between Sebring and Salem.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

STATE FAIR RACES

The average reader takes announcements of shows and fairs with the proverbial "grain of salt." Aside from the fact that the West Virginia State Fair, now in its twenty-third year, has been personally visited by nearly every adult in this community, all of whom can attest the truthfulness of representations by the management, the purses and prizes which are hung up indicate that the fair which opens at Wheeling on September 7 and continues all week is to be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

One department will serve to illustrate the point. Last year when it was announced that $5,950 would be given in purses for the races, there were those who predicted the bankruptcy of the association. It was found, however, that liberality brings fast steppers, and fast steppers bring the crowds, and that therefore the big purses paid. There was one race for a $1,000 purse. This year there are two $1,000 purses, and the aggregate money for the speed contests will be $6,850. The same liberal spirit will govern the expenditures in other departments.

Oil Gushers in Alaska.

Alliance, August 29.—(Special)—Word has been received in this city by those interested in the Alaska oil fields of the rich find of oil in an experimental well just put down within three miles of the territory in which Alliance parties are interested. A gusher was struck at the usual depth and three distinct oil pools were struck in three different strata of rock. Each pool gave promise of an enormous gush of oil.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1903, to amend section 16, of article II, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 16. Every bill shall be fully and distinctly read three different days, unless in case of urgency three-fourths of the house in which it shall be pending, shall dispense with the rule. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no law shall be revived, or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Every bill passed by both houses of the general assembly shall, before said bill can become law, be presented to the governor. If he approves he shall sign said bill and thereupon said bill shall be law. If he object he shall not sign and shall return said bill, together with his objections thereto in writing, to the house wherein said bill originated, which house shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members elect of that house vote to repass said bill it shall be sent, together with said objection, to the other house, which shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members-elect of that house vote to pass said bill it shall be law, otherwise it shall not be law. The votes for the repassage of said bill shall in each house respectively be no less than those given on the original passage. If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor is not signed and is not returned to the house wherein it originated and within ten days after being so presented, exclusive of Sunday and the day said bill was presented, said bill shall be law as in like manner as if signed, unless final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return, in which case shall be law, unless objected to by the governor and filed, together with his objection thereto in writing, by him in the office of the secretary of state within the prescribed ten days; and the secretary of state shall at once make public said fact and shall return said bill, together with said objection, upon the opening of the next following session of the general assembly, to the house wherein said bill originated, where it shall be treated in like manner as if returned within the prescribed ten days.

If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor contains two or more sections, or two or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of said sections or to one or more of said items of appropriation of money, and approve the other portion of said bill, in which case said approved portion may be signed and then shall be law; and such section or sections, item or items of appropriation of money objected to shall be returned within the time and in the manner prescribed for, and shall be separately reconsidered as in the case of a whole bill; but if final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return the governor shall file said section or sections, item or items of appropriation of money, together with his objection thereto in writing, with the secretary of state as in the case of a whole bill, and the secretary of state shall then make public said fact, but shall not further act as in the case of a whole bill."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—yes;" and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—no."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

MUNICIPAL CLASSIFICATION.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the voters of the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend article 13, section 6, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

"Article 13, Section 6. The general assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of cities, incorporated villages and hamlets and restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent the abuse of such power; provided, that the general assembly may divide cities into not more nor less than three classes, and if such division is made the classification shall be as follows and not otherwise. All cities having a population of more than one hundred thousand shall be cities of the first class; all cities having a population of not more than one hundred thousand nor less than twenty-five thousand shall be cities of the second class; all others shall be cities of the third class."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, yes"; and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, no."

SECTION 3. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1904.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

TAXATION.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend section 2 of article XII, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 2. The general assembly shall provide for the raising of revenue for all state and local purposes in such manner as it shall deem proper. The subjects of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class, and shall be just to the subject taxed. Only burying grounds, public schoolhouses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property to an amount not exceeding in value two hundred dollars for each individual, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation; and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published, as may be directed by law.

At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment," "Yes;" and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment" "No."

COUNTY LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: (Three-fifths of all the members elected to each house concurring therein), That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Ohio, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1903, to amend section 2, article 11, of the constitution of the state, so that it shall read as follows:

Section 2, Article 11.—Every county having a population equal to one-half of said ratio, shall be entitled to one representative; every county, containing said ratio, and three-fourths over, shall be entitled to two representatives; every county containing three times said ratio, shall be entitled to three representatives; and so on, requiring after the first two, an entire ratio for each additional representative. Provided, however, that each county shall have one representative.

Section 2. At said election the voters in favor of the adoption of the amendment to section 2, article 11, shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—Yes," and those who do not favor the adoption of said amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—No."

GRAUSTARK

...By...

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the flier stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

"You are mad, sir, to talk like this," protested the other despairingly. "Edelweiss swarms with Axphain soldiers: our own men are on the alert to win the great reward. You cannot go to the city. When a safe time comes, you will be taken from this place, into the mountains instead of through the city, and given escort to Dassas, 100 miles east. That step will not be taken until the way is perfectly clear. I tell you, sir, you cannot hope to escape if you leave the monastery now. The mountains are full of soldiers every night."

"I didn't say anything about an escape, did I? On the contrary, I want to give myself up to her. Then she can have Gabriel thrown over the castle wall and say to Bolaroz: 'Here is your man. I've gained the ten years of grace.' That's the point, Quinnox. Can't you see it? And I want to say to you now I'm going whether you consent or refuse. I'd just as soon be in jail down there as up here anyhow. The only favor I have to ask of you is that you do the best you can to get me safely to her. I must talk with her before I go back to the tower."

"God help me, sir, I cannot take you to her!" groaned Quinnox, trying to control his nervous apprehension. "I have sworn to her that I will keep you from all harm, and it would be to break faith with her if I led you into that mob down there."

"I respect your oath, my friend, but I am going, just the same. I'll see her, too, if I have to shoot every man who attempts to prevent me. I'm desperate, man, desperate! She's everything in the world to me, and I'll die before I'll see her suffer."

"Her suffering now is as nothing compared to what it will be if you go back to the tower. You forget how much pain she is enduring to avoid that very suffering. If you care for my mistress, sir, add no weight to the burden she already carries. Remain here, as she desires. You can be of no service down there. I implore you to be considerate."

It was an eloquent appeal, and it struck home. Lorry wavered, but his resolution would not weaken. He argued first with Quinnox, then with himself, finally returning to the reckless determination to brave all and save her from herself. The soldier begged him to listen to reason, implored him to reconsider, at last turning in anger upon the stubborn American with a torrent of maledictions. Lorry heard him through and quietly, unswervingly, announced that he was ready to leave the monastery at any time his guide cared to depart. Quinnox gave up in despair at this, gazing hopelessly at the man he had sworn to protect, who insisted on placing his head in the lion's jaw. He sat down at the window and murmured dejectedly:

"What will she say to me—what will she say to me?"

"I shall exonerate you, captain. She can have no fault to find with your action after I have told her how loyal you are and how—how—well, how unreasonable I am," said Lorry kindly.

"You may never live to tell her this, sir. Then what is to become of me? I could not look her in the face again. I could only die!"

"Don't be so faint hearted, Quinnox!" cried Lorry, stimulated by the desire to be with her, recognizing no obstacle that might thwart him in the effort. "We'll get through safe and sound, and we'll untangle a few complications before we reach the end of the book. Brace up, for heaven's sake, for mine, for hers, for your own. I must get to her before everything is lost. The fear that she may marry Gabriel will drive me mad if I am left here another night. Come! Let us prepare to start. We must notify the abbot that I am to go. I can be ready in five minutes. Ye gods, think of what she may be sacrificing for me!"

Lorry soon was attired in the guard's uniform he had worn from the tower a month before. His pistol was in his pocket, and the bunch of violets she had sent to him that very night was pinned defiantly above his heart. Quinnox smiled when he observed this bit of sentiment, and grimly informed him that he was committing an act prohibited in Dangloss' disciplinary rules. Officers on duty were not to wear nosegays.

"Dangloss will not see my violets. By the way, the moon shines brightly, doesn't it?"

"It is almost as light as day. Our trip is made extremely hazardous for that reason. I am sorely afraid, rash sir, that we cannot reach the castle unseen."

"We must go about it boldly; that's all."

"Has it occurred to you, sir, that you are placing me in a terrible position? What excuse can I have, a captain of the guard, for slinking about at night with a man whom I am supposed to be tracking to earth? Discovery will brand me as a traitor. I cannot deny the charge without exposing her royal highness."

Lorry turned cold. He had not thought of this alarming possibility. But his ready wit came again to his relief, and with bright, confident eyes he swept away the obstacle.

"If discovered, you are at once to proclaim me a prisoner, take the credit for having caught me and claim the reward."

"In that case you will not go to the castle, but to the tower."

"Not if you obey orders. The offer of reward says that I must be delivered to the undersigned. You will take me to her and not to the tower."

Quinnox smiled and threw up his hands as if unable to combat the quick logic of his companion. Together they made their way to the prior's cell, afterward to the abbot's apartment. It was barely 11 o'clock, and he had not retired. He questioned Quinnox closely, bade Lorry farewell and blessed him, sent his benediction to the princess and ordered them conducted to the gates.

Ten minutes later they stood outside the wall, the great gates having been closed sharply behind them. Above them hung the silvery moon, full and bright, throwing its refulgent splendor over the mountain top with all the brilliancy of day. Never before had Lorry seen the moon so accursedly bright.

"'Gad, it is like day," he exclaimed.

"As I told you, sir," agreed the other, reproof in his voice.

"We must wait until the moon goes down. It won't do to risk it now. Can we not go somewhere to keep warm for an hour or so?"

"There is a cave farther down the mountain. Shall we take the chance of reaching it?"

"By all means. I can't endure the cold after being cooped up for so long."

They followed the winding road for some distance down the mountain, coming at last to a point where a small path branched off. It was the path leading down the side of the steep overlooking the city, and upon that side no wagon road could be built. Seven thousand feet below stretched the sleeping, moonlit city. Standing out on the brow of the mountain, they seemed to be the only living objects in the world. There was no sign of life above, below or beside them.

"How long should we be in making the descent?" asked Lorry, a sort of terror possessing him as he looked from the dizzy height into the ghostlike dimness below.

"There is a secret entrance," said Quinnox, maliciously enjoying the insistent one's acknowledgment of weakness. "If we reach it safely, I can take you under ground to the old dungeons beneath the castle. It may be some time before you can enter the halls above, for the secret passage is guarded jealously. There are but five people who know of its existence."

"Great confidence is placed in you, I see, and worthily, I am sure. How is it that you are trusted so implicitly?"

"I inherit the confidence. The captain of the guard is born to his position. My ancestors held the place before me, and not one betrayed the trust. The firstborn in the last ten generations has been the captain of the guard in the royal palace, possessing all its secrets. I shall be the first to betray the trust, and for a man who is nothing to me."

"I suppose you consider me selfish and vile for placing you in this position," said Lorry, somewhat contritely.

"No. I have begun the task, and I will complete it, come what may," answered the captain firmly. "You are the only being in the world for whom I would sacrifice my honor voluntarily save one."

"I have wondered why you were never tempted to turn traitor to the princess and claim the fortune that is represented in the reward."

"Not for 5,000,000 gavvos, sir!"

"By George, you are a faithful lot—Dangloss, Allode and Ogbot and yourself, four honest men to whom she trusts her life, her honor! You belong to a rare species, and I am proud to know you."

The stealthy couple found the cave and spent an hour or more within its walls, sallying forth after the tardy darkness had crept down over the mountain and into the peaceful valley. Then began the tortuous descent. Quinnox in the lead, they walked, crawled and ran down the narrow path, bruised, scratched and aching by the time they reached the topmost of the summer houses along the face of the mountain. After this walking was easier, but stealthiness made their progress slow. Frequently as they neared the base they were obliged to dodge behind houses or to drop into the ditches by the roadside in order to avoid patrolling police guards or Axphain sleuthhounds.

At last, stiff and sore, they stole into the narrow streets of Edelweiss. Lorry glanced back and shivered, although the air was warm and balmy. He had truly been out of the world. Not until this instant did he fully appreciate the dread that possesses a man who is being hunted down by tireless foes. Never did man's heart go out in gratitude and trustfulness as did his toward the strong defender whose sinewy arm he clasped as if in terror.

"You understand what this means to me," said Quinnox gravely as they paused to rest. "She will call me your murderer and curse me for my miserable treason. I am the first to dishonor the name of Quinnox."

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physicial cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—The bodies of the three young women who were drowned in Girty's run have been recovered. The accident was a most pathetic one. The girls were returning from a party in the country and were in a buggy. The road skirting the run had been undermined by the stream and it gave way. Four girls were in the buggy, but one of them was rescued by two young men who accompanied the girls. The dead are Myrtle and Nannie Scott, aged 20 and 18 years, of Evergreen, and Annie Cloffart, aged about 20, of Oak station.

No Trouble With Indians.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 29.—Major Scott, acting Indian agent, who reached Walker, wires that there has been no trouble with the Indians and that none is expected. Two or three vagabond Indians, one of whom was thrown into jail for selling liquor, have been trying to make trouble, but the remainder are attending to their pursuits as usual. The story of a prospective uprising is laid to the complaints made by a few and to the activity of an imaginative correspondent.

Found Dying from Bullet Wound.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 29.—John Kostich, whose parents, said to be of noble blood, were murdered recently in Austria, was found near Centerville almost dead from a bullet in the breast. The police are undecided as to whether Kostich attempted to commit suicide or was shot by others.

This is East Liverpool Testimony and Will Stand Investigation.

If you doubt the following and wish to investigate, you haven't to go to some other state in the union to prove it. It's not a long story published in East Liverpool newspapers about a resident in Kalamazoo, Mich., or Temple, Fla. It's about a resident of East Liverpool and given in East Liverpool's own words. No stronger proof can be had.

Mr. Robert M. Newell, carpenter, of West Fifth street, says: "If everyone receives the same results as I from the course of treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills my advice is, go to Larkins' drug store, procure about a box, take them according to directions and the results will inevitably follow. One box effected a cure in my case, the particulars of which I will only be too pleased to give to anyone personally calling upon me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Physicians and scientists throughout the world have long since pronounced drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Systems vary as to the kind of drink that will satisfy this craving—some want whiskey, others beer, wine, kimmel, etc., the use of which will eventually result in ruining the health and bringing on disease, in many cases ending in death.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor, restores the organs of the stomach to their natural condition and improves the appetite and digestion. It contains no injurious drugs of any description. "ORRINE" can be given without the patient's knowledge, if desired, in tea, coffee, water or milk. It requires no office or sanitarium treatment, but can be taken at home. We will refund the money if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

LIFE PLANT

THE greatest of all known remedies for the positive cure of all diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS and BLOOD. It is nature's own remedy and acts in accordance with her laws.

Do you suffer with INDIGESTION—are you distressed after eating—does a torpid liver make you feel miserable—out of sorts—at variance with the world? Do the kidneys fail to perform their duty, giving backache and general lassitude? Are you all worn out?

LIFE PLANT will relieve quickly and cure permanently—no disappointment—no failure—it has cured thousands of others—it will cure you.

Rev. J. H. Merchant, Pastor M. E. church at Freeport, O., writes under date July 10, 1900: I take pleasure, and do not hesitate to recommend Life Plant as an excellent remedy for Liver and Kidney difficulties. Mrs. Merchant desires to bear testimony to the healing virtues of Life Plant, as a sure and certain remedy for Rheumatism.

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

HOME AFFAIRS

No Action Taken—The Y. M. C. A. directors at a meeting last evening discussed the question of a new secretary and a new physical director, but no action was taken.

Horses at Auction—An auction sale of horses was held yesterday at the stable of John Rinehart. The horses were brought here by Walding Bros., of New York, and 26 were sold.

The Mayor Going Abroad—Mayor Weaver has announced his intention of taking a month's vacation, commencing September 29, on which date he will sail aboard the palatial steamer, Wilhelm der Grosse, for Leipsic. He will be accompanied by his accomplished daughter, Miss Goldie, who will remain in Leipsic for the winter, attending a musical conservatory. Miss Weaver is very talented in music and will be given an extensive course in school abroad.

Two Drunks Arrested—Two arrests were made by the police last night. Tim O'Donnell was found by Officer Woods on the green of Col. Hill. He was drunk and fast asleep. He acknowledged his guilt this morning and was fined $2 and costs. Having no money, he was allowed to leave for Beaver Falls, where he said he had work. W. N. Bell was arrested by Officers McDermott and Saulsberry for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined the customary amount.

NEW OFFICERS FOR THE INSTITUTE

Leetonia, August 29.—(Special.)—The Columbiana County Teachers' institute, which has been in session here since Monday, closed its sessions yesterday, and most of the visitors departed during the forenoon and immediately after dinner. The final session was not largely attended owing to the visitors leaving.

New officers were elected for the county yesterday as follows: Prof. W. L. McDonald, of Wellsville, president; Theodore Kellogg, of Salineville, vice president; Miss Elma Rauch, of Leetonia, secretary; member of the executive commitee for three years, Prof. Oliver, of the East Palestine schools.

It was decided to hold the next year's institute at Rogers, beginning September 23. The number of visitors to the institute registered here was 201.

Bright Spick Span New Dwellings.

$2500 Six rooms, slate roof, front and rear portico, cellar, gas, electric light wiring, sanitary plumbing, bath, hot and cold water, golden oak grain throughout, just finished and within five minutes walk of the Diamond, on Minerva street. No hill to climb. Terms—$500 down, balance $20 monthly.

Other properties we would note as follows as being on sale with us (particulars furnished upon inquiry). Ten room brick house, lot 33x133, Sixth street, $5,200; new ten room house, lot 40x100, Ogden street, $2,500; six room modern house, Spring street, $2,900; four rooms, water and gas, lot 30x100 Minerva street, $1,850; ten room modern double house near Second street, $3,000; four rooms, new, just completed, McKinnon addition, $1,200; three rooms and small lot, Cadmus street, $700; two rooms and large lot Gardendale, $400; four rooms, lot 30x100, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, $1,450; six rooms, new, Sheridan avenue, $2,750; five rooms, pantry, lot 30x100, Bradshaw avenue, $1,850; six rooms, furnace, gas, lot 30x100, Eighth street, $2,400; four rooms, just new, Oakland addition, $1,200; four rooms, new, Maple street, East End, $1,250; four rooms, Ohio avenue, East End, $1,750; seven rooms and five rooms on Third street, $5,500; seven rooms on Pine street, $2,500.

Restaurant and dwelling of 12 rooms furnished in part. Well suited and located for a boarding or mealing house. See us for terms and price.

We have 25 times as many more properties. Call and see us about any or all of them. We will sell on terms to suit your income. Why pay rent when you can own a home? Don't you know that by paying a dollar on each $100 you owe will wipe out the debt and interest in ten years? For instance, fifteen dollars paid monthly for ten years will pay off a $1,500 debt and interest. It's not how much money one spends but how one spends it that makes one's financial weal or woe.

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

Entertained And Heard an Interesting Report from Miss Alice B. Smith.

The missionary societies of the First and Second Presbyterian churches enjoyed a profitable and pleasureable meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. E. D. Moore on Pennsylvania avenue. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Alice B. Smith, who is a guest of Mrs. Moore and daughters. Miss Smith was formerly a resident of Lisbon and after graduating at the University of Wooster, became engaged in her chosen profession as a teacher and since then has been a member of the faculty of the normal and collegiate institute at Asheville. She has acquired a broad and thorough education and is a very interesting conversationalist.

The company last evening became deeply interested in the talk which Miss Smith gave on the missionary work which is being accomplished in the industrial schools of the southern mountain districts. It is probable that this meeting will aid largely in enlivening the missionary work, and also that the missionary societies of the Presbyterian churches will support Miss Smith in the work which she is admirably accomplishing.

The Moore residence was decorated in an appropriate manner with nasturtiums and Japanese lanterns. It was unanimously agreed that the evening spent was most enjoyable.

OLD FASHIONED PARTY

The old fashioned house party given by Miss Hattie McGlennon at her home in the old Kountz homestead, between this city and Wellsville last evening, was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

The spacious grounds and large old fashioned veranda were hung with Japanese lanterns and festoons of crepe, pink and green being the prevailing colors and the whole presenting a most enhancing effect. Old fashioned games were played, among them being a quadrille on the large veranda, the music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bane. Both vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Howard Osborn and Misses Marie Bills, Etta Hales, Bess Webber and Kate Stamm, making the evening one of rare enjoyment and ne'er to be forgotten. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the happy throng left on the last car, voting Miss McGlennon a most charming hostess.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE

The Chautauqua Circle of this city which last year closed after accomplishing much profitable literary work, will again organize probably the latter part of September or the first of October, the date being yet undecided. It is the purpose of the circle to meet every other Friday evening during the coming winter and study the different English and American authors.

The following literary books will be read by the society: "Literary Leaders of America"; "Provincial Types in American Fiction"; "Evolution of Industrial Society" and "Geographic Influences in American History." The following will be the authors studied during the coming months: October—Irving, Cooper and Poe; November—Hawthorne and Emerson; December—Bryant and Longfellow; January—Holmes and Whittier; February—Lowell and Whitman; March—Lanier and later writers.

New books will be taken up during the months of April, May and June.

In connection with these authors and their works the society will read "the Chautaquan," a magazine for supplementary reading. During the coming year the meetings will be held at the homes of the members. It is probable that a preliminary meeting may be called next week for the purpose of reorganizing.

Auxiliary Meeting.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet next Tuesday, for the first meeting of the new term. At the closing meeting of this organization it was decided to meet for the opening of a new year of work on the first Tuesday in September, and it is probable that further arrangements for "The Breach of Promise" play will be made at this meeting.

W. R. C. Meeting.

A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. will be held on next Friday afternoon. The regular business of the organization will receive attention.

SAMUEL YEAGER AGAIN PLACED BEHIND BARS

Samuel Yeager, the Irondale man lately charged with a revolting crime, is again in the Jefferson county jail, having been captured in Wellsville. Yeager was indicted with his son for a crime on his daughter and at the trial the son was acquitted. The trial of the old man did not take place and he was released on a bond of $100, signed by Harry O. Phillips. Wednesday Mr. Phillips wrote Prosecutor Alban the following: "Please have Samuel Yeager, who was indicted at the March term of court last, re-arrested, as I understand he is about to leave the state, and as I am security on his bond, I do not wish him to go out of either the county or state so that I may not be able to furnish him to you at the next term of court of common pleas of Jefferson county."

A warrant for the re-arrest of Yeager was given Sheriff Gilson and he traced Yeager to Wellsville, where he arrested him and took him to jail. Yeager, of course, denies that he was going to leave the state, and said he was only working at Wellsville. Yeager is the prisoner who spent hours every day praying and reading the bible. He professes to be a front row Christian as long as he is in jail. He has already started to pray for his release.

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

President Horwell, of council, issued a call this afternoon to the members of that body requesting them to be present at a special meeting to be held this evening for the purpose of taking action on the gas problem. The Citizens' Gas association was also invited to attend. The sale of the $92,925 worth of bonds will be considered at the meeting.

It is now apparent that the gas corporation does not propose to grant the citizens the courtesy of a hearing in regard to its unjust demands for an increase in the gas rates, and it is likely some other action will be taken by the citizens' committee. Auditor Davidson addressed a carefully prepared letter to the company last Tuesday, and to the present has received no reply. The communication requested a conference with the officials loking to a modification of the demands, but it is thought the representatives of the corporation propose to ignore the consumers and their wishes.

When the council and citizens' committee met at the city hall last Monday, it was thought the objections to the increase might be wiped out through a conference with the company's officers, and with this object in view the auditor was goven the instructions to communicate with them. Prompt action will now be necessary in order to accomplish anything before the end of the month. The gas company has sent out its statements for the August supply, and in every case the charge is fixed at the increased rate. Indignation is expressed upon every hand, and the citizens who have been presented with bills are up in arms at what they term the high handed system of robbery perpetrated by the gas corporation.

Since the citizens' representatives have been ignored it is probable some other plan of action will be adopted to prevent the company from accomplishing its purpose. The constitutionality of the council's ordinance will be tested at once, and the best legal talent obtainable has advised that all bills, if paid at all, be paid under protest pending an opinion from the court.

Members of the committee are not discouraged at the outlook and are more determined than ever to bring the company to time. As matters now stand, the men interested assert it is simply a question of whether the gas corporation is bigger than the city of East Liverpool, the trades council and several thousand citizens. They propose to find a solution for the question if it is possible to do so.

A FINE OF $50 WAS IMPOSED

WARFARE TO BE KEPT UP

That Mayor Weaver is determined to abolish disorderly houses of the city was evidenced yesterday afternoon, when he imposed a fine of $50 and costs on Henry Barthel, a Second street saloonist, who pleaded guilty to renting room for immoral purposes. The fine was the stiffest handed down by a mayor in years, and Mayor Weaver thinks it is the only plan by which his avowed determination can be carried out.

It was in a room belonging to Barthel & Grueber that a young man and woman were caught by Chief Wyman and Officer McDermott on Thursday afternoon. The mayor knew he had a well defined case against Barthel and was prepared for action. Barthel, accompanied by an attorney, appeared at the chief executive's office with the intention of putting up a fight on the ground that the rooms are rented to lodgers, the same as in hotels. The mayor told the defendant's attorney that he would carry the case up to a higher court where the minimum fine is $100 if he so desired, but the attorney concluded to enter a plea of guilty.

Louis Grueber, a partner of Barthel, will be arrested either this evening or Monday on a charge of assault, preferred against him by Mrs. Clementina Heins, who alleges that Grueber struck her when she saw him allowing a couple to go into the rooms.

So enraged is Grueber over the action of Mrs. Heines that he went to a local justice yesterday afternoon and had a writ of forcible detention issued and the paper was served on Mrs. Heins last evening. Being unaccustomed to law, Mrs. Heins was very much frightened when the constable appeared with the paper and after he left she went immediately to the mayor's office where she asked for advice. She was told that she could not be removed until her month was up and she intends to stay that long. While there she will keep a strict lookout for any unlawful acts and will report them in detail.

The Sea Was Altogether too Uneasy to Make the Sport Practicable.

Sandy Hook, August 29.—(Special.)—Owing to the high wind and heavy seas the third of the series of international yacht races has been postponed. This announcement was made just before the hour for the yachts to start, when it was apparent that the frail boats would experience great danger in trying to weather the rough sea.

There was a fierce gale from the southeast yesterday and the sea rolled so heavily that neither boat left its moorings. The wind changed to the northwest, making a very nasty sea, and it was decided by the committee to call the race off if the wind reached a speed of 20 knots an hour. The gale this morning was even more severe than yesterday and was also from the northwest.

While Sir Thomas Lipton has evidently given up all hope of winning the cup he was in a happier frame of mind today. The statement that this will be his last try is not believed among yachtsmen.

Probate Matters.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Henry Weible has been appointed guardian of Harry, Charles and William Schiffbauer, minor sons of the late Harvey Schiffbauer, of Liverpool township. Bond, $1,600.

Pearl A. Martin has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Milton A. Martin, of Liverpool township. Bond, $2,000. There will be no appraisement, there being no personal property.

Lisbon Grocers' Picnic.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—The Lisbon grocers' picnic at Avon park, between Niles and Youngstown, yesterday, was a successful affair and there were no accidents to mar the pleasure of the day. Many of the excursionists went on to Youngstown, where Barnum & Bailey's show exhibited yesterday.

Goes to an Illinois Church.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—Rev. William G. Martin, pastor of the U. P. church at Grove City, Pa., for eight years, is visiting his brother, Judge J. A. Martin, in Lisbon. He is on his way to Aledo, Mercer county, Ill., having accepted a call to the pastorate there.

FREIGHT WRECK BLOCKED TRACK AT WATERFORD

New Waterford, August 29.—(Special)—A lucky freight wreck occurred just around the bend east of this village Thursday afternoon at about 4 o'clock. A truck on a car of a west bound freight broke, throwing off two cars. The train broke at that point and the remainder was pulled up to the station before the engineer realized the facts. The north track for nearly an eighth of a mile was badly wrecked, as a result of the broken down car being dragged over the track. It took two wrecking crews and about 50 section men until 3 o'clock Friday morning to put the road in a passable condition. One track was cleared in about three hours.

The train wah following No. 31, and No. 6 had just passed the unfortunate freight when the accident occurred. No one was hurt and no one to blame for the accident. It was a pure and simple accident.

BOARD OF SERVICE HEARD COMPLAINTS

WAS MUCH DISCUSSION

There was very little doing at the meeting of the board of public service last evening, Mr. Smith being away from the city. It was expected that definite action would be taken on the instruction of council that the board demand of Hanager Healy that he extend the Northside line, but the question was deferred, the board being of the opinion that it should be guided by the city solicitor in any action.

The board was also instructed by council to attend to the people on Pleasant street, who have been complaining for weeks about the condition of their sidewalks and other pavements. It was decided to grant the wish of the people at the earliest possible moment. Residents of Bradshaw avenue are complaining also about their sidewalks. They say that they have been washed away by the recent rains and want the board to supply them with saggers or other material just as good for a walk.

The pay roll of the board of service official department was introduced and of course was passed without hesitation. Those to receive money through it are the city engineer, water works superintendent, street commissioner, clerk of the board and members of the street commission.

A number of complaints were received and ordered filed from people who object to the sewers in certain parts of the city. There was nothing done to bring about the repairs very soon, but they will be looked after in due time.

Considerable discussion ensued when Henry Prangley, of Avondale street, announced that he would like to have the beautiful tree standing in front of his home cut down. While the members talked of the act tears were quite visible and they unanimously decided to let the old land mark stand.

CALEB POWERS SENTENCED TO DEATH

Kentucky's Ex-Secretary of State Condemned to Die As An Assassin.

Georgetown, Ky., August 29.—(Special)—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers was found guilty this morning, and was sentenced to be hanged.

Two Drunks Taken In.

Jack McLaughlin and an unknown Italian were arrested this afternoon on Second street by Officer McDermott. Both men were beastly drunk and gave the officer considerable trouble before they were landed in the city jail. McLaughlin commenced to rant and tear around in the cell and it was feared that he would hurt himself. He was completely crazed.

Receiving the sad intelligence yesterday afternoon that his father in England is very sick and not expected to live, Joe Davis, employed at the K., T. & K. pottery, left the city last evening for New York, where he will sail at the first opportunity.

SHE HAD NOT LEFT TOWN

Determined to thwart every conceivable plan attempted by her parents to prevent it, Miss Anna, the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin, very highly respected residents of Thompson Hill, means at all hazards to wed "Cap" Pusey, son of Mrs. Nellie Pusey, Fourth street, also a well and favorably known resident. To bring about the marriage the young couple have resorted to many plans and it is feared the mother of the girl will suffer nervous prostration. She as well as Mr. McLaughlin are almost distracted.

The disappearance of Miss McLaughlin from her home on last Thursday afternoon brought the story. When she failed to return home Thursday evening for supper her parents became somewhat alarmed and when she did not put in an appearance at bed time they were greatly agitated. No search was made for her during the evening, that is, to any great extent, but when her absence was continued until yesterday morning the parents of the girl searched every portion of the city in which they thought she might be. No trace of her could be found.

A short time before supper last evening word reached the ears of Mr. McLaughlin that his daughter had left the city on the 4 o'clock train for Pittsburg and that she had been seen bidding her lover goodbye. Being informed that young Pusey did not accompany her, Mr. McLaughlin thought to intercept him by going to Pittsburg and locating his daughter. He went on the next train and upon his arrival went to central station with his story. Two detectives were assigned to aid him and they thought they traced her to Rochester, thence to Pittsburg. The distracted father asked the chief at Pittsburg to telephone to this city and find whether or not Pusey left the city last night. Chief Wyman then made a search and not only learned that Pusey was still in the city, but that the girl was also and that she had never been away.

After learning the whereabouts of Miss McLaughlin, Chief Wyman decided to return her to her home. He found her at the home of a prominent family on Second street, where she was on both Thursday and Friday nights. She did not protest against being taken, and her mother was overjoyed. While en route to her home the girl told Chief Wyman that she would marry Pusey and that she would do so this afternoon.

Mr. McLaughlin will return on the 4 o'clock train this afternoon from Pittsburg.

The Youngstown & Southern Pushing On Into Columbiana County.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A large force of men and mule teams with grading outfits passed through Columbiana on their way to a point north of that village to commence grading. Similar work is now in progress between North Lima and Columbiana, three or four miles north of the latter village, indicating that 12 or 13 miles of the route have been graded.

In grading for its new four-track system on the Ft. Wayne railroad the Pennsylvania company will in a few days commence work on a heavy cut at Columbiana and a corresponding fill will come at a point where the Youngstown & Southern is to pass under the steam railroad. It is reported that the officials of the companies are arranging to cooperate in effecting a saving of expenses in digging and filling at that point.

Bill of Exceptions Filed.

Lisbon, August 29.—(Special.)—A bill of exceptions was filed in court here this afternoon in the case of Jerry Creedon et al versus May McKay et al, of East Liverpool, in which the alleged will of Mary Creedon, deceased, was set aside by a jury some time ago.

MORE THAN A HUNDRED DEFECTS IN SIDEWALK

Already Discovered By Investigators, And Returns Are Not All In.

City Engineer Kelly and Street Commissioner Dickey reported to the board of public service last evening that they are working as fast as possible in the inspection of the sidewalks of the city. It will be remembered that they were ordered a short time ago to make a thorough examination, the intention of the board being to have every walk in the city repaired, and the ordinance being that every property holder having a sidewalk needing repair must be notified by writing, the examination was ordered.

The sidewalks of more than 100 people have already been found imperfect, covering a distance of 4,500 feet. The cost of repairing them will aggregate $4,000. President Taylor ordered the two officials to continue their work and make a complete report at an early meeting.

ALL ANXIOUS FOR A SAEL

The finance committee of council is certainly embarrassed in its attempt to dispose of the $92,925 worth of bonds, issued some time ago. Communication is being solicited by the members of the committee with the bond buyers, but it seems that there are none anxious for the big purchase. As a result the committee is in desperate straits.

An offer was received last evening from Attorney Gaston, of Cleveland, waich seems rather low, but the councilmen are in such a condition that they confidently believe the offer must be accepted. The proposition of Mr. Gaston is that he will provide a buyer at par if council will give him $175 for his portion of the work. In consideration of the fact that council cannot even get any bidders the councilmen feel that they will make money by disposing of them according to Gaston's proposition.

As stated previously in the News Review every day the bonds are held the city has piling up against it interest amounting to $6.35 per day, and council is now making a strenuous effort to cut that off. Firmly believing that they could get several hundred dollars premium for the bonds, the members turned down the bid of Hayes & Son, who offered them $10 premium. They now feel that they made a grievous error and would like to make amends, but are in a position where they cannot. One member of the body is yet of the opinion that some plan can be worked whereby a reasonable price could be received, but he, like all the rest, seems to realize that at the rate of $6 per day it will not take long to eat up anything that could be obtained as a premium for the bonds.

At the special meeting of council tonight the offer of Attorney Gaston will be fully considered and will likely be accepted.

Iowa Magistrate Finds Boyhood Sweetheart And Will Wed Her.

Columbus, August 29.—(Special.)—More than 50 years ago Albert W. Livingstone and Sarah S. Leake were sweethearts in Columbus. They they drifted apart and for half a century saw nothing of each other. Now they are married.

Albert W. Livingstone, 79 years of age, yesterday secured a license to wed Sarah S. Leake, 73 years of age. The prospective bridegroom hails from Stewart, Ia., where he is justice of the peace.

Fifty years ago the couple were sweethearts in this city. Some misunderstanding led to a lovers' quarrel and they drifted apart. Both married and in time were freed again by the death of their life partners. A few months ago Livingstone came to this city on a visit, saw Mrs. Leake and the love affair of their youth was renewed with the result that last evening the aged couple were wedded.

PREPARATION FOR OPENING THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BE COMPLETED

Republican Executive Committee Will Meet Next Wednesday to Decide Date and Place.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 29.—A call has been issued for meetings of the Republican state executive and state central committees in this city next Wednesday morning at 10:30 to fix the time and place for the campaign opening and also to nominate a candidate for the short term for member of the state board of public works to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the late C. A. Goddard, president of the board. The Democratic convention failed to nominate a candidate for this office. Several cities are applicants for the opening—Canton, Marion, the home of Hon. Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, and Warren. Harding is working to secure the opening for his home city. He is a good stump speaker and will do much work in the campaign.

The Republicans believe it will only be a question of the size of the plurality this fall and various estimates are being made as to the proportions it will reach. The most conservative think the Republicans will win by something between 75,000 and 100,000 plurality, and others predict it will be beyond the latter figure. The ticket named by the Democracy suits the Republicans admirably. So heterogenous is its personnel and so far away is the platform on which the ticket stands from what has been the accepted tenets of the followers of Jefferson and Jackson since the party's inception that it is to be expected that many of the old time members of the party will refuse to sanction either at the polls this fall.

Republicans look for a big disaffection in the ranks of the Democracy. It is a case of too much Johnson, and loyal sound money Democrats will be chary about subscribing to the isms and fads of the Cleveland manipulator. General Dick, chairman of the Republican executive committee, says that, in view of the work of the Democratic convention, there is really no need of the Republicans having any campaign at all, but that as a matter of form, as it were, one will be gone through.

Governor Nash again gives expression to his belief that the code provides a good form of government and says that councils are to blame for the increases in the expenses of cities under it. "I cannot say I think that the board system is not all right, for I am of the opinion that it is," said he. "I believe from what I have heard throughout the state, that the new code is a good thing in all particulars. I was always against the one-man power, for it

LEN EELLS WOUNDED WELLSVILLE'S POLICE HEAD.

Chief of Police John Houser, of Wellsville, had a narrow escape from death last evening. Len Eells, a well-known character, tried to kill him, and succeeded in giving him an ugly wound in the arm.

Eells had been arrested for drunkenness; along with Joseph McKee. Officer Morrissey accompanied the chief. The prisoners were quietly walking along the street when Eells jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired point blank at the chief. The bullet, one of heavy calibre, passed through the chief's right arm and was lost. For a second the officer was staggered, but he is a plucky fellow and hastily drawing his revolver sent shot after shot in the direction of the fleeing Eells, who had disappeared in the tall weeds at the roadside. Officer Morrissey did likewise, informing McKee he would kill him if he moved. McKee did not move, and the officers made a hurried search for Eells, but he was gone, probably to the woods. The chief was found to be painfully, but not seriously wounded.

No word has yet been received of Eells. A party of men went out from this city last evening in search of him. They went as far as Lisbon, but found no trace of him. Sheriff Leonard has been out since 8 o'clock last evening in search of him, but he has likewise been unsuccessful in locating the scoundrel. It is thought here that he has not reached Pennsylvania and that he will not be caught for two or three days at the least.

Chief Houser passed a very restless night, his wound causing him intense pain. The wound has been dressed two or three times by the attending physician, Dr. B. R. Parke. He states that the wound will heal in a short time and is anticipating no bad results.

Leonard Eells has a reputation at Lisbon as a bad character. He has been in the workhouse a number of times for abusing his wife, but the most serious trouble he ever figured in prior to last night was when he wounded an antagonist with a hatchet two years ago. He was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but was let off with a light sentence when he consented to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

RIVER CAME UP WITH A RUSH

COAL FLEETS ON THE MOVE

As a result of the recent heavy rains the Ohio river has reached a stage of 13 feet at this point and navigation by both packet and tow boats has been resumed. The rise was one of the most rapid in many months, averaging yesterday eight inches an hour. While it was unexpected until yesterday morning, the rivermen were not caught unawares and all day yesterday the coal companies had men at work in the pools around Pittsburg preparing for the start of the coal fleet to the south.

All the packets are coming out, but it will be several days before the schedule can be regularly filled on the upper rivers. Captain Gus Martindill, of the local wharfboat, had not received word from the packets at a late hour this afternoon. It is possible that the Ben Hur may reach here tomorrow.

The Pittsburg coal fleet commenced to pass this city at noon, the Volunteer leading, followed closely by the Sam Brown. The boat owners and number of pieces in the tows are:

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, Boaz, James Moren, Iron Age, Sam Clark and Coal City, 22 barges each; Sam Brown, Tom Rees, Ed Roberts, Joe Walton, Ironsides, Cruiser, Enterprise, John Moren, Fallie, Dave Wood and J. C. Risher, 17 barges each. C. Jutte Coal company will send out two tows with the steamers Crescent and G. W. Thomas, the tows being made up according to the height of the water. The Budd Coal company will send out seven boats and five barges with the Frank Gilmore, and the W. F. Flint will take out a tow belonging to the Flint and Clyde Coal companies.

The Mariner, Jim Wood and Tom Dodsworth are hurrying in and may be able to get away with tows. All the steamers which have been tied up along the banks have had crews sent to them, and they will hurry in, bringing many empties, which are much needed at the mines.

Twins Were Born—Twin babies, a boy and a girl, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cline, of Oak street. The little girl lived but a few hours.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON POTTERY NEWS.

Trenton, N. J., August 29.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding that the sanitary manufacturers and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters have completed their conferences there still remains much to be done. At the conference a uniform price list was adopted for packers and saggermakers. Vice President Hutchins and John A. Campbell, general manager of the Trenton Potteries company, and who was the chairman of the manufacturers' committee, are at present at work compiling the list. Each will submit his version of the prices introduced in the new list and a conference of these two gentlemen will be held within the next two weeks in order to compare their work. The new conditions which were adopted at the conference will become operative in every sanitary pottery in the United States the second week in September.

Vice President Hutchins, speaking in reference to the conference, said: "The conclusions reached at the conference have a vital interest to the sanitary trade and they have been unanimously approved by the manufacturers. We have secured a uniform price list for packers and saggermakers; a basis for kiln work and a set of rules governing the employment of apprentice kilnmen, similar to those contained in the uniform price list of the general ware trade."

Since the conference the potters have devoted their attention to politics, which seems to be the all-absorbing topic. The clay workers are figuring prominently in the contests on both sides, and it is likely that the crockery trade will be well represented among the men who go to make up the municipal government.

John Brian, one of the owners of the Elite pottery and former manager of the Keystone pottery, is seeking a renomination for common council from the Eighth ward on the Republican ticket. Mr. Brian will have for his running mate Lewis Ellis, the candidate for freeholder, who is also a clay worker. John O. Gratton is another representative of the pottery industry who is trying for councilmanic honors on the Republican ticket. Louis J Deihl, the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Seventh ward, is one of the proprietors of the Elite pottery. Patrick Collins, a kilnman at the Anchor pottery, is the Democratic candidate for freeholder in the Eighth ward. Thomas Colclough, who is after a renomination on the Republican side for assembly, is a sanitary presser and is employed at Thomas Maddock & Sons.

THE BUFFALO PLANT.

Buffalo, August 29.—The Buffalo Pottery company, owned and operated by the Larkins soap people, will commence operating its new plant here October 1. The plant is acknowledged to be the finest in the east and in it such ware as can be used as premiums by the Larkins soap people will be manufactured. The equipment is not excelled in the United States. One item worthy of not is that every department requiring power will be operated by electricity.

The sagger makers and clay makers started to work on the 20th of this month and all will be in readiness to start in full on the date mentioned above. The four bisque kilns have been finished but the glost kilns are not quite ready for use.

The kiln sheds are said to be the most convenient in the country and as this opinion has been expressed by a practical potter, it can be taken as true. The warehouse and decorating department occupy a three-story brick structure and are most conveniently arranged, so that the ware can be transported from one department to another with very little labor. The clay department occupies a two-story building and is equipped with the latest patterns of jiggers. The mould makers, who have been at work for several months, have on hand a large number of the moulds for the different shapes and are ready for the start.

From what can be gathered at this point a line of general ware will be made and what is not used as premiums by the soap people will be offered to the general trade.

The capacity of the new plant is nine kilns, five glost and four bisque and several hundred men will be employed.

TANKARD ON EXHIBITION.

The fine tankard jug, from the K., T. & K. pottery, which is to be presented on Labor Day to President Roosevelt by the local branch of the National Letter Carriers' association, has been on exhibition for the past few days in a show window of Pattison's jewelry store, in the Diamond, where it has been admired by many hundreds of people. That the tankard is one of the finest pieces of art work turned out in the city is admitted by all who have seen it and those interested in the reputation of East Liverpool as a producer of fine ware need have no fear that the tankard will arouse anything but enthusiasm among those who are not acquainted with the potting industry of this city. A better selection could not have been made to call the attention of the president to the fact that East Liverpool is not only the producer of large quantities of ware, but ware of the first quality.

W. M. Carey, who has been selected as a delegate to the convention of the National Association, will take the tankard with him today, when he leaves for Syracuse, N. Y., the convention city. The gift will not be presented, however, until the parade on Labor Day.

MINERVA NOTES.

J. R. Scott has accepted a position in Carrollton as finisher.

DUFFY WILL SPEAK.

President T. J. Duffy, of the N. B. of O. P., has accepted the invitation of the Trades and Labor Assembly of Barberton, to deliver the principal address at the Labor day celebration to be held in that city. This is an honor worthily bestowed and is appreciated by President Duffy and the unionists of this city. From all indications the celebration will be the largest in the history of Barberton, which will be attended by many from surrounding towns.

POTTERY NOTES.

Alex Needham and John Smith, employed recently at Lisbon, have returned to this city and are working at Thompson's.

WHY WE ARE AGENTS

Here Are Some of the Convincing Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Things Known that Cure Chronic Kidney Diseases.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted with supposed incurable kidney diseases.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and told it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department of San Francisco.

The kidneys are the sewers that strain the poisons out of the system. We can stand the derangement for a short while, but when the interference becomes chronic (permanent), as first explained by Bright, it is only a question of how long before death will ensue. It is then called Brights Disease and incurable. All kidney troubles develop into this form about the 8th to 10th month. The above cases were incurable by all other known means. People having kidney disease should begin at first with the only known thing that will cure it if it has reached the serious stage. ROCK RUN COMPANY DRILLING AT MOSCOW

Owing to a mishap the well of the Rock Run Oil & Gas company, an East End corporation, now being drilled on the company's property in the Moscow field, will not be in at the time expected. The hole has been sunk to a depth of about 800 feet, and it was expected to reach the pay sand Monday, but the drillers lost their tools in the hole and have been working to recover them.

The company has excellent prospects to strike a paying well, as the field has turned out some good producers. The stockholders are hoping the bad luck that attended their initial effort in the Knoxville field will not be repeated. It will be remembered that their well there proved to be a duster, although in the midst of good producers.

The stockholders decided at that time to abandon the Knoxville field and develop the Moscow property. This determination was not made public and this is the first announcement that the new well is being drilled.

BRIDGE BADLY DAMACED IN YESTERDAY'S STORM

Many people have visited the Virginia avenue bridge over Lake Run which was so badly damaged as the result of the terrific rain yesterday afternoon. This stream at this point proved too narrow to carry the volume of water and the water spread over quite a large area. The bridge, which is built diagonally arcoss the street, is almost entirely ruined its entire length and the foundations and approaches were undermined until they caved in. Private property abutting on the street near the bridge was damaged to some extent.

The rain also wrought considerable damage along the track of the East Liverpool railway. Several fills will be necessary between Thompson's pottery and Mulberry street. At the end of the line a small section of the track was washed out. The county road near the state line is reported to be in an impassable condition, owing to the great amount of earth that was washed down upon it.

Col. Dixon Rode the Goat.

Buckeye Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held an interesting meeting last night, at which the goat was brought out for the initiation of Col. Sam Dixon into the mysteries of the order. The animal, realizing that it had a distinguished subject with which to deal, performed to the entire satisfaction of all present. Several applications for membership were favorably received.

Lecture Announced.

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. Dr. J. S. Secrest, of Bridgeport, will lecture at the Erie street M. E. church on next Tuesday evening. Dr. Secrest is district president of the Epworth League, an able scholar and an eloquent talker. Announcement of his topic will be made later.

A Barrel of Fine Apples.

J. L. Fulton received a barrel of fine apples yesterday from the farm of his father, D. S. Fulton, of Washington county. He has been handing a few of them out to his friends, who pronounce them the finest of the season. The apples are of two varieties, Summer Pippins and Maiden Blush.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Blanche Morris, of Pennsylvania avenue, East End, entertained her friends at a theatre party last evening at Rock Springs park. After the performance the party went to the dining hall, where a dainty lunch was served.

Dr. M. W. Taylor went to Darlington this afternoon to remain over Sunday with his parents.

C. J. Mensch, of Allegheny, who has been visiting W. C. Supplee and family, returned to his home yesterday.

J. F. Smith, the barber, leaves tomorrow for Cambridge Springs, where he will spend a few days for the benefit of his health.

Dr. Hendershot and his brother, Tom Hendershot, came in late last night from a squirrel hunt out in the woods around Sprucevale. It rained so hard during the day that they could not have seen a squirrel had there been any around.

Amos Jones, the man who had his leg broken about three months ago while at work on the railroad grade up Beaver creek, is just getting able to use his injured limb. He was a visitor to the East End this morning, from his home near Smith's Ferry, for the first time since the accident.

Heavy

Dull Feeling After Dinner.

Tortures of Death From Headache.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills Relieve and Cure.

"Nearly every day I suffered from severe attacks of headache. They usually began with a heavy, dull feeling soon after dinner. During these spells my head felt as though there was a tight bandage around it, my temples throbbed, I became sick at my stomach, and suffered almost the tortures of death. For two years past I have been taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and have found sure and immediate relief always. By taking one in time the headache is preventedevery time." —MRS. M. E. NOBLE, Garfield, Wash.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are all right. I can recommend them very highly to anyone who needs a remedy for headache, neuralgia, or pain of any kind. My health is not very good, and I am subject to frequent attacks of severe headache, but since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I do not suffer from them as I used to. They never fail to give relief in a few minutes, and if taken promptly upon the approach of a headache will prevent an attack from coming on."—MRS. WM. PEDRICK, Gloversville, N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Pain Pills grow in favor with me every day; for, whereas, I used to have sick headache once a week, sure, can say that I do not have it any more at all. I never had anything cure me of sick headache before."—CLAUDE TUCKER, Wallace, N. Y.

THE WILDS OF STARK

Canton, August 29.—John Eckert, of the Hirscheimer store, and Edward Morrow, of Court and Seventh streets, encountered an opossum on the street near the postoffice, while going to their homes. While the two were walking along together one of them thought he noticed a strange-looking cat, but when it came closer Eckert discovered that it was an opossum and gave it a kick. After Eckert kicked it he was greatly surprised to see three opossums instead of one.

The one he had kicked acted as if dead. It proved to be a mother opossum, which was carrying two of her offspring. The little ones, about the size of a large rat, were thrown upon the old one, and she soon took them and started to run. She was given another kick and landed in the cellar window of the postoffice in Eighth street. The opossums were removed and given to a colored man who works nearby.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that their is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches or other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. You get this reliable remedy at

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

"As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents.

"I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health.

"I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."---PROF. L. J. MILLER.

"Builds up the System."

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

Joseph Ridgeway.

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all it claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes:

"I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctored with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."—James B. Taylor.

"I Enjoy my Meals as I Used to."

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Wolf Lake, Ind., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Peruna. I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal. But, thanks to your Peruna, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals as I used to do, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine, Peruna.

"It has been one year since I was cured, and I am all O. K. yet, so I know I am cured."—J. W. Pritchard.

Dyspepsia is a very common phase of summer catarrh. A remedy that will cure catarrh of one location will cure it anywhere. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. That it is a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh of the stomach the above letters testify.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

For twenty five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. This remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. The news that Vice Consul Magelssen was not slain or even injured, though shot at by a would-be assassin, will be hailed with joy in this country. But it will cause no one to take back any harsh words he may have uttered about the sultan or the Turkish government in general. Neither will the sailing orders to American warships be withdrawn. An American squadron can do no harm in Turkish waters and may be sadly needed there. The fact that there are Turkish subjects who would be glad to murder an American representative shows the temper of the people and augurs ill for the safety of Americans and American interests during the present troubles. Admiral Cotton and some of his fleet will be suffered to proceed to the Orient and watch proceedings there.

Gas bills, with 25 per cent added, look rather inconsequential in a not month like August. Consumers should pause and think what the bills will look like in December and January and move and act accordingly. The raise in gas rates is declared illegal by excellent legal authority. This being the case East Liverpool citizens need to arouse themselves and prepare to hit the octopus squarely between the eyes. Patient toleration of a public outrage is not to be thought of. Now is the time for the Anti-Grab association to get busy.

The anti-imperialists among the Democrats do not like the appointment of General Luke E. Wright to succeed Judge Taft as the head of the Philippine commission. General Wright is and always has been a Democrat, but he never sympathized with the cowardly spirit that urges Uncle Sam to haul down the flag and abandon the islands. He is one of those who recognize that the United States has a duty and an obligation to the Filipinos, and that it can not be ignored without dishonor.

According to Corporal Tanner, all that the Democratic party will nominate a ticket for in 1904 is to keep up its organization. It looks that way. No Democrat of any sense believes that his party will win next year, but many Democrats look for their party to win some time. Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast.

The News Review was the only East Liverpool paper to present the petitions filed by the city of Salem in its suit against the Columbiana County Telephone company and the only local paper to mention this important matter, which is of interest to the whole county.

It will be interesting to know if John H. Clarke will publicly apologize to Ohio Democrats for bolting the nomination of Bryan in 1896. Bryan is withholding his opinion on the senatorial aspirant until he finds out.

The street department should take immediate steps to repair storm damage before damage suits result. There are unpaved streets in which holes were washed that are exceedingly dangerous.

It is said that Tom Johnson's policy is to rule or ruin. Looks as if he were in a fair way to do both to the Democratic party in Ohio.

Sir Thomas Lipton reluctantly admits that the Americans have the best boat. And he might add with truth, the best men to run it.

Mrs. G. W. Allison.

Mrs. G. W. Allison died at her home on Nottingham avenue at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an extended illness. The funeral services will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Allison was the wife of G. W. Allison, a well known grocer, and was one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the city. While her death was not unexpected, it came as a severe blow to the members of the family and a large circle of relatives and friends.

The Pittsburg Post, a Democratic paper, if there is one in existence, says editorially: "The Democratic state convention of Ohio gave a certain assent to the principle of the initiative and referendum in certain matters of legislation and law-making. It is applied specifically to all municipal legislation 'renewing, extending or modifying franchises,' requiring that they shall not be operative until confirmed by a majority vote of the people, with the 'prohibition of perpetual franchises altogether.' We believe these two declarations, and especially the latter, meet with the general approval of thoughtful citizens. But the Ohio convention went further, and pledged itself to the 'general principle of the initiative and referendum in all other matters of legislation.' This is an experiment of very doubtful merit. In fact, we doubt if it would be generally applied even if incorporated in our system of government. We have an illustration of this in Oregon, which has adopted the referendum in its entirety.

"In some other states it has been applied in modified form, but in Oregon the whole doctrine has been accepted by constitutional amendment. By this amendment, recently adopted, new legislation does not become operative until ninety days have elapsed after its approval by the governor. These ninety days give the objectors to certain legislation their opportunity. During that time 5 per cent of the voters by signing a petition can compel the submission of any act to which they object to the people voting at a special election, and only when indorsed by a majority of them does it go into effect.

"The Oregon legislature this year passed the usual number of laws, subject to the usual possibility of being submitted to the arbitrament of the ballot, but thus far, though some acts have awakened hostility, the necessary 5 per cent of the voters have not petitioned for a reference. Some of the labor unions tried to get a vote on the question of making an appropriation of $500,000 to the Lewis & Clark Exposition company, but only 3,900 signatures could be obtained for the petition for a reference, which is 400 less than the required 5 per cent of the voters.

"This shows the practicability of making the referendum of little effect in defeating laws passed by the legislature, although the principle may hold good. The provisions are rare, it is manifest, when it will be a curb on unpopular and indefensible legislation. The guards and restrictions on law-making by constitutional provisions are so effective and sweeping that the referendum would not be likely to be called into use, as it has been refused in Oregon. Another strong objection is that its adoption would abridge the responsibility of legislators, and impair the efficiency and independence of representatives of the people. It is a sentimental notion that will be of little practical value."

THE REALLY HUMOROUS FEATURE OF IT ALL

The really humorous feature of Mr. Johnson's convention Wednesday was the indorsement of John H. Clarke for the United States senate. Mr. Huntington's plea for Lentz and a united Democracy was funny, and so was the nomination of Mr. Monnett. But Mr. Clarke's indorsement far surpasses both.

In 1896 Mr. Clarke was the lusiest gold Democrat in Ohio. He presided over the convention of anti-Bryan Democrats in this city, and his speech on that occasion, a sounding plea for honest money and a bitter arraignment of Bryan and Bryanism, attracted favorable comment throughout the country. He gloried in the fact that he bolted the Bryan ticket.

The statement of Johnson that Clarke was converted to the free silver theory in 1900 is simply fake, says the Ohio State Journal. Clarke did vote for Bryan three years ago, but he made it plain that he did it solely on the expansion issue and under strong protest.

Clarke for many years has been one of the leading corporation attorneys of Ohio. On all questions involving the interests of the people or the corporations, he has sided with the latter. In the Columbus auditorium a year ago he declared that Mayor Johnson, who occupied the platform with him, had spoken falsely and like a demagogue when he alleged that a certain railroad company represented by Clarke did not pay its share of taxes.

Such is the man whom Bryan's personal representative in Ohio has crammed down the throat of a free silver convention. It looks as if Johnson, foreseeing the outcome of this campaign, were paying Clark back for what Clarke said about him last year.

Whatever Johnson's motives were, it may be set down as certain that he and Clarke will not discuss railroad taxation, "the paramount issue," from the same stump this fall. Or if they do they will answer each other.

All Bids Were Finally Rejected and New Ones Will Be Advertised For.

An adjourned meeting of the board of public service was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the board on Main street. The meeting was held especially for the purpose of opening bids on the new tool house which is to be located in the West End. No bids were received, however, and nothing could be done in this matter. It seems that all carpenter contractors are too busy at the present time to bid on such a small contract at a price anywhere near reasonable, and the tool house matter will have to be readvertised at a more dull season of the year when more carpenter contractors are able to take up the matter.

Other unfinished business of the meeting last Tuesday morning was taken up. The matter of letting the contract for the construction of a new sewer was taken up. It was found that it would require $2,375 to have this work done, and as there is only $2,000 in that fund, the contract could not be let, as the statute states very plainly that the money must be in the treasury before the contract can be let.

A lengthy communication was read to the board by the clerk, from City Solicitor Charles Boyd. The communication was sent upon the request of the board at its last meeting for a legal opinion of the legality of Contractor Freshwater's bid on the paving of Lisbon road. The contractor had claimed that the board and the city engineer in particular had treated him unfairly in the matter of plans and specifications for bidding. The communication stated that all contractors should be treated fairly. It also criticized the form of all proposals on paving bids and stated that there was room for improvement.

Attorney W. F. Lones, who was present, representing Contractor Freshwater in the matter of the two bids on the paving of Lisbon road and Steubenville street, stated to the board in behalf of Mr. Freshwater that when they bid on the Lisbon road paving their intentions were that the amount $1.32 for the paving complete include the broken stone edger which is rated at 14 cents per cubic foot in a separate item in the bid. Mr. Lones further stated that the bid of A. B. Clark, who had bid to do the work at $1.30 complete, on the same contract, was not legal as the items of labor and material had not been properly separated in that bid.

Mr. Clark, who was present when Mr. Lones made this statement, stated to the board that when he put in his bid, it was with all intentions of fairness. He said: "If you include the broken stone edges in Mr. Freshwater's bid of $1.32, then you must also include the sewer pipe in the same amount."

W. C. Stewart, the president of the board, said that in his opinion all of the bids on this contract ought to be rejected and new bids advertised for. Mr. Bowers, another member of the board, sided with Mr. Stewart in the matter. They both laid the blame for the trouble to City Engineer Leith, who failed to file the plans for this contract at the board of service office. Mr. Lones at this point suggested that Mr. Freshwater be allowed to change his bid by erasing the item of 14 cents for the edger, but this was not allowed, as the board held that if one contractor was given this privilege they all ought to be given the same right. The matter was finally decided by a motion by Herbert that all bids on the Lisbon road paving be rejected and the certified checks of $500 each be returned to the contractors. The motion was seconded by Bowers and passed.

The board wrangled for some time over the letting of the contract for the paving of Steubenville street. The same difficulty existed in the bids on this contract and President Stewart made a motion to reject these bids and readvertise, but for some unknown reason he could not get a second to the motion and the matter was allowed to hang fire.

Mr. Bowers moved that the clerk of the board be instructed to readvertise for bids on the Lisbon road improvement, for a period of two weeks. Herbert seconded this motion, but when put to a vote, President Stewart voted nay and afterwards explained that there had been nothing included in the motion to compel the city engineer to file the plans for this contract at the office of the board. The motion held good, however. A few other matters were disposed of after which the board adjourned.

In Running Order Again.

Supt. Ewing, of the Wellsville water works, has reported the arrival of the new piston rod from the Worthington company, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The new rod was placed in position this morning at the pumping station and the old broken rod was taken out. The plant has now been placed in first-class running order again, and there is a plentiful supply of water.

MANY COMPLAINTS

During the course of the meeting of the board of public service yesterday a number of complaints were received from different parts of the city regarding the poor condition of certain sewers where the storm water of the heavy storm yesterday was doing damage to personal property.

A taxpayer owning property on Steubenville street stated that the cellar in his house had become flooded and that the same conditions existed at the houses of many of his neighbors, all on account of the lack of a good sewer. The Bunting run sewer was the main cause of the damage. Nothing could be done to relieve the situation by the board. No one could be employed to attend to the matter, as the road fund of the city is already overdrawn.

Complaints were also received from residents at the intersection of Main and Ninth streets, where the storm sewer was overtaxed during the storm and the cellars and first floors of two houses were flooded. No action was taken by the board on any of these complaints.

NEW WAY TO TREAT HAY FEVER

It is claimed for this remedy that it stops the spasmodic paroxysms of sneezing, the smarting and running of the eyes and nose, and other acute symptoms of this disease.

Many persons have been cured of hay fever by Hyomei and its inventors profess to be able to prevent both the occurrnce of the annual attacks and to arrest the progress of the disease when in the most chronic form.

Among those who have been cured by Hyomei are J. F. Forbes, chief dispatcher B. & M. R. R., McCook, Neb., who writes: "I have never had relief from any remedy for hay fever even temporarily, until I used Hyomei, but will always recommend it whenever occasion offers."

A. Hamlin, westford, Mass., writes, "Hyomei cured me of hay fever in one week's time. I consider it a duty to tell others who suffer from this disease."

These endorsements are samples of hundreds that have been received by the manufacturers of Hyomei, but Will Reed's offer to refund the money if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it, is the strongest proof that can be offered as to the reliance they place upon Hyomei to cure hay fever.

HORSE AND CROCKERY WENT OVER THE BANK

A one-horse wagon heavily laden with crockery ware tumbled over a steep embankment in Jetnro yesterday afternoon, dragging the horse and driver with it. The driver escaped injury, but the animal may die from the effects of the hurts received in the fall.

Benjamin Sanford is a crockery dealer in a small way and yesterday had prepared his wagon for a trip to the country. The owner resides below the bridge in Jetnro and on account of the steep hill there it is a difficult task to haul even an empty wagon to the top of the bank.

Sanford's horse is aged and not over strong, and when the outfit was near the home of Joe Bratt he stalled. The load was so heavy that it was impossible for the horse to hold it and the whole outfit backed over the bank. Sanford jumped to avoid being crushed and the horse, becoming entangled in the harness, was caught in the fall and held a prisoner for some time.

It was found impossible to get the horse back onto the road, and when he was released from the harness, the owner, with the assistance of several others, rolled him over a high stone wall. The fall nearly killed the aged animal, but he was finally dragged to his feet and taken to the barn nearly dead.

The crockery ware was a total wreck and the wagon was badly demolished. The loss to Sanford will be considerable.

But For Timely Assistance Mrs. Homer McLane Might Have Been Killed.

Mrs. Homer McLane was attacked by a cow on Carolina avenue yesterday afternoon and had it not been for the prompt action of Watchman George Prosser, of the tin mill, she might have been killed.

Mrs. McLane had left her home in the mill addition to do some shopping on Carolina avenue, and while returning to her home was met on the street by a cow belonging to Samuel Martin. The animal was half starved, and had been roaming about the town all day. Mrs. McLane noticed that the cow was acting strangely, but paid little attention to it until she was convinced that she was being pursued. The animal ran Mrs. McLane up the street to the intersection of Sixth street, where she was about to climb over a fence to escape, when George Prosser, watchman at the mill, appeared on the scene and succeeded in subduing the infuriated beast. Mrs. McLane was taken to her home in a state of nervous collapse, and is very ill today. The residents of the vicinity say the cow is a dangerous animal and steps will be taken to either keep her up or put her out of the way.

MARCH OF IMPROVEMENT

Contractor Freshwater and his force commenced work this morning on the improvement of Carolina avenue, and the abutting stone ordered by the city is now being placed in position.

The piece of work was an unusual one, having been ordered long ago. John Shrader bought the property on which his home now stands from the Gardners, and the former owners had dedicated a portion of the tract for street purposes. After Shrader got possession of the property he forbade the city to improve the street. The records were examined and after it had been made clear the city was entitled to the right of way, Contractor Freshwater was authorized to go ahead with the work.

First street has been completed, and no move has yet been made by Shrader to prevent the improvement by paving. The authorities are now convinced that Mr. Shrader was endeavoring to make a bluff. It is the opinion of the Chester councilmen that Mr. Shrader did not have the authority he claimed to possess in the beginning, and for that reason has given up the fight.

A Project That Involves the Opening of Mines and Building of Railroads.

Wheeling, August 29.—The News has information to the effect that a coal and railroad project of enormous proportions is on foot, which will result in the opening up of numerous coal mines in Ohio county and through Washington county, Pa., and the building of a railroad through the two counties that will connect up a tract of 30,000 acres of coal with the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Wabash railroads as well as the Ohio river. The project involves the expenditures of several million dollars. For several years W. H. H. Bulger has been taking up coal lands in the interior of Ohio and Washington counties, aggregating all told something like 30,000 acres. Later the coal was turned over to the Pittsburg Seam Coal company, a Pittsburg corporation. Now, it is alleged, the Pittsburg Seam Coal company has passed into the control of another and larger Pittsburg coal company, known as the railroad coal combine of Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg company, it is said, has decided to enter soon upon the development of its large holdings in Ohio and Washington counties, and has recently placed an engineer in the field in the person of Fred Ferrett, late in the employ of the United States government. It is said the company will build a railroad through Ohio and Washington counties, starting from the Ohio river in the vicinity of Short Creek, just at the northwestern border of Short Creek, and thence running through its coal holdings in Richland, Triadelphia and Liberty districts, into Washington county to a point on the Baltimore & Ohio. The advantage of a line like this is that it would give the coal company connection at Short Creek with the Pennsylvania lines and with the river for barge shipments, and at Vienna for rail shipments on the Baltimore & Ohio system. A small branch line would give connection with the new Wabash at Cross Creek in Brooke county.

gives too much influence to individuals. The only thing that I think can be said against the board plan is that it costs too much. Who is to blame? It is not the law, but the councils. In many instances councils fixed the salaries too high. Clerks who got $150 were advanced to $1,500. This was all wrong, and of course the code was made to bear the blame. As soon as salaries are placed upon a fair basis the board system of the code will be found to be all right."

Attorney General Sheets' letter to delinquent Willis law concerns threatening prosecution if they did not comply with the law by a given time, has had the desired effect. Checks and reports have been coming in from these corporations and the returns show that many of the delinquents are bankrupt or inactive.

Mrs. Robert Starkey, of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, East Liverpool, has returned home after spending two weeks at the home of Mr. Charles C. Green, cashier of the Ohio state treasury, at Worthington street, this city.

Judge J. B. Kennedy, of Youngstown, was here on business yesterday. He reported the condition of Congressman Kennedy, who is suffering with typhoid fever in Youngstown, to be somewhat improved.

SALINEVILLE

Salineville, August 29.—Rev. G. W. Travis, a colored minister, pastor of the A. M. E. church of Cadiz, was accidentally killed by the discharge of his gun while out hunting. He was accompanied by two young man and was about ready to return home when in putting his gun on a log beside him it slipped off and was discharged in his temple. Death resulted in 15 minutes. The remains were taken to Danville, Va., for interment. He leaves a wife and babe.

The ball game between the Athletics, of East Liverpool, and the Salineville team on Thursday resulted in favor of Salineville, 5 to 2.

Mrs. George Helm and daughters arrived home Thursday after a short visit among friends.

A grand rally and picnic of the United Presbyterian Sunday schools of Scroggsfield, Mechanicstown, Glade Run, Yellow Creek, Bergholz, Grant's Hill, Carrollton and Salineville was held on Thursday at Nelson's grove, on the Mechanicstown and Salineville road, in Carroll county. Brief addresses were made by Rev. John Campbell, Hartstown, Pa.; Rev. W. J. Engle, of Scroggsfield, and Fred Wright, of Carrollton. The music was led by T. M. George, of Yellow Creek. The choirs of the different schools were present.

A union picnic of the Presbyterian and United Presbyterian Sunday schools of Salineville was held at Cold Spring grove on the Kirk farm yesterday.

Mrs. Willis P. Lewton and her three daughters, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thompson, after a week's visit at Cadiz, have returned home.

WAYNESBURG TEAM SORELY DISSAPPOINTED

Even before the rain of yesterday afternoon Manager Reark found it necessary to cancel the series of games with the Waynesburg team, owing to the muddy condition of the West End park. The Waynesburg players arrived in the city in time for the game scheduled for Thursday and have been quartered at the Lakel. They have been playing a fast article of ball and fans were sorely disappointed when it became apparent that old Jupiter Pluvius had got in his deadly work and prevented the contest.

Only an ordinary amount of rain is necessary to ood the field at the West End park, and the continuous performance in the wet goods line during the past few days has placed the diamond in a horrible condition. Considerable work will be necessary to counteract the work of the rain so that the opening games of next week will find the field in good condition.

As has been previously announced, the strong Niles team will be the attraction the first three days of next week. There have been but few changes in the lineup and the team is as strong as it was earlier in the season. Kommer, the twirler, who aroused the ire of the fans when Niles was here before, has been pitching good ball. He showed in the game here that he is a rank quitter when under the fire of the rooters, and it is needless to state that they will go after him in great shape when he essays to pitch. Glassburner, who played in left garden while the team was here, has also been doing consistent slab work. All the locals ask is another crack at the veteran Charley Crowe and they promise to pound out another victory. He was pie for "Big Heck," who had five safeties out of the six times he faced him.

Manager Reark has been looking up available talent to strengthen the locals, and asked the Vasbinders, who have been with the strong Salineville team, to come over and help him out. Jim Vasbinder, who played middle field for the coal diggers in that heart-stirring Saturday afternoon matinee at the West End park, is head and shoulders above most amateur players in this section. Until a dispute arose between him and the manager he was a member of the Minneapolis team of the American association and was making good. He is a good hitter, a star pitcher and can be counted on to help out with the stick. Al Vasbinder is also a fine player, and either one of these boys would strengthen the locals.

It is likely that the old reliable Morg Winters will be called upon to face the Niles bunch in the opener. Morg pitched the only winner the locals have been able to land from Niles this season and will come pretty near turning the trick again. Lawrence will follow him to the slab in the second game, and if he pitches in anything like the form he showed against the Herron Hill bunch the locals will win in a walk.

HANDLERS DEFEATED THE JIGGERMEN

The handlers and jiggermen at Cartwright's played a fast and very interesting game yesterday, the score being 8 to 7 in favor of the handlers. Both teams hit remarkably well and the errors were scarce. The score:

The management of the Wheeling Baseball club is looking ahead to the season of 1904, says the Wheling News. Young players of promise are being given a show on the tail-end of the present season, and when they demonstrate their ability, are being signed up so they can be reserved for the season of 1904. Miller and McNicol, both pitchers, have made good already and are assured of berths on next year's team. Last evening Pitcher Sweeney, of the Sistersvilles, came to town, and is being given a try-out in the morning practice of the Stogies today.

Wheeling followers of the game who saw Sweeney perform recently against the U. C. T. team believe he can go the Central League pace and then some. Another pitcher expected to report soon is J. C. Tannehill, who has been employed in a Steubenville factory for some time, and who writes Treasurer Irwin that he will be on hand. Tannehil is touted as a great pitcher, and Wheeling may have a great find in the cousin of the famous New York twirler.

BENEFIT GAME FOR CHARLES CULLEGE

A benefit game is to be played in Wellsville this afternoon by the Marines, of this city, and the first team of Wellsville. The receipts will go to Charles College, who was injured recently. Following is the lineup of the Marines: Cartwright, c; Shingler, p; Rowe, s; Chadwick, 1b; McNicol, 2b; Brown, 3b; McBane, lf; Mays, m; Wheeler, rf; McGee and Miller, subs.

Carroll Club vs. East End Grays.

The East End Grays and the Carroll club, playing a series of games for a prize of $50, will come together this afternoon for the second time at Columbian park. The lineups will be as follows: Carroll Club—O'Hanlon, c; Bailey, s; Callahan, p; McKeever, 1b; Hobbs, 2b; Godwin, 3b; Dougherty, lf; Gilgallon, m; Nagle, rf. East End Grays—T. Herbert, c; Meeks, s; Chambers, p; Walker, 1b; Owens, 2b; Allison, 3b; Denning-Phillips, lf; H. Herbert, m; Bolton, rf.

Warm Game Promised.

A pretty game of ball will be played at Empire this afternoon. The second Y. M. C. A. team of this city will be up against the crack Empire bunch. The lineup of the local team will be as follows: Rigby, lf; Mumford, c; W. Powell, 1b; O. Powell, s; Carey, 2b; Pope, 3b; E. Powell, m; Bridge, rf; Welsh, p.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is estimated that the New York Giants will play to more people this season than any team in the history of the game.

The Pittsburg horseman, Dave G. McDonald, has purchased the trotter Almerion 2:18¼ for $4,000. He is one of the best half-mile track trotters in Pennsylvania.

It is claimed that the talent has lost $15,000,000 at the Saratoga race meeting, the largest sum ever won by the bookies at any American race meet. John A. Drake has lost thousands.

MONEY AWAITS ECCENTRIC MAN

Salem, August 29.—Supt. M. M. Southworth, of the Fairmount Children's home, is at present engaged in making an ardent search for the person of one George W. Eulitt, who will be remembered by residents of Salem as an eccentric character about town, porter for the Broadway hotel and drummer for the once famous "Terrace Inn."

Eulitt is well known here and at Damascus and Alliance, where he had frequently worked. He was raised at Damascus, and spent the greater part of his youth in this vicinity. Just at present he is a much sought individual, and should he be located will probably find himself in comfortable circumstances for life, provided he is ready to accept the conditions and terms of the will of Ridgeway Carr, which has recently come to light, which names himself and his young son, Wallace Eulitt, now an inmate of the Fairmount Children's home, as beneficiaries. This explains the efforts of Supt. Southworth in locating Eulitt. The property, valued at about $3,000, was to go to the Eulitts, but was sold in settling up the estate.

THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery has since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

Mrs. Sarah M. Peppel, widow of Jacob Peppel, died at Leetonia at the age of 93 years. She was one of the eldest persons in Salem township.

The Wheeling Baseball association has been sued for $10,000 damages by Robert Crisswell, who was badly injured by falling from a scaffold at the grand stand, where he was working as a carpenter.

The grading for the roadbed of the Stark Electric Railroad company's line between Garfield and Beloit is being pushed rapidly by W. J. McGinty, who has the contract for the grading of the entire section between Sebring and Salem.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

STATE FAIR RACES

The average reader takes announcements of shows and fairs with the proverbial "grain of salt." Aside from the fact that the West Virginia State Fair, now in its twenty-third year, has been personally visited by nearly every adult in this community, all of whom can attest the truthfulness of representations by the management, the purses and prizes which are hung up indicate that the fair which opens at Wheeling on September 7 and continues all week is to be conducted on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

One department will serve to illustrate the point. Last year when it was announced that $5,950 would be given in purses for the races, there were those who predicted the bankruptcy of the association. It was found, however, that liberality brings fast steppers, and fast steppers bring the crowds, and that therefore the big purses paid. There was one race for a $1,000 purse. This year there are two $1,000 purses, and the aggregate money for the speed contests will be $6,850. The same liberal spirit will govern the expenditures in other departments.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

GOVERNOR'S VETO.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1903, to amend section 16, of article II, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 16. Every bill shall be fully and distinctly read three different days, unless in case of urgency three-fourths of the house in which it shall be pending, shall dispense with the rule. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no law shall be revived, or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed.

Every bill passed by both houses of the general assembly shall, before said bill can become law, be presented to the governor. If he approves he shall sign said bill and thereupon said bill shall be law. If he object he shall not sign and shall return said bill, together with his objections thereto in writing, to the house wherein said bill originated, which house shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members-elect of that house vote to pass said bill it shall be sent, together with said objection, to the other house, which shall enter at large upon its journal said objection and shall proceed to reconsider said bill. If, after said reconsideration, at least two-thirds of the members-elect of that house vote to pass said bill it shall be law, otherwise it shall not be law. The votes for the repassage of said bill shall in each house respectively be no less than those given on the original passage. If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor is not signed and is not returned to the house wherein it originated and within ten days after being so presented, exclusive of Sunday and the day said bill was presented, said bill shall be law as in like manner as if signed, unless final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return, in which case shall be law, unless objected to by the governor and filed, together with his objection thereto in writing, by him in the office of the secretary of state within the prescribed ten days; and the secretary of state shall at once make public said fact and shall return said bill, together with said objection, upon the opening of the next following session of the general assembly, to the house wherein said bill originated, where it shall be treated in like manner as if returned within the prescribed ten days.

If any bill passed by both houses of the general assembly and presented to the governor contains two or more sections, or two or more items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more of said sections or to one or more of said items of appropriation of money, and approve the other portion of said bill, in which case said approved portion may be signed and then shall be law; and such section or sections item or items of appropriation of money objected to shall be returned within the time and in the manner prescribed for, and shall be separately reconsidered as in the case of, a whole bill; but if final adjournment of the general assembly prevents such return the governor shall file said section or sections, item or items of appropriation of money, together with his objection thereto in writing, with the secretary of state as in the case of a whole bill, and the secretary of state shall then make public said fact, but shall not further act as in the case of a whole bill."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—yes;" and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Constitutional amendment—governor's veto—no."

W. S. McKINNON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
F. B. ARCHER,
President of the Senate.

Adopted May 2, 1902.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, OHIO,
Office of the Secretary of State.

I, LEWIS C. LAYLIN, Secretary of State of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a Joint Resolution adopted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio on the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1902, taken from the original rolls now on file in this office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed my official seal, at Columbus, the 27th day of January, A. D. 1903.

LEWIS C. LAYLIN,

MUNICIPAL CLASSIFICATION.

SECTION 1. That a proposition shall be submitted to the voters of the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend article 13, section 6, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

"Article 13, Section 6. The general assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of cities, incorporated villages and hamlets and restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts and loaning their credit, so as to prevent the abuse of such power; provided, that the general assembly may divide cities into not more nor less than three classes, and if such division is made the classification shall be as follows and not otherwise. All cities having a population of more than one hundred thousand shall be cities of the first class; all cities having a population of not more than one hundred thousand nor less than twenty-five thousand shall be cities of the second class; all others shall be cities of the third class."

SECTION 2. At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, yes"; and those opposed to such amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words: "Municipal classification amendment, no."

SECTION 3. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1904.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF OHIO.

TAXATION.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of this state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1903, to amend section 2 of article XII, of the constitution of the state of Ohio, so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

Sec. 2. The general assembly shall provide for the raising of revenue for all state and local purposes in such manner as it shall deem proper. The subjects of taxation for state and local purposes shall be classified, and the taxation shall be uniform on all subjects of the same class, and shall be just to the subject taxed. Only burying grounds, public schoolhouses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public property used exclusively for any public purpose, and personal property to an amount not exceeding in value two hundred dollars for each individual, may, by general laws, be exempted from taxation; and the value of all property so exempted shall, from time to time, be ascertained and published, as may be directed by law.

At such election those electors desiring to vote for such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment," "Yes;" and those opposed to such amendment may have placed upon their ballots the words, "Taxation amendment" "No."

COUNTY LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: (Three-fifths of all the members elected to each house concurring therein), That a proposition shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Ohio, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1903 to amend section 2, article 11, of the constitution of the state, so that it shall read as follows:

Section 2, Article 11.—Every county having a population equal to one-half of said ratio, shall be entitled to one representative; every county, containing said ratio, and three-fourths over, shall be entitled to two representatives; every county containing three times said ratio, shall be entitled to three representatives; and so on, requiring after the first two, an entire ratio for each additional representative. Provided, however, that each county shall have one representative.

Section 2. At said election the voters in favor of the adoption of the amendment to section 2, article 11, shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—Yes," and those who do not favor the adoption of said amendment shall have placed upon their ballots the words, "Amendment to section 2, article 11, of constitution—No."

EVERYBODY knows the remarkable medicinal value of cod liver oil, but few people can take the ordinary, nauseating kind.

Until Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil (with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda) was compounded, a really pleasant and palatable cod liver oil was unknown. The first taste of Hagee's Cordial will dispel all prejudice.

Especially valuable in hot weather—a time when its wonderful properties are so much needed to help nature replenish the extra consumption of vitality, caused by excessive heat. A fine tonic food for puny children. Contains no grease. Agrees with the weakest stomach.

GRAUSTARK

...By...

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the car stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers thereVII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

"You are mad, sir, to talk like this," protested the other despairingly. "Edelweiss swarms with Axphain soldiers: our own men are on the alert to win the great reward. You cannot go to the city. When a safe time comes, you will be taken from this place, into the mountains instead of through the city, and given escort to Dassas, 100 miles east. That step will not be taken until the way is perfectly clear. I tell you, sir, you cannot hope to escape if you leave the monastery now. The mountains are full of soldiers every night."

"I didn't say anything about an escape, did I? On the contrary, I want to give myself up to her. Then she can have Gabriel thrown over the castle wall and say to Bolaroz: 'Here is your man. I've gained the ten years of grace.' That's the point, Quinnox. Can't you see it? And I want to say to you now I'm going whether you consent or refuse. I'd just as soon be in jail down there as up here anyhow. The only favor I have to ask of you is that you do the best you can to get me safely to her. I must talk with her before I go back to the tower."

"God help me, sir, I cannot take you to her!" groaned Quinnox, trying to control his nervous apprehension. "I have sworn to her that I will keep you from all harm, and it would be to break faith with her if I led you into that mob down there."

"I respect your oath, my friend, but I am going, just the same. I'll see her, too, if I have to shoot every man who attempts to prevent me. I'm desperate, man, desperate! She's everything in the world to me, and I'll die before I'll see her suffer."

"Her suffering now is as nothing compared to what it will be if you go back to the tower. You forget how much pain she is enduring to avoid that very suffering. If you care for my mistress, sir, add no weight to the burden she already carries. Remain here, as she desires. You can be of no service down there. I implore you to be considerate."

It was an eloquent appeal, and it struck home. Lorry wavered, but his resolution would not weaken. He argued first with Quinnox, then with himself, finally returning to the reckless determination to brave all and save her from herself. The soldier begged him to listen to reason, implored him to reconsider, at last turning in anger upon the stubborn American with a torrent of maledictions. Lorry heard him through and quietly, unswervingly, announced that he was ready to leave the monastery at any time his guide cared to depart. Quinnox gave up in despair at this, gazing hopelessly at the man he had sworn to protect, who insisted on placing his head in the lion's jaw. He sat down at the window and murmured dejectedly:

"What will she say to me—what will she say to me?"

"I shall exonerate you, captain. She can have no fault to find with your action after I have told her how loyal you are and how—how—well, how unreasonable I am," said Lorry kindly.

"You may never live to tell her this, sir. Then what is to become of me? I could not look her in the face again. I could only die!"

"Don't be so faint hearted, Quinnox!" cried Lorry, stimulated by the desire to be with her, recognizing no obstacle that might thwart him in the effort. "We'll get through safe and sound, and we'll untangle a few complications before we reach the end of the book. Brace up, for heaven's sake, for mine, for hers, for your own. I must get to her before everything is lost. The fear that she may marry Gabriel will drive me mad if I am left here another night. Come! Let us prepare to start. We must notify the abbot that I am to go. I can be ready in five minutes. Ye gods, think of what she may be sacrificing for me!"

Lorry soon was attired in the guard's uniform he had worn from the tower a month before. His pistol was in his pocket, and the bunch of violets she had sent to him that very night was pinned defiantly above his heart. Quinnox smiled when he observed this bit of sentiment, and grimly informed him that he was committing an act prohibited in Dangloss' disciplinary rules. Officers on duty were not to wear nosegays.

"Dangloss will not see my violets. By the way, the moon shines brightly, doesn't it?"

"It is almost as light as day. Our trip is made extremely hazardous for that reason. I am sorely afraid, rash sir, that we cannot reach the castle unseen."

"We must go about it boldly; that's all."

"Has it occurred to you, sir, that you are placing me in a terrible position? What excuse can I have, a captain of the guard, for slinking about at night with a man whom I am supposed to be tracking to earth? Discovery will brand me as a traitor. I cannot deny the charge without exposing her royal highness."

Lorry turned cold. He had not thought of this alarming possibility. But his ready wit came again to his relief, and with bright, confident eyes he swept away the obstacle.

"If discovered, you are at once to proclaim me a prisoner, take the credit for having caught me and claim the reward."

"In that case you will not go to the castle, but to the tower."

"Not if you obey orders. The offer of reward says that I must be delivered to the undersigned. You will take me to her and not to the tower."

Quinnox smiled and threw up his hands as if unable to combat the quick logic of his companion. Together they made their way to the prior's cell, afterward to the abbot's apartment. It was barely 11 o'clock, and he had not retired. He questioned Quinnox closely, bade Lorry farewell and blessed him, sent his benediction to the princess and ordered them conducted to the gates.

Ten minutes later they stood outside the wall, the great gates having been closed sharply behind them. Above them hung the silvery moon, full and bright, throwing its refulgent splendor over the mountain top with all the brilliancy of day. Never before had Lorry seen the moon so accursedly bright.

"'Gad, it is like day," he exclaimed.

"As I told you, sir," agreed the other, reproof in his voice.

"We must wait until the moon goes down. It won't do to risk it now. Can we not go somewhere to keep warm for an hour or so?"

"There is a cave farther down the mountain. Shall we take the chance of reaching it?"

"By all means. I can't endure the cold after being cooped up for so long."

They followed the winding road for some distance down the mountain, coming at last to a point where a small path branched off. It was the path leading down the side of the steep overlooking the city, and upon that side no wagon road could be built. Seven thousand feet below stretched the sleeping, moonlit city. Standing out on the brow of the mountain, they seemed to be the only living objects in the world. There was no sign of life above, below or beside them.

"How long should we be in making the descent?" asked Lorry, a sort of terror possessing him as he looked from the dizzy height into the ghostlike dimness below.

"There is a secret entrance," said Quinnox, maliciously enjoying the insistent one's acknowledgment of weakness. "If we reach it safely, I can take you under ground to the old dungeons beneath the castle. It may be some time before you can enter the halls above, for the secret passage is guarded jealously. There are but five people who know of its existence."

"Great confidence is placed in you, I see, and worthily, I am sure. How is it that you are trusted so implicitly?"

"I inherit the confidence. The captain of the guard is born to his position. My ancestors held the place before me, and not one betrayed the trust. The firstborn in the last ten generations has been the captain of the guard in the royal palace, possessing all its secrets. I shall be the first to betray the trust, and for a man who is nothing to me."

"I suppose you consider me selfish and vile for placing you in this position," said Lorry, somewhat contritely.

"No. I have begun the task, and I will complete it, come what may," answered the captain firmly. "You are the only being in the world for whom I would sacrifice my honor voluntarily save one."

"I have wondered why you were never tempted to turn traitor to the princess and claim the fortune that is represented in the reward."

"Not for 5,000,000 gavvos, sir!"

"By George, you are a faithful lot—Dangloss, Allode and Ogbot and yourself, four honest men to whom she trusts her life, her honor! You belong to a rare species, and I am proud to know you."

The stealthy couple found the cave and spent an hour or more within its walls, sallying forth after the tardy darkness had crept down over the mountain and into the peaceful valley. Then began the tortuous descent. Quinnox in the lead, they walked, crawled and ran down the narrow path, bruised, scratched and aching by the time they reached the topmost of the summer houses along the face of the mountain. After this walking was easier, but stealthiness made their progress slow. Frequently as they neared the base they were obliged to dodge behind houses or to drop into the ditches by the roadside in order to avoid patrolling police guards or Axphain sleuthhounds.

At last, stiff and sore, they stole into the narrow streets of Edelweiss. Lorry glanced back and shivered, although the air was warm and balmy. He had truly been out of the world. Not until this instant did he fully appreciate the dread that possesses a man who is being hunted down by tireless foes. Never did man's heart go out in gratitude and trustfulness as did his toward the strong defender whose sinewy arm he clasped as if in terror.

"You understand what this means to me," said Quinnox gravely as they paused to rest. "She will call me your murderer and curse me for my miserable treason. I am the first to dishonor the name of Quinnox."

Gloomy thoughts become habitual to the dyspeptic. He looks on the dark side of things and every mole hill becomes a mountain. His condition affects his business judgment and mars his home relations.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It gives buoyancy of mind as well as health of body because it removes the physicial cause of mental depression.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the body is strengthened by nutrition which is the only source of physical strength.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on. I have to be careful yet, at times, of what I eat, in order that I may feel good and strong. I fully believe if any one suffering with indigestion or torpid liver or chronic cold would take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' and observe a few simple hygienic rules, they would soon be greatly benefited, and with a little perseverance would be entirely cured."

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—The bodies of the three young women who were drowned in Girty's run have been recovered. The accident was a most pathetic one. The girls were returning from a party in the country and were in a buggy. The road skirting the run had been undermined by the stream and it gave way. Four girls were in the buggy, but one of them was rescued by two young men who accompanied the girls. The dead are Myrtle and Nannie Scott, aged 20 and 18 years, of Evergreen, and Annie Cloffart, aged about 20, of Oak station.

No Trouble With Indians.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 29.—Major Scott, acting Indian agent, who reached Walker, wires that there has been no trouble with the Indians and that none is expected. Two or three vagabond Indians, one of whom was thrown into jail for selling liquor, have been trying to make trouble, but the remainder are attending to their pursuits as usual. The story of a prospective uprising is laid to the complaints made by a few and to the activity of an imaginative correspondent.

Found Dying from Bullet Wound.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 29.—John Kostich, whose parents, said to be of noble blood, were murdered recently in Austria, was found near Centerville almost dead from a bullet in the breast. The police are undecided as to whether Kostich attempted to commit suicide or was shot by others.

Physicians and scientists throughout the world have long since pronounced drunkenness a disease of the nervous system, creating a morbid craving for a stimulant. Systems vary as to the kind of drink that will satisfy this craving—some want whiskey, others beer, wine, kimmel, etc., the use of which will eventually result in ruining the health and bringing on disease, in many cases ending in death.

"ORRINE" permanently removes the craving for liquor, restores the organs of the stomach to their natural condition and improves the appetite and digestion. It contains no injurious drugs of any description. "ORRINE" can be given without the patient's knowledge, if desired, in tea, coffee, water or milk. It requires no office or sanitarium treatment, but can be taken at home. We will refund the money if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Mr. E. T. Sims, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Use my name as a twenty-year drunkard restored to manhood and health by 4 boxes of 'ORRINE.' It is a wonderful and marvelous cure for the drink habit."

The price of "ORRINE" is $1 per box, 6 boxes for $5. Mailed in plain, sealed wrapper, by ORRINE Co., 817 14th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. Interesting booklet (sealed) free on request. Sold and recommended by

LIFE PLANT

Do you suffer with INDIGESTION—are you distressed after eating—does a torpid liver make you feel miserable—out of sorts—at variance with the world? Do the kidneys fail to perform their duty, giving backache and general lassitude? Are you all worn out?

LIFE PLANT will relieve quickly and cure permanently—no disappointment—no failure—it has cured thousands of others—it will cure you.

Rev. J. H. Merchant, Pastor M. E. church at Freeport, O., writes under date July 10, 1900: I take pleasure, and do not hesitate to recommend Life Plant as an excellent remedy for Liver and Kidney difficulties. Mrs. Merchant desires to bear testimony to the healing virtues of Life Plant, as a sure and certain remedy for Rheumatism.

NERVAN TABLETS

The great nerve tonic and blood remedy, produce plumpness, rounds out hollowness, bring the bloom of youth to the cheeks, and all who take them enjoy good health and strength. Nervan Tablets act on the nerves and blood and contain all the elements of life. Positively

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

HOME AFFAIRS

No Action Taken—The Y. M. C. A. directors at a meeting last evening discussed the question of a new secretary and a new physical director, but no action was taken.

Horses at Auction—An auction sale of horses was held yesterday at the stable of John Rinehart. The horses were brought here by Walding Bros., of New York, and 26 were sold.

The Mayor Going Abroad—Mayor Weaver has announced his intention of taking a month's vacation, commencing September 29, on which date he will sail aboard the palatial steamer, Wilhelm der Grosse, for Leipsic. He will be accompanied by his accomplished daughter, Miss Goldie, who will remain in Leipsic for the winter, attending a musical conservatory. Miss Weaver is very talented in music and will be given an extensive course in school abroad.

Two Drunks Arrested—Two arrests were made by the police last night. Tim O'Donnell was found by Officer Woods on the green of Col. Hill. He was drunk and fast asleep. He acknowledged his guilt this morning and was fined $2 and costs. Having no money, he was allowed to leave for Beaver Falls, where he said he had work. W. N. Bell was arrested by Officers McDermott and Saulsberry for being drunk and disorderly. He was fined the customary amount.

NEW OFFICERS FOR THE INSTITUTE

Leetonia, August 29.—(Special.)—The Columbiana County Teachers' institute, which has been in session here since Monday, closed its sessions yesterday, and most of the visitors departed during the forenoon and immediately after dinner. The final session was not largely attended owing to the visitors leaving.

New officers were elected for the county yesterday as follows: Prof. W. L. McDonald, of Wellsville, president; Theodore Kellogg, of Salineville, vice president; Miss Elma Rauch, of Leetonia, secretary; member of the executive commitee for three years, Prof. Oliver, of the East Palestine schools.

It was decided to hold the next year's institute at Rogers, beginning September 23. The number of visitors to the institute registered here was 201.

Bright Spick Span New Dwellings.

$2500 Six rooms, slate roof, front and rear portico, cellar, gas, electric light wiring, sanitary plumbing, bath, hot and cold water, golden oak grain throughout, just finished and within five minutes walk of the Diamond, on Minerva street. No hill to climb. Terms—$500 down, balance $20 monthly.

$3100 Seven rooms and finished attic, slate roof, cabinet mantle, good cellar, sanitary plumbing, bath, hot and cold water, electric light wiring, grained in golden oak, front and rear porticos. No hill to climb. One half square east of Walnut street on Minerva. Terms—$500 down and balance $25 monthly.

$2175 Six rooms, slate roof, large front portico, good cellar, wired for electricity, bath, hot and cold water, all sanitary plumbing complete, grained in oak, new and never occupied. Within four squares of the Diamond. Terms—$375 down and $18 per month.

$3750 Six room dwelling and store room 20x30 feet. A chance for one who wants a home and to go into the retail grocery business. The location for a grocery store is one of the best in the city, being in a closely built up neighborhood with no stores conveniently located. It is sure to command the trade of its district and neighborhood and it is grocery stores located as this is that make the money. Location overcomes the necessity of meeting ruinous competition and with less expenses and with regular trade the merchant prospers when his contemporary in the city's center does five times the business and makes less. The dwelling is modern, containing bath, hot and cold water, sanitary sewer connections, porticos, gas, electric light wiring, china closets, cabinet mantel, etc. This is an opportunity for some one—will it be you? Terms—$750 down; balance $30 monthly.

$1650 Six rooms, slate roof, front, back and side porticos, grained inside, well arranged, comfortable and convenient. Good cellar, drilled well with force pump. Lot 40x100. Commands a fine view, is easy of access, within one minute's walk of north side street car line. It is located one-half square east of the Calcutta road just beyond Riverview cemetery. Terms—$450 down; balance $10 per month.

Other properties we would note as follows as being on sale with us (particulars furnished upon inquiry). Ten room brick house, lot 33x133, Sixth street, $5,200; new ten room house, lot 40x100, Ogden street, $2,500; six room modern house, Spring street, $2,900; four rooms, water and gas, lot 30x100 Minerva street, $1,850; ten room modern double house near Second street, $3,000; four rooms, new, just completed, McKinnon addition, $1,200; three rooms and small lot, Cadmus street, $700; two rooms and large lot Gardendale, $400; four rooms, lot 30x100, Pennsylvania avenue, East End, $1,450; six rooms, new, Sheridan avenue, $2,750; five rooms, pantry, lot 30x100, Bradshaw avenue, $1,850; six rooms, furnace, gas, lot 20x100, Eighth street, $2,400; four rooms, just new, Oakland addition, $1,200; four rooms, new, Maple street, East End, $1,250; four rooms, Ohio avenue, East End, $1,750; seven rooms and five rooms on Third street, $5,500; seven rooms on Pine street, $2,500.

Restaurant and dwelling of 12 rooms furnished in part. Well suited and located for a boarding or mealing house. See us for terms and price.

We have 25 times as many more properties. Call and see us about any or all of them. We will sell on terms to suit your income. Why pay rent when you can own a home? Don't you know that by paying a dollar on each $100 you owe will wipe out the debt and interest in ten years? For instance, fifteen dollars paid monthly for ten years will pay off a $1,500 debt and interest. It's not how much money one spends but how one spends it that makes one's financial weal or woe.

SOCIAL EVENTS

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

The missionary societies of the First and Second Presbyterian churches enjoyed a profitable and pleasureable meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. E. D. Moore on Pennsylvania avenue. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Alice B. Smith, who is a guest of Mrs. Moore and daughters. Miss Smith was formerly a resident of Lisbon and after graduating at the University of Wooster, became engaged in her chosen profession as a teacher and since then has been a member of the faculty of the normal and collegiate institute at Asheville. She has acquired a broad and thorough education and is a very interesting conversationalist.

The company last evening became deeply interested in the talk which Miss Smith gave on the missionary work which is being accomplished in the industrial schools of the southern mountain districts. It is probable that this meeting will aid largely in enlivening the missionary work, and also that the missionary societies of the Presbyterian churches will support Miss Smith in the work which she is admirably accomplishing.

The Moore residence was decorated in an appropriate manner with nasturtiums and Japanese lanterns. It was unanimously agreed that the evening spent was most enjoyable.

OLD FASHIONED PARTY

The spacious grounds and large old fashioned veranda were hung with Japanese lanterns and festoons of crepe, pink and green being the prevailing colors and the whole presenting a most enhancing effect. Old fashioned games were played, among them being a quadrille on the large veranda, the music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Bane. Both vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Howard Osborn and Misses Marie Bills, Etta Hales, Bess Webber and Kate Stamm, making the evening one of rare enjoyment and ne'er to be forgotten. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the happy throng left on the last car, voting Miss McGlennon a most charming hostess.

CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE

The Chautauqua Circle of this city which last year closed after accomplishing much profitable literary work, will again organize probably the latter part of September or the first of October, the date being yet undecided. It is the purpose of the circle to meet every other Friday evening during the coming winter and study the different English and American authors.

The following literary books will be read by the society: "Literary Leaders of America"; "Provincial Types in American Fiction"; "Evolution of Industrial Society" and "Geographic Influences in American History." The following will be the authors studied during the coming months: October—Irving, Cooper and Poe; November—Hawthorne and Emerson; December—Bryant and Longfellow; January—Holmes and Whittier; February—Lowell and Whitman; March—Lanier and later writers.

New books will be taken up during the months of April, May and June.

In connection with these authors and their works the society will read "the Chautauquan," a magazine for supplementary reading. During the coming year the meetings will be held at the homes of the members. It is probable that a preliminary meeting may be called next week for the purpose of reorganizing.

Auxiliary Meeting.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet next Tuesday, for the first meeting of the new term. At the closing meeting of this organization it was decided to meet for the opening of a new year of work on the first Tuesday in September, and it is probable that further arrangements for "The Breach of Promise" play will be made at this meeting.

W. R. C. Meeting.

A meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. will be held on next Friday afternoon. The regular business of the organization will receive attention.

SAMUEL YEAGER AGAIN PLACED BEHIND BARS

Samuel Yeager, the Irondale man lately charged with a revolting crime, is again in the Jefferson county jail, having been captured in Wellsville. Yeager was indicted with his son for a crime on his daughter and at the trial the son was acquitted. The trial of the old man did not take place and he was released on a bond of $100, signed by Harry O. Phillips. Wednesday Mr. Phillips wrote Prosecutor Alban the following: "Please have Samuel Yeager, who was indicted at the March term of court last, re-arrested, as I understand he is about to leave the state, and as I am security on his bond, I do not wish him to go out of either the county or state so that I may not be able to furnish him to you at the next term of court of common pleas of Jefferson county."

A warrant for the re-arrest of Yeager was given Sheriff Gilson and he traced Yeager to Wellsville, where he arrested him and took him to jail. Yeager, of course, denies that he was going to leave the state, and said he was only working at Wellsville. Yeager is the prisoner who spent hours every day praying and reading the bible. He professes to be a front row Christian as long as he is in jail. He has already started to pray for his release.
